Mathematics.—The extent of the Examination will be as follows:—

(a) Algebra, up to and including the binominal theorem, the theory and use of logarithms;
(b) Euclid, Books I to IV and IV;
(c) Plane Trigonometry up to and including solution of triangles and mensuration.

English Composition.—The standard of positive merit will be looked for in logical, arrangement of thought, and in accuracy and propriety of expression, but large deductions of marks will be made for faults of writing and spelling.

Candidates are also warned that, for similar faults in the use of the English language similar deductions will be made from the marks obtained in the German papers in Class I.

German.—There will be translations of unseen passages from German into English, and from English into German; the passages for translation will be taken, mainly, from standard authors, and a few simple questions may be asked on the passages set, as to the structure and character of the language, and allusions of obvious and general interest. The viva voce Examination will include Dictation.

CLASS II.

Any two Subjects may be maked up.

Higher Mathematics:—

 In all the following subjects great importance will be attached to accuracy in numerical results.

Further questions and problems on the subjects of the Examination in Mathematics, Class I.

And in addition:—

Statics: The equilibrium of forces acting in one plane and of parallel forces, the centre of gravity, the mechanical powers, and friction. (The graphical or geometrical method of treating such problems should be studied as well as the analytical. No application of the differential calculus to Statics will be required.)

Dynamics: Uniform, uniformly accelerated, and uniform circular motion, falling bodies and projectiles in vacuo, collisions and work. (Analytical methods of solution, but not the use of the differential calculus, will be involved.)

Analytical Geometry: Problems on straight line and circle.

Conic Sections: Elementary properties, with easy problems both on the analytical and geometrical methods.

French.—The passages for translation will be taken mainly from standard authors, and in other respects the Examination will proceed on the same lines as in German.

Latin.—Passages selected from the authors usually read in schools will be set for translation into English. Passages from English authors will be given for translation into Latin prose and verse; but Candidates will be allowed, in the place of verse composition, to answer questions of a simple character, which will test whether they possess a fundamental knowledge of the grammar of the language, and such an elementary acquaintance with Roman History as is required for the intelligent study of the books they have read.

Greek.—Passages will be set for translation into English from the authors usually read in schools, and in other respects the Examination will proceed on the same line as in Latin.

English History.—The General Paper in this subject will test whether the candidates are accurately acquainted with the facts of English History, and also possess an intelligent knowledge of the meaning of the facts. The paper on the fixed period will, of course, require from the candidates more minute knowledge than the General Paper.

Botany, Chemistry, Physics, Physical Geography, and Geology.—The standard of Examination in these subjects will be such as may be reasonably expected from the education given at schools possessing appliances for practical instruction, such as a laboratory, &c. A considerable portion of the marks will be allotted for the proficiency shown in the practical part of the Examination.

Chemistry will be limited to elements of inorganic chemistry.

Physics will include elementary properties of electricity, magnetism, heat, light, and sound

Geology, chiefly economic, including the recognition of the more familiar minerals and rocks, and their properties and uses.

CLASS III.

Both subjects may be taken up.

Drawing, Freehand.

Drawing, Geometrical.

GENERAL.

Handwriting.—In estimating the papers of candidates, a limited number of marks, namely 100 out of the maximum allotted to each subject, is assigned for handwriting.

ORDER—Ordered that a copy be forwarded, for information, to the Governments of Madras and Bombay, the Local Governments and Administrations noted in the margin, the Inspector-General of Forests, and the Comptroller and Auditor-General.

Bengal.	Assam.
North-Western Provinces and Oudh.	Coorg.
Punjab.	Ajmere.
Central Provinces.	Andamans.
Burma.	Baluchistan.
	Hyderabad.

Ordered, also, that these papers be published in the Supplement to the Gazette of India.

WEATHER AND CROP REPORT.

For the week ending the 4th November, 1895.

Burdwan.—Rainfall at Burdwan 2·51. Weather cooler. Rain fell generally on the 27th and 28th October. Prospects of winter rice slightly better. Condition of cattle good Fodder sufficient. Common rice sells at an average price of 15½ seers per rupee.

Midnapore.—Rainfall at Sadar 1·01, Contai ·87, Tamluk ·46, and Ghatal 1·14. Weather cooler. The recent rain has ameliorated the prospects of the standing crops and added moisture for the rabi. Water and fodder plentiful. Prices of common rice:—

Sadar	16	Srs per rupee.
Contai	21
Tamluk	16 to 19
Ghatal	14 to 15

24-Parganas.—Rainfall at Sadar ·38. Weather seasonable. Prospects of aman crops fair: those on high lands in the Basirhat subdivision reported to be drying up for want of sufficient rain. Rainfall of the 27th October has done some good to the aman crops in the Barasat subdivision. Sugarcane doing well. Sowing of rabi crops continues. Fodder and water sufficient. No cattle-disease. Rice sells at—

Sadar	12 to 14	Srs. per rupee.
Barasat	15
Diamond Harbour	17

Murshidabad.—Rainfall 1·48. Weather seasonable. The recent rain has done much good to aman rice all over the district and has saved a good deal. It has also enabled sowing of winter crops to go on everywhere. Sugarcane and mulberry doing well. Fodder for cattle sufficient. Common rice sells at 16 seers per rupee.

Khulna.—Rainfall at Khulna ·10, Bagerhat ·05, Satkhira ·23. Weather seasonable. Land is being prepared for rabi crops. Aman doing well. The rain has done good to the aman crop. Fodder and water sufficient. Prices of common rice:—

Sadar	17 to 21	Srs. per rupee.
Bagerhat	18
Satkhira	16

Dinajpur.—Average rainfall ·11. Weather seasonable. Standing crops good. Price of common rice 15 to 16 seers a rupee. No cattle-disease, nor any complaint for fodder or drinking water.

Rangpur.—Average rainfall ·03. Weather seasonable: tolerably cool at night. Prospects of standing aman are good. Washing of jute and cultivation of land for winter crops going on. More rain is wanted. Price of common rice 12 to 14 seers a rupee. Fodder sufficient.

Pabna.—Rainfall nil. Weather hot in day time, but cool at night. Prospects of aman paddy good at Sadar, but indifferent at Sirajganj, where more rain is wanted. Rabi crops are being sown Common rice sells at Sadar 16 seers and Sirajganj 14 seers per rupee. Fodder sufficient.

Dacca.—Rainfall ·77. Weather seasonable. Recent rain has done good to the standing crops. Price of common rice 17 seers per rupee. No cattle-disease.

Chittagong.—Rainfall nil. Early aman is being harvested. Paddy on high lands suffering for want of rain. Water and fodder sufficient. Rice selling at 17 seers per rupee Patna.—Rainfall nil. Prospects of paddy fair. The absence of rain in October is, however, expected to affect the outturn. Rabi sowings in progress; those already sown are germinating. Fodder and water sufficient. Condition of cattle good. Common rice selling at 18½ seers per rupee.

Gaya.—Rainfall nil. Both winter rice and rabi suffering for want of rain. Pressing of sugarcane in progress. Price of common rice at Sadar 14 seers against an average of 16½ seers per rupee. Water and fodder sufficient.

Champaran.—No rain. Rabi being sown. Agham suffering for want of rain. Fodder and water for cattle sufficient Darbhanga.—No rain. Upland paddy withering for want of rain. Rabi sowings in progress, but rain is much wanted. Fodder for cattle sufficient Prices almost stationary.

Bhagalpur.—There has been slight rain (0·13) at Banka ; no rain in other parts of the district. Weather seasonable. Prospects of both paddy and rabi unfavourable Yield of paddy estimated under 12 annas. Sugarcane doing well. Common rice continues to be sold at 17 seers 10 chitaks per rupee. Fodder and water sufficient. Cattle-disease reported from a few scattered villages.

Purnea.—No rain. Rabi sowings going on. Paddy on high lands wants rain throughout the district. No cattle-disease. Common rice sells at 20 seers per rupee.

Cuttack.—Rainfall 2·20. Weather cloudy. Sarad in ears and attaining maturity. Condition of cattle good. Fodder sufficient. Common rice sells at—

		Srs.	c.
Cuttack	...	23	5	per rupee.
Jajpur	...	28	12
Kendrapara	...	31	8
Banki	...	31	8

Hazaribagh.—Rainfall at Giridi 1·80. The last rainfall has not been general, and prospects of rice crops are not as good as expected. Outturn will probably only average 0 annas. Rabi prospects good. Fodder and grazing plentiful. Common rice selling at 12 to 14 seers per rupee.

General Summary.—The rain, which fell generally over Lower Bengal, Orissa, and part of Chota Nagpur towards the end of October, is reported to have done much good to the aman crop and facilitated the sowing of the rabi crops. In Bihar the absence of rain in October has been harmful to the winter rice and has also affected the prospects of the rabi crops. In parts of North and East Bengal too the rice is said to have suffered owing to the early cessation of the rains. The price of common rice continues still steady. Cattle are generally in good condition.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

REVENUE DEPARTMENT,
The 5th November, 1895.

Explanation.—... indicates that no rain has fallen. If the return for any day has not been received, the corresponding space is left blank. If any of the returns are wanting, the corresponding spaces in the total rainfall columns are left blank. With reference to the column of rainy days, the definition of a rainy day is when at least ·10 inch of rain has fallen

CALCUTTA, the 5th November 1895.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL, FOR THE WEEK ENDING, 8 A.M., SATURDAY, THE 2ND OF NOVEMBER 1895.

At the end of the previous week a cyclonic storm of considerable intensity passed across the south-west of the Bay, and died away very soon after it crossed the coast between Nellore and Masulipatan. It caused a current of moist air to flow northwards over the west of the Bay and into Lower Bengal and Chota Nagpur. General rainy weather was the consequence in these parts for the first two days of the present week, falls of more than 2 inches being not unfrequent in South-West Bengal, Orissa and Chota Nagpur. The rainfall was followed by a large fall in day temperatures and also to a smaller extent at night. As the large defect which then developed remained till almost the end of the week, the means for the whole week are much below the normal, the difference for the large divisions varying from 1·6° in Orissa to 4·2° in East Bengal

The continuance of the cloudy rainy weather in the north of the Bay, Orissa and Lower Bengal for quite a number of days after all trace of the disturbance from the south-west of the Bay had disappeared may be accounted for by a shallow depression which passed across the north of the Bay from the Burmah coast and into Bengal. While on the 27th pressure was rising slowly to moderately on the west coast and in Bengal, a slow fall prevailed in Burmah and the east of the Bay. This change extended north-westward on the 28th, and there was a brisk fall over the greater part of Lower Bengal. At that time the pressure distribution was very nearly normal, but there was a faint cyclonic circulation of winds in the central and western districts, and heavy rain fell as far north as Raniganj. Pressure continued to fall on the 29th, slowly everywhere, but rather more quickly in Burmah than in the north of the Bay. Gradients became more regular from north to south and the cloud began to clear away in Lower Bengal. Rainfall was much less general, and with the brisk rise of pressure on the 30th it entirely stopped, except in Orissa, where scattered showers fell almost till the end of the week. During the latter half of the week fine weather prevailed with rising temperature, the change being chiefly in day readings in consequence of the clear skies and brighter sunshine.

Pressure usually fell during the early part of the week and rose during the latter half. As these changes were small and readings never differed much from the normal, the means for the week are practically normal, the difference being only a few thousandths of an inch, except at some of the western stations, where there is defect of ·02 to ·03 inch.

Temperature has been much lower than is usual at the end of October because of the continued cloudy and rainy weather in the early part of the week. The average daily temperature in Chota Nagpur was 68°·6, in North Bengal 72° and in the other districts between 72° and 75°, except in Orissa, where it was over 77°. The greatest defect was in the eastern half of the province, especially in East Bengal, where for the whole week there is a mean defect of more than 4°. In South-West and North Bengal defect is 3°·2, in Bihar 2°·7, Chota Nagpur 2°·3 and Orissa 1°·6.

Rainfall.—The rather heavy rain of the early part of the week was confined to the southern districts. Very little fell in North Bengal and Bihar, which have received on an average ·15 and ·21 inch respectively. East Bengal received less than half an inch, but in South-West Bengal, Chota Nagpur and Orissa the falls were much above the normal of the week. In Orissa the average fall was 2·3 inches as compared with a normal fall of ·95 inch; in Chota Nagpur 1·7 inches, the normal being only ·23 inch; and in South-West Bengal 1·23 inches, which is more than three times the normal.

The following table gives the summary of the temperature and rainfall data of each of the six meteorological divisions of the province for the week ending Saturday, the 2nd of November 1895 :—

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

REVISED ADVERTISEMENT.

A Dictionary of the Economic Products of India.
BY DR. GEO. WATT, C.I.E.,
Reporter on Economic Products.

Published under the authority of the Government of India in the Revenue and Agricultural Department.

The first five volumes and Vol. VI, Parts I, II, III & IV of the Dictionary are now ready at the Office of Superintendent of Government Printing, No. 8, Hastings Street, Calcutta, and will be supplied to non-subscribers on receipt of the price for the complete set, which is Rs. 45 in India, and 3 guineas in England (exclusive of the Index, for which a separate charge will be made): packing and postage, in India, 8 annas per volume; for England, Rs. 2-6 per volume. For copies bound in half calf or half morocco, Rs. 6 and 8 shillings, respectively, will be charged extra for the whole set.

The Dictionary is intended to deal with the products of India—animal, vegetable, and mineral; each product being treated after a uniform plan, the paragraphs of which give the scientific, vernacular, and European names; habitat or source; history; properties and uses (both chemical and industrial); trade statistics; markets, &c. The work is arranged alphabetically according to scientific nomenclature, but commercial and important vernacular names are also given as cross references, so that little difficulty need be experienced in finding the account of a product even when its scientific name is unknown to the reader.

An important feature of the Dictionary consists in the fact that derived information is in every instance given under quotation marks, and with a reference to the original publication. Numerous contributors have, however, furnished the results of new discoveries and confirmed the vernacular names, so that the Dictionary is not only a complete compilation of published information, but has been brought abreast of the most recent inventions and discoveries.

Volume I contains the letters A and B, and consists of 559 royal octavo pages; Vol. II embraces the letter C in 689 pages; Vol. III contains the letters D, E, F and half of G. Vol IV latter half of G to middle of L; and Vol. V contains the latter half of L to end of O; Vol. VI, (which will consist of four parts), Part I, contains letters P to R. The whole work will, it is expected, be completed in nine volumes (including Parts II to IV of Vol. VI) during the current year; but a tenth volume may also be issued, consisting of an Index to all the vernacular and other names contained in the Dictionary. The Index will practically be a Glossary of the vernacular and European names of the plants, animals and minerals of India, and as such will be a work of reference, which, it is hoped, may prove of considerable value.

SCHEDULE.

ACT No. VIII OF 1895.

An Act to facilitate the construction of drainage works for improving the sanitary condition of local areas.

WHEREAS it is expedient to facilitate the construction of drainage works for improving the sanitary condition of local areas within the territories administered by the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, and to lay down a procedure therefor, other than that provided by section 37B of the Bengal Municipal Act, 1884; It is enacted as follows:—

PART I.

CHAPTER I.

Preliminary.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Bengal Sanitary Drainage Act, 1895.

Short title, extent and commencement.

(2) Except as hereinafter otherwise provided, it shall extend to all the territories administered by the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, which are not included within the limits of any Municipality.

(3) And it shall come into force from the date, on which it may be published in the Calcutta Gazette with the assent of the Governor General.

2. In this Act, unless there be something repugnant in the subject or context,—

Definitions.

(a) "cultivating raiyat" shall have the meaning attached to it in the Cess Act, IX (B.C.) of 1880:

(b) "estate" shall have the meaning attached to it in the Cess Act, IX (B.C.) of 1880;

(c) "holder of an estate or tenure" shall have the meaning attached to it in the Cess Act, IX (B.C.) of 1880:

(d) "local area" means the portion of a district or districts within which a rate is to be levied, in order to liquidate the cost of a scheme adopted by a District Board:

(e) "tenure" shall have the meaning attached to it in the Cess Act, IX (B.C.) of 1880:

(f) "the Collector" means, except as hereinafter provided, the officer in charge of the revenue jurisdiction of the district within which the lands, which form the subject of a scheme under this Act, are situated:

(g) "the Commissioners" means the Drainage Commissioners under this Act:

(h) "the Engineer" means the District Engineer or any Engineer especially appointed by the Local Government to perform the functions of an Engineer under this Act:

(i) "tract" means the portion of a district or districts throughout which the Commissioners are authorised to exercise the functions conferred on them under this Act.

CHAPTER II.

Appointment of the Commissioners.

3. (1) Whenever an application is received from a District Board through the Collector and the Commissioner of the Division reporting that they believe that the sanitary condition of any tract within their jurisdiction has been deteriorated by the obstruction of drainage, whether from natural or artificial causes, the Local Government may—

Appointment of "the Commissioners."

(a) issue, if it think fit, an order indicating approximately the area of the tract affected and prescribing the appointment of a number of persons, not less than nine, to be the Drainage Commissioners;

(b) direct the District Board to elect not less than half of such number from among the members of the District or Local Board as the case may be;

(c) appoint the remainder of the Commissioners from among the holders of estates and tenures in the tract affected or from among the managers on behalf of such holders.

(2) The Commissioners so created shall elect one of their number to act as Chairman.

4. (1) When an affected tract referred to in the last preceding section includes lands subject to the jurisdiction of more than one local authority, the Local Government, by an order made on the application of any District Board concerned, may constitute a Joint Committee to be elected by all the local authorities concerned; the number to be elected by each being determined by the Local Government as far as possible in proportion to the interest of such local authority in the tract affected.

Procedure when several local authorities are interested.

(2) The Local Government may further confer on any Committee so constituted, or on such of them as may be specified in the order, all the powers of a District Board under this Act; and such order may contain such provisions respecting the proceedings of any such Committee, as may seem proper, and may provide for the payment by the local authorities represented thereby of the expenses incurred by any such Committee and for the audit of their accounts.

Resignation of "the Commissioners."

5. The Local Government may from time to time accept the resignation of any of the Commissioners, or may add to their number; and in the event of any Commissioner dying, retiring, or ceasing to reside in the district, in which such tract is situated, the vacancy so caused shall thereupon be filled by appointment or by election, as the case may be; the conditions of the original appointment or election being in each case strictly observed:

Provided that not less than half the number of the Commissioners shall always be members of the District or Local Board, as the case may be.

PART II.

CHAPTER I.

Drainage Scheme.

The Commissioners to direct survey, &c., and forward survey and preliminary scheme to the Collector.

6. (1) When the Commissioners have been appointed under section 3 or section 5, they shall, without delay, direct the Engineer to prepare a survey, plans and estimates (hereinafter called "the survey") for the restoration or improvement of the drainage of the tract found by him to be affected, and such survey shall be drawn up in accordance with rules to be framed under section 35(1*a*). On the completion of the survey the Commissioners shall, within a period to be fixed by the District Board which made the application (hereinafter called "the District Board"), forward the same to the Collector of the district within which the tract affected, or the principal part of it, is situated, together with a report (hereinafter called "the preliminary scheme") containing—

(a) a statement descriptive of the proposed undertaking, and showing how the drainage is obstructed, with a map of the tract affected;

(b) an estimate of the total cost of the undertaking, including the cost of any land to be acquired under section 16;

(c) an estimate of the annual cost of maintaining the works:

Provided that, if the tract affected includes any municipal area, the estimate to be framed under clauses (b) and (c) of this section shall show separately the portion of the cost under each clause, which will be incurred in respect of such municipal area:

Provided further that, if one or more Municipalities fall within the tract, a separate estimate shall be framed of the cost of constructing and maintaining such portion of the works as lies within the area of any such Municipality.

(2) The Collector shall thereupon cause to be prepared—

(d) a statement showing the valuation for cess purposes of the lands included in the tract affected, and the total amount of cesses actually payable on the same;

(e) an estimate showing the rate bearing a definite proportion to the Road Cess payable direct to Government, which would provide for the payment with interest in the course of thirty years of the amount under clause (b) and the capitalised value of the amount under clause (c) of this section, excluding the portion to be incurred in respect of the municipal area, if any.

The Collector to publish notification.

7. As soon as possible after the receipt of the survey and preliminary scheme, the Collector shall publish in every village in the tract affected a notification in the language of the district, calling for objections. Such notification shall be in the form in the Schedule hereto annexed, and may be published by posting the same at each post office and police-station within such tract and in some conspicuous part of each village and at the Court of the Munsif within whose jurisdiction such village, or any part thereof, is situated.

The Commissioners to consider the survey, preliminary scheme and objections and report thereon.

8. As soon as practicable after the expiry of the period fixed by such notification, the Collector shall forward to the Commissioners the survey and preliminary scheme, together with the petitions of objection, if any, received by him, and shall call upon them to consider such survey and preliminary scheme together with such objections, and within a specified time to forward such survey and preliminary scheme to the Chairman of the District Board together with their report upon the objections, if any, as well as upon the state of public feeling in regard to such survey and preliminary scheme, and their advice as to their adoption or rejection.

District Board to consider the survey and preliminary scheme.

9. On receipt of such survey and preliminary scheme, the District Board shall within one month's time proceed to take them into consideration at a meeting specially called for the purpose.

Procedure, if survey and preliminary scheme are rejected.

10. If the District Board reject such survey and preliminary scheme, the cost of such survey and the salary, if any, of the Engineer directed to prepare the same shall be paid by the District Board.

Procedure, if survey and preliminary scheme are adopted.

11. If at such meeting, a majority of the members present acting on the advice of the Commissioners, or, with the approval of a majority of not less than two-thirds of such members (such meeting to consist of not less than one-half of the total number of the members of the Board), acting against the advice of the Commissioners, adopt the survey and preliminary scheme, they shall revise the preliminary scheme in the following manner:—

(i) they shall deduct from the aggregate amount estimated under clauses (b) and (c) of section 6 the sums, if any, which have been either anticipated or promised as private subscriptions or contributed by the District Board, or provisionally promised by the Local Government;

(ii) they shall thereupon submit the preliminary scheme so revised, together with the survey and the report prepared by the Commissioners under section 8, to the Collector.

12. The Collector shall thereupon :—

Procedure, to be followed by the Collector.

(a) calculate the amount, which, if expressed as a rate bearing a definite proportion to the Road Cess leviable within the tract affected, would pay off the balance in equal annual instalments within thirty years (such instalments being fixed), so as to provide for the payment of interest on any sums borrowed from Government or the public;

(b) forward such survey and preliminary scheme through the Commissioner of the Division to the Local Government for consideration :

Provided that, if the instalments so fixed shall exceed the amount annually payable as Road Cess within the tract affected, the Collector shall return such preliminary scheme to the District Board for further consideration.

13. The "survey and preliminary scheme" thus adopted or modified shall be hereinafter called the "scheme," and the tract within which the new drainage rate is to be imposed shall be hereinafter called the "local area."

"Scheme" and "local area."

14. The Local Government shall consider the scheme thus adopted or revised, together with the report of the Commissioners, and may approve, modify or reject the same; and if it approve or modify the scheme, it shall thereupon return it, so approved or modified, to the District Board through the Commissioner of the Division, with an intimation of the amount, which the Local Government will contribute towards the scheme:

Powers of Local Government.

Provided that, if the modification adds materially to the cost of the operations, the scheme thus modified shall again be laid before the District Board for their consideration.

15. (1) The District Board may, with the previous consent of the Local Government, at any time reconsider the scheme adopted by them, and add to, alter or modify the same; and if any addition, alteration or modification is thereupon made by them, they shall lay before the Local Government the scheme so added to, altered or modified, and the Local Government may sanction the same or any portion thereof; and thenceforth the provisions of this Act shall apply to the scheme as ultimately sanctioned by the Local Government.

District Board may reconsider scheme, &c., adopted by them.

(2) Every material addition, alteration or modification made by the Local Government or by a District Board to, or in, any scheme after the adoption thereof, shall be published in the manner provided in section 7, and the provisions of sections 8 to 12 (both inclusive) shall apply.

16. Any land, likely to be needed in carrying out any scheme, sanctioned by the Local Government under this Act, may be acquired under the provisions of the Land Acquisition Act, 1894, or any similar Act for the time being in force for the acquisition of land for public purposes:

Land required for drainage works how to be acquired.

Provided that no compensation shall be paid for land recorded as a water-course in the last Revenue Survey map published under section 4 of Act IX of 1847 or any similar enactment for the time being in force, unless it be proved that such land has been under cultivation for a period of not less than twelve years previous to the acquisition.

17. (1) All works under this Act shall be executed by the District Board, unless the Local Government order such works, or any portion of them, to be executed by more than one District Board or by an Engineer appointed in that behalf by itself.

Local Government may order execution of drainage works by an Engineer appointed by it.

(2) Any person duly authorized to execute any works under this Act may himself, or by his agents and workmen, enter into or upon any lands forming part of the local area, and carry out such works thereupon as may be required.

CHAPTER II.

Expenditure and Apportionment.

18. All amounts paid—

What amounts should be included in cost of construction.

(a) as compensation for any lands taken for the purposes of this Act;

(b) as salaries of the engineer, officers, servants or establishments specially employed by the Collector, the Commissioners or the District Board for the purposes of this Act;

(c) for any surveys, plans, estimates, valuations and incidental expenses connected therewith, whether antecedent or subsequent to the adoption of the scheme, together with all amounts expended in carrying out the purposes of this Act, shall be included in, and be deemed to constitute, the cost of construction of works.

19. (1) The Engineer shall, once in every three months, until the works shall be finally completed, submit to the District Board a detailed report showing the progress of the works and the amount expended thereon up to date from the commencement of the work or from the date of the last report; and when the works are completed and the accounts closed, he shall submit to the District Board a final report showing the total cost.

Engineer to report progress and completion of works.

(2) If the local area includes areas subject to the jurisdiction of more than one local authority, the proportion of such cost shall be defrayed by each local authority as far as possible in proportion to their interest in the work executed.

(3) The District Board shall forward a copy of this report to the Local Government through the Commissioner of the Division, with such remarks as to them shall seem fit, and in the event of any local authority objecting to the proposed apportionment, the Local Government shall determine the proportion to be paid by them. The decision of the Local Government thereon shall be final.

Amount to be apportioned how to be determined.

20. The total cost of construction mentioned in section 18 shall be ascertained by adding together—

(a) the actual amount expended;

(b) the interest payable on the loans under the Local Authorities Loans Act, 1879, if any;

(c) the capitalized value of the estimated cost of maintenance.

From this sum shall be deducted the amounts subscribed or contributed as contemplated in sections 11 and 14.

The Collector to determine rate.

21. On receipt of the final report mentioned in section 19, the District Board shall require the Collector, within three months, to determine the amount of rate, which shall be collected with the Road Cess annually payable direct to Government within the local area, and shall be sufficient to provide for the payment of the cost of construction as defined in section 20, in the course of not more than thirty years, excluding the portion to be incurred in respect of the municipal area, if any.

Rate to be published and to be paid with the Road Cess.

22. (1) The rate so determined shall be published as provided in section 40 of the Cess Act, 1880; and shall be paid together with the Road Cess payable by those liable to pay such cess direct to Government within the local area, until such time as the period of not more than thirty years from the date of publication shall have expired, or the cost of construction of the works has been liquidated.

(2) All arrears of such rates shall be recoverable under the law for the time being in force for the recovery of Public Demands.

Share to be recovered by estate or tenure-holder.

23. Any holder of an estate or tenure, who shall pay to the Collector any instalment of such rate payable under the last preceding section shall be entitled to recover half the amount of the instalment so paid from the holder of a tenure or cultivating raiyat holding lands within the local area under such holder of an estate or tenure in the same proportion and in the same manner as he is entitled to recover road cess or public works cess, payable under the provisions of the Cess Act, 1880.

Amount to be recovered by tenure-holder from raiyat.

24. Any holder of a tenure, who shall pay to the holder of an estate or tenure the sum due to such holder under the last preceding section, shall be entitled to recover half the sum so paid from the cultivating raiyats holding lands within the local area under such holder of a tenure, in the same proportion and in the same manner, as he is entitled to recover road cess or public works cess, payable under the provisions of the Cess Act, 1880.

Recovery of municipal portion of cost.

25. (1) When the local area includes a municipal area, the amount payable under section 19 shall be defrayed by the Municipality.

(2) In order to provide for the payment with interest of such municipal share at the rate payable to Government by the District Board within a period of not less than thirty years, the amount required may be raised by an additional rate to be added to the tax upon persons or to the rate on the annual value of holdings as the case may be.

PART III.

CHAPTER I.

Miscellaneous.

Drainage works subject to laws relating to public embankments.

26. All outlets and water-channels, natural or artificial, which shall be cleared, altered, enlarged, excavated or cut under the provisions of this Act, and the construction and maintenance of embankments and dams and works therein or connected therewith, shall be subject to the law for the time being in force regulating the construction and maintenance of public embankments, rivers, channels and outlets.

Penalty for constructing weirs, &c., obstructing public drainage.

27. (1) Any person who, without lawful authority, erects, or causes to be erected, any weir or other obstruction in any outlet or water-channel, or cultivates the bed of a water-channel, so as to obstruct natural drainage, shall, upon conviction before a Magistrate, be liable to a penalty not exceeding two hundred rupees for every such offence.

(2) It shall be in the discretion of such Magistrate to direct any such offender to remove and pay for the entire cost of the removal of any such obstruction.

Lands taken and works constructed under Act to be under District Board.

28. All lands which are taken under the provisions of this Act for the purpose of the construction of works therein or thereon, and all works constructed under the provisions of this Act, as well as all outlets, water-channels, embankments and dams so constructed, cleared, altered, enlarged, excavated or cut, shall be under the control and administration of the District Board.

Powers of the Commissioners, &c., in taking evidence.

29. The Commissioners, the Collector, and the Commissioner of the Division shall have all such powers as are conferred on Civil Courts by the Code of Civil Procedure for the purpose of compelling the attendance of witnesses and the production of evidence, and for the purpose of examining witnesses in any enquiry or appeal, which they may be empowered to make or entertain under the provisions of this Act.

Proceedings not to be invalidated by irregularities.

30. No proceeding under this Act shall be defeated or invalidated by reason of any defect or omission in the publication or service of any notification, notice or order, unless material injury is done to any person by such defect or omission.

Local Government may empower any person to act for the Collector.

31. The Local Government may specially empower any person to do all such acts, to discharge all such functions, and to exercise all such powers as may be done, discharged or exercised by a Collector under this Act; and on any person being so specially empowered, such person may do all such acts, discharge all such functions, and exercise all such powers, and such person shall be deemed to be the Collector for the purposes of the scheme, in respect of which he is so specially empowered.

The Collector may delegate his authority to another.

32. (1) The Collector may, with the sanction of the Commissioner of the Division, delegate to any Deputy or Assistant Collector, the performance of any acts or the discharge of any functions which the said Collector may perform or discharge under this Act.

(2) Upon such delegation, such Deputy Collector or other officer may do such acts, discharge such functions, and exercise such powers for the performance of the same, as the Collector may exercise under this Act:

Provided that all acts done, functions discharged, and powers exercised by such officer, shall be done, discharged, or exercised subject to the control and supervision of the Collector.

Proceedings of the Commissioners and the Collector subject to control of Commissioner of Division.

33. Notwithstanding anything hereinbefore contained, all the proceedings of the Commissioners and of the Collector under this Act shall be subject to the general control and supervision of the Commissioner of the Division, or, when the tract or local area affected comprises lands situated in more than one Division, of such Commissioner as the Local Government may direct.

Local Government may direct cessation of work and revision of the scheme.

34. If at any time the Local Government is satisfied that the cost of any scheme of works, including the cost of maintenance, has been erroneously estimated, it may direct that the scheme be no further proceeded with, until the same has been revised.

CHAPTER II.

Rules.

Power of Local Government to make rules and to cancel them.

35. (1) It shall be lawful for the Local Government, from time to time, to make, and, when made, to alter or repeal rules not inconsistent with this Act for the purpose of—

(a) prescribing the forms of accounts, surveys, plans, estimates, periodical statements and reports;

(b) regulating the conduct of business at the meetings of the Commissioners;

(c) regulating the instalments by which and the mode in which sums payable under this Act shall be paid;

(d) regulating the carrying out and maintenance of works, when one or more local authorities are concerned;

(e) ascertaining the capitalized value of the estimated cost of maintenance of drainage works;

(f) providing for professional supervision over the preparation of surveys, plans and estimates, and the execution and maintenance of drainage works;

(g) allotting the duties of the Collector under this Act among Collectors of different districts as may be convenient; and

(h) generally carrying out the purposes of this Act.

(2) The Local Government shall, before making, altering or repealing rules under this section, publish a draft of the proposed rules and alterations and a notification of the proposed repeals in three consecutive numbers of the Calcutta Gazette, and shall specify a date not less than one month from the date of publication, at or after which such draft and notification will be taken into consideration.

(3) The Local Government shall receive and consider any objection or suggestion which may be made by any person with respect to such draft and notification before the date so specified.

(4) Every rule so made or altered, and every repeal of any such rule under this section shall be thereafter published in the Calcutta Gazette.

SCHEDULE.

(See section 7.)

MAKASSAR STRAIT—BALABALAGAN OR LITTLE PATERNOSTER ISLANDS.

(1) Amended positions of Lumo Lumo and Larian islands.

WITH reference to Notice to Mariners, No. 120, dated 8th July last, issued by this office, the British Admiralty has given further notice (No. 550 of 1895) that the following amended positions are the results of recent examinations by the Netherlands Surveying vessel Banda, namely:—

Lumo Lumo island, lat. 2° 56′ S., long 117° 33½′ E.

Larian island, lat. 3° 4′ S., long. 117° 42½′ E. This is a small sandbank about 10 feet above low water, and probably covers at high water during the north-west monsoon. It is about 50 yards in extent, and forms the highest part of a reef of sand and coral, about 2 miles long and 1½ miles broad with depths of 15 to 3 fathoms and less.

(2) Recently discovered shoals.

Also, with reference to Notice to Mariners, No. 241 of 1895:—

That the undermentioned shoals, lying south-eastward of Balabalagan or Little Paternoster islands, have recently been found and examined—

(a) A patch of sand and coral with a least depth of 7 fathoms over it, about $1\frac{5}{10}$ miles long, N.N.W. and S.S.E., and about three-quarters of a mile broad, lies 8 miles N.E. by E. ½ E. from Larian island, or approximately in lat. 3° 0′ 55″ S., long. 117° 49′ 50″ E.

(b) A patch of sand and coral with a least depth of 6 fathoms over it, about half a mile long E.S.E. and W.N.W. and 1½ cables wide, steep-to around, lies approximately in lat. 2° 54′ 55″ S., long. 117° 48′ 40″ E.

(c) A coral patch of 7 fathoms, 4 cables long, S. by E. and N. by W., three-quarters of a cable wide, on a bank of 10 fathoms, 6½ cables in length in the same direction, and 2¾ cables wide, lies approximately in lat. 2° 51′ 40″ S., long. 118° 14′ 50″ E.

(d) A coral patch with a least depth of 9 fathoms, about half a cable long., S.S.E. and N.N.W., and three-quarters of a cable wide, lies approximately in lat. 2° 53′ 25″ S., long. 118° 15′ 30″ E.

(e) A coral patch with a least depth of 8 fathoms, about 5½ cables long, S.E. by E. and N.W. by W., 2 cables wide, lies approximately in lat. 3° 1′ 35″ S., long. 118° 20′ 10″ E.

AUSTRALIA, SOUTH—ST. VINCENT'S GULF.

Port Adelaide river—Removal of No. 6 beacon.

THE President, Marine Board, Port Adelaide, has given notice (No. 6 of 1895) that, in furtherance of the scheme for lighting the river by electricity, alterations will be at once commenced by removing No. 6 beacon to a position on the edge of the deep water cutting 400 feet (approximately) in a northerly direction from where it now stands.

While the structure is being taken down, a temporary light will be exhibited from a barge moored alongside, and such barge and light will remain in the same position until the new beacon is erected and the usual light shown therefrom.

As the erection of the beacon in the new position is proceeding, a temporary light will also be shown from the piles until the work is completed.

FINANCIAL RESOLUTION.

FINANCIAL DEPARTMENT—FINANCE.

Darjeeling, the 5th November 1895.

RESOLUTION—No. 5583F.

THE Lieutenant-Governor is now in a position to review the actual financial results of the year 1893-94, the revised estimates for the year 1894-95, and the budget estimates for 1895-96. The Accountant-General's memorandum on the accounts of the first year has been received, and although the accounts for 1894-95 have not yet been finally closed, the Appropriation Report affords sufficient materials for framing an approximate estimate of the financial position of the province at the close of that year. The figures of the revenue and expenditure of the first five months of the current year have been received from the Accountant-General, and these are sufficient to form the basis for a review of the budget estimates for 1895-96.

PART I.

ACCOUNTS OF 1893-94.

2. The approximate actuals adopted in the Financial Resolution No. 6433F., dated the 8th December 1894, are compared in the following table with the final actuals now reported by the Accountant-General in his memorandum on the accounts of 1893-94:—

3. The approximate actuals adopted in December 1894 assumed that the year 1893-94 had opened with a credit balance of Rs. 22,55,172, and had closed with a balance of Rs. 26,18,569; that the total amount available for expenditure was Rs. 4,55,33,415, and that Rs. 4,29,14,846 had been spent. The actual result was more favourable than this by Rs. 5,469. The amount actually available for expenditure was Rs. 4,55,33,497, and the amount actually expended Rs. 4,29,09,459, leaving a closing balance of Rs. 26,24,038.

4. There was an increase of Rs. 82 only on the Receipt side, and a decrease of Rs. 5,387 on the Expenditure side. The fluctuations in expenditure were chiefly under General Administration (+ Rs. 1,154), Police (— Rs. 4,999), Marine (+ Rs. 1,886), Miscellaneous (— Rs. 1,433), and Contributions (— Rs. 1,536).

5. The transactions under the head of Provincial loans and advances, not included in the cash account, were as follows:—

Grand Total ...	32,82,331	5,09,720	11,08,010	38,80,621

The increase of nearly six lakhs in the balance outstanding is due in almost equal proportions to the prosecution of agricultural drainage schemes and the construction and repair of embankments in the deltaic districts, and to the policy of encouraging mufassal municipalities to borrow money for the provision of filtered water and of improved drainage arrangements.

Receipts.

7. Land Revenue.—The revised estimate of total land revenue receipts for 1894-95 was placed at Rs. 3,87,00,000, which included Rs. 50,000 for recoveries from landholders on account of survey charges which are wholly Imperial. The actual collections, however, which included only Rs. 512 on account of such charges, amounted to Rs. 3,89,10,164. The 12 per cent. on collections from Government estates aggregated Rs. 4,84,156, against Rs. 4,75,000 adopted in the revised estimate of March last. The Provincial share of land revenue was therefore one-fourth of (Rs. 3,89,10,164—512—4,84,156) + 4,84,156 or 96,06,374 + 4,84,156 = 1,00,90,530. This amount has now been adopted as the final estimate of the Provincial share of land revenue (proper) for 1894-95. The adjustments between the Imperial and Provincial will probably result in a net deduction of Rs. 15,35,873, as shown below:—

(k) Assignment for the Gnatong guard ...	+2,000	+7,825
Total ...	(—)14,60,000	(—)15,35,873

8. (e) The Government of India, while passing orders on the budgets for 1895-96, allowed a credit of Rs. 14,000 in the revised estimates for 1894-95 on account of the maintenance of certain Imperial Military and Civil Works permanently transferred to local agencies, and also for the petty construction and repairs of certain other Imperial buildings entrusted to their charge during the year. The actual expenditure incurred by local bodies in 1894-95, including percentage charges for establishment, &c., as reported by the Public Works Department, amounted to Rs. 19,998, for which credit has been taken provisionally and subject to the final sanction of the Government of India.

(f) The Government of India, in Military Department letter No. 5873D., dated the 15th December 1893, sanctioned the payment of Rs. 17,971 a year as compensation for the loss entailed on Provincial revenues by the reservation of the Western Duars of Jalpaiguri for the Khedda Department. As the Duars were reserved from the 29th July 1893, and a profit of Rs. 7,165 had already been obtained by the Civil Department by the sale of elephants captured in the first four months of 1893-94, a credit for (Rs. 17,971—7,165) = Rs. 10,806 only was paid by the Khedda Department in that year. The full compensation of Rs. 17,971 will, however, be claimed for 1894-95.

(g) The Government of India promised to meet the salary of Mr. Davies as long as he was employed as a probationer in the Royal Botanic Gardens, but on the 21st November 1894 he was appointed to act for Mr. Lane, the Assistant Curator of the Gardens, who was deputed to Allahabad for 18 months. A credit for Rs. 1,534, being his pay for eight months and 20 days at Rs. 150 per mensem, and for Rs. 234 for exchange compensation allowance, has been taken in the revised estimates for 1894-95.

(h) Since the introduction of the new Tariff Acts a large additional establishment has been entertained in the Calcutta Custom House, and the Government of India, in the Finance and Commerce Department Resolution No. 1521Ex., dated 2nd April 1895, decided that the actual expenditure incurred on this account would be met from an assignment from Imperial to Provincial revenues, and adjusted through the Land Revenue head. The charges amounted to Rs. 68,060, and credit for this amount has accordingly been taken in the revised estimates for 1894-95.

(k) The Government of India, in the Finance and Commerce Department letter No. 3879A., dated the 13th August 1895, sanctioned an assignment from Imperial to Provincial revenues of Rs. 7,825 on account of charges incurred by the Local Government in 1894-95 in connection with the maintenance of the Military Police at Gnatong, and this amount has accordingly been included under Adjustments.

9. Salt.—The original estimate under this head was Rs. 80,000, but in view of the high receipts from rent of warehouses due to the very large stock of bonded salt in the golahs, the revised estimate was raised to Rs. 1,20,000. The actual realizations amounted to Rs. 1,41,291.

10. Excise.—The receipts under this head amounted to Rs. 1,25,62,350 against Rs. 1,25,50,000, the revised estimate passed by the Government of India. One-fourth of this sum, or Rs. 31,40,587, has been taken as the share of the Local Government.

11. Provincial Rates.—The budget estimate of total revenue from Provincial Rates for 1894-95 was originally passed for Rs. 46,60,000, but in the revised estimate this was reduced to Rs. 43,00,000. The decrease was chiefly nominal, and was due to the fact that owing to a change in the mode of adjusting the cost, no credit was taken in the Provincial accounts for "Recoveries of the proportionate cost of establishment for collecting road cess." The cost was debited, from 1st April 1894, direct to the District Funds in the Local Funds Budget, instead of being passed through both sides of the Provincial accounts. The actual receipts amounted to Rs. 43,09,150, as shown below:—

	Budget estimate.	Revised estimate.	Actuals.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Public works cess	42,00,000	41,60,000	41,78,695
Proportionate cost of collecting road cess	3,20,000	.....	3,268
General rates for the management of private estates	1,40,000	1,40,000	1,27,187
Total	46,60,000	43,00,000	43,09,150

12. Customs.—The Provincial receipts under this head amounted to Rs. 73,380 against Rs. 65,000, the revised estimate passed by the Government of India, and Rs. 55,000, the budget estimate for the year. The landing charges for passengers' baggage, confiscations and penalties showed an increase owing to the imposition of import duties. A large number of articles were brought into the Custom House, and subjected to confiscation and penalties. There was also an increase in transhipment fees owing to the same cause.

13. Assessed Taxes.—The revised estimate under this head was placed at Rs. 45,00,000, but the actuals have amounted to Rs. 45,63,242. One half of this sum, or Rs. 22,81,621, has accordingly been taken as the Provincial share of the receipts.

14. Interest.—The actuals amounted to Rs 1,99,471 against the revised estimate of Rs. 1,86,000, and their details are these:—

	Revised estimate.	Actuals.
	Rs.	Rs.
Class I.—Interest on advances to cultivators ...	26,000	26,400

Miscellaneous	41,000	40,339
Total ...	1,86,000	1,99,471

15. Jails.—The original estimate under this head for 1894-95 was passed by the Government of India for Rs. 9,55,000, with reference to the actuals of 1891-92 and 1892-93 amounting to Rs. 9,27,642 and Rs. 9,13,136, respectively. The receipts in the first nine months of 1894-95 showed a great falling off, and the revised estimate was placed at Rs. 7,80,000. The actual receipts amounted, however, to Rs. 8,52,001.

16. Marine.—The receipts under this head amounted to Rs. 9,32,653 against Rs. 9,45,000, the revised estimate passed by the Government of India. The decrease was chiefly under pilotage receipts.

17. Scientific and other Minor Departments.—The receipts from Cinchona Plantations amounted to Rs. 1,41,785 against Rs. 1,23,000, the revised estimate for the year, and owing to this increase the total receipts under Minor Departments amounted to Rs. 2,04,045 against Rs. 1,85,000, the revised estimate passed by the Government of India.

18. Stationery and Printing.—The receipts under this head amounted to Rs. 1,30,510 against Rs. 1,22,000, the revised estimate passed by the Government of India.

19. Miscellaneous.—The total receipts under this head amounted to Rs. 10,12,073 against Rs. 9,35,000, the revised estimate passed by the Government of India. The increase was wholly under "Unclaimed deposits," the approximate actuals of which amounted to Rs. 4,38,456, against Rs. 3,60,000 provided for in the revised estimate.

20. Railways.—The following statement compares the budget and revised estimates as passed by the Government of India with the actuals of the year:—

	Budget estimate.	Revised estimate.	Actuals.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Gross receipts	1,22,00,000	1,43,00,000	1,43,86,293
Working expenses	55,00,000	57,00,000	57,21,845
Net receipts	67,00,000	86,00,000	86,64,448
Provincial share	33,50,000	43,00,000	43,32,224

21. Irrigation Major Works.—The total receipts amounted to Rs. 15,24,040 against Rs. 14,60,000, the revised estimate, and Rs. 15,00,000, the budget estimate, for the year, as shown below:—

	Budget estimate.	Revised estimate.	Actuals.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Orissa Project	3,40,000	3,19,000	3,33,072
Midnapore Canal	2,70,000	2,52,000	2,94,682
Tidal Canal	55,000	65,000	58,525
Sone Project	8,35,000	8,24,000	8,37,761
Total ...	15,00,000	14,60,000	15,24,040

The actuals were Rs. 64,040 in excess of the revised estimate, owing to the recovery of outstanding balances and better toll receipts from the Midnapore Canal.

22. Minor Works by Civil Department.—The recoveries on account of zamindari embankments under the contract system amounted to Rs. 80,638, against Rs. 1,03,000 provided for in the revised estimate of the year, and the total collections under this head aggregated to Rs. 1,81,347 against Rs. 2,03,000, the revised estimate passed by the Government of India. The falling off was due to the non-realization of the full demand of the year in three districts.

23. Buildings and Roads—Civil Works by Public Works Department.—The total receipts amounted to Rs. 2,35,308, against Rs. 2,45,000 entered in the revised estimate. The difference was due to the fact that the distillery building at Manicktolla, from the sale of which Rs. 40,000 were expected to be realized, could not be sold during the year, while, on the other hand, a sum of Rs. 34,817 was credited in the accounts as the profits from the Calcutta Workshops.

24. Summary of Receipts.—The total Provincial receipts of the year, exclusive of the opening balance, amounted to Rs. 4,46,19,722, against Rs. 4,42,97,000 passed by the Government of India as the revised estimate, showing an increase of Rs. 3,22,722. Of this increase, Rs. 71,530 was under Land Revenue, Rs. 72,001 under Jails, Rs. 77,073 under Miscellaneous, and Rs. 64,040 under Irrigation Major Works.

EXPENDITURE.

25. Refunds and Drawbacks.—The total Provincial expenditure under this head amounted to Rs 1,04,780 against Rs. 1,51,000, the revised estimate passed by the Government of India. The increase was chiefly under "Stamps."

26. Salt.—The original estimate under this head, amounting to Rs. 33,000, was raised to Rs. 40,000 in the revised estimate, owing to the hiring of two sheds at the Kidderpore Docks for the storage of the unusually large importation of salt and for the temporary establishment entertained in connection therewith, and also for the erection of a kutcha shed and mat walls in the Sulkea Golah in order to increase the space for the storage of salt. The actual charges, however, amounted to Rs. 52,220 owing to the adjustment under this head of Rs. 11,106, being the cost of the deputation of Mr. F. Ashton, Assistant Commissioner, Northern India Salt Revenue Department, to enquire into the extent of illicit manufacture of salt on the sea-coast of Bengal.

27. Stamps.—The total charges of the Stamp Department amounted to Rs. 6,51,197 against Rs. 6,73,000, the revised estimate for the year. The Provincial share of the total charges was Rs. 4,88,398.

28. Customs.—The latest actuals reported by the Accountant-General amounted to Rs. 6,46,749 against Rs. 7,75,000, the revised estimate. The total charges for the additional establishment entertained in the Calcutta Custom House, consequent on the introduction of the new Tariff Act, amounted to Rs. 68,060, and a credit for this amount has been taken under Land Revenue as an assignment from the Imperial revenues to meet the additional charge.

29. Law and Justice—Courts of Law.—The total charges amounted to Rs. 89,09,460 against Rs. 88,95,000, the revised estimate. The increase was chiefly due to the payments on account of exchange compensation allowance, which amounted to Rs. 3,02,000, against Rs. 2,86,000 provided for in the revised estimate.

30. Jails.—There was exceptionally small outlay on purchase of raw materials, and the total charges amounted to Rs. 20,07,529 against Rs. 20,50,000, the revised estimate for the year.

31. Police.—The total charges amounted to Rs. 59,04,831 against Rs. 59,12,000, the revised estimate for the year. The details are:—

	Revised estimate	Approximate actuals.
	Rs.	Rs.
Presidency Police	7,50,000	7,39,735
Superintendence	1,70,000	1,74,138
District Executive Force	42,75,000	43,10,879
Municipal Police (Howrah Police) ...	37,000	35,840
Village „	30,000	28,773
Special „	5,35,000	4,94,085
Railway „	1,06,000	1,15,871
Cattle-pounds	6,000	5,038
Refunds	3,000	472
Total ...	59,12,000	59,04,831

The saving under "Special Police" was in the charges for rations for the Lushai Civil Police.

32. Marine.—The total expenditure under this head amounted to Rs. 8,93,080 against Rs. 8,81,000, the revised estimate accepted by the Government of India. The increase was partly under "Pilotage and pilot establishment," and partly under "Miscellaneous."

33. Education.—There has been an increase of expenditure under "Government Colleges, Professional," owing to increased charges for materials and tools, and the total charges amounted to Rs. 26,37,605 against Rs. 26,10,000, the revised estimate for the year.

34. Medical.—The expenditure under "Hospitals and Dispensaries" amounted to Rs. 4,40,816, against Rs. 4,27,000 provided for in the revised estimate, and the total charges of the Department amounted to Rs. 18,13,084 against Rs. 17,90,000, the revised estimate for the year. The increase occurred chiefly in the expenditure on the Campbell Hospital.

35. Stationery and Printing.—The cost of stationery supplied from Central Stores in 1894-95 amounted to Rs. 4,99,861, against Rs. 7,70,000 provided in the budget, and the total expenditure to Rs. 11,20,623 against Rs. 14,14,000, the revised estimate passed by the Government of India. The reduction in expenditure under Stationery was due to the steps taken by Government to prevent the introduction of new forms, unless when absolutely required, and to the substitution of country-made for imported articles.

36. Miscellaneous.—There was less expenditure under "Donations for charitable purposes" and "Rents, Rates and Taxes" than that provided for in the revised estimate, and the total charges amounted to Rs. 2,29,066 against Rs. 2,45,000, the revised estimate passed by the Government of India.

37. Irrigation Major Works.—The working expenses aggregated Rs. 13,72,972, against Rs. 14,67,000 provided in the revised estimate. The short outlay was due to over-estimation of the charges.

38. Irrigation Minor Works.—The actual outlay amounted to Rs. 14,57,828, or Rs. 92,172 less than the revised estimate. There were savings on all classes of works with the exception of those for which only revenue accounts are kept. The savings were principally under (1) charges for establishment, (2) in agricultural works, and (3) in the reduction of suspense balances.

39. Buildings and Roads—Civil Works by Public Works Department.—The expenditure during the year amounted to Rs. 24,90,918 against Rs. 24,44,000, the revised estimate passed by the Government of India. The revised estimate has thus been exceeded by Rs. 46,918, due principally to the increase in the suspense balances of the Calcutta Workshops.

40. Summary of Expenditure.—The total expenditure amounted to Rs. 4,29,20,640, against a revised estimate of Rs. 4,35,48,000, the reduction being Rs. 6,27,360. The expenditure was less than the receipts of the year by 17 lakhs.

41. Closing balance.—According to the approximate actuals now received, the closing balance stood at Rs. 43,23,120, against Rs. 33,73,000 anticipated by the Government of India when passing the estimate for the current year. The province is better than the revised estimate by about nine and-a-half lakhs. This unusually large difference between the revised estimate and the approximate actuals of the year is due on the Receipt side to an underestimate of the collections from Land Revenue, to an unexpected increase in the sale-proceeds of Jail manufactures, to a windfall in the form of a rise of unclaimed deposits under Miscellaneous, and to the realization of arrear balances and increased toll receipts under Irrigation Major Works. Under Expenditure, improved administration of the Stationery Department resulted in a reduction of nearly three lakhs; a lakh and-a quarter estimated for increased Customs establishment was not sanctioned within the year; the jails made smaller purchases of raw material, and the balance occurred under the head of Irrigation.

PART III

BUDGET ESTIMATE, 1895-96.

42. THE Lieutenant-Governor has already in separate Resolutions reviewed the estimates of receipts and charges for the current year. Later information, however, has led to a modification of these in some respects. The following table shows the estimates as passed by the Government of India and the estimates which the Lieutenant-Governor has finally resolved to adopt:—

Receipts.

43. Land Revenue.—The total collections in 1894-95 amounted to Rs. 3,89,10,164, and the estimate for 1895-96 has been passed by the Government of India for Rs. 3,88,50,000, which includes Rs. 1,50,000 for recoveries on account of survey charges. The average receipts during the past five years have been Rs. 3,87,24,000. The collections during the first five months of the current year amounted to Rs. 69,49,000, against Rs. 72,97,000 obtained in the corresponding period of last year, showing a decrease of Rs. 3,48,000. Looking to the prospects of the season, it is very doubtful whether the total receipts will come up to the amount collected last year, but at present there is no reason to anticipate that the estimate passed by the Government of India for the current year will not be reached, and it will accordingly be retained. The Provincial share will then stand at Rs. 1,00,33,000. The adjustments between Imperial and Provincial will probably result in a net transfer of Rs. 10,38,000 to Imperial, as shown below :—

(b) The Government of India, while passing orders on the budget estimates for 1895-96, allowed a credit of Rs. 10,385, or Rs. 10,000 in round numbers, on account of the transfer of certain Imperial Civil and Military works which have been permanently transferred to the management of local agencies. Since then the construction, maintenance and repairs of several other Imperial buildings have been entrusted to local bodies with an aggregate grant of Rs. 8,653. The total grant on this account therefore now stands at Rs. 19,038, or Rs. 19,000 in round numbers. (c) The Government of India, in the Foreign Department letter No. 1332E., dated the 8th July 1895, have already sanctioned an assignment of Rs. 15,650 to meet charges connected with the maintenance of the Military Police force required to garrison Gnatong in 1895-96. The credit for Rs. 16,000 in round numbers has been retained. (d) The Government of India, in the Military Department letter No. 3577D., dated the 24th July 1895, have sanctioned the retransfer of the Western Duars to the Civil Department from the 1st April 1895, so that the Khedda Department will be relieved of the annual compensation of Rs. 17,971, and this item will no longer appear in the Provincial accounts (e) As explained in paragraph 60 below, a saving of Rs. 35,000 is anticipated under Customs, while an increase of Rs. 2,718 has been estimated under Customs Audit Department of the Board's office. The net saving may therefore be Rs. 32,000. A reduction of this amount will be made in the estimated assignment for Customs establishment. (h) The Lieutenant-Governor has promised a grant of half the cost of a clock to be set up on the General Post Office in Calcutta not exceeding Rs. 5,000, and a debit of this amount has accordingly been made against the Provincial share of Land Revenue.

44. Salt.—The provincial receipts under this head amounted to Rs. 84,536 in 1892-93 and Rs. 77,373 in 1893-94. The actuals in 1894-95 were Rs. 1,41,291, and were swollen by an unusually large importation of salt in the latter part of the year. The actual collections in the first five months of the current year amounted to Rs. 73,326, against Rs. 44,367 in the corresponding period of 1894-95 and Rs. 31,510 in 1893-94. The estimate for 1895-96 is Rs. 95,000; but in view of the actual realizations in the current year, the estimate will be raised to Rs. 1,20,000.

45. Stamps.—The total revenue for stamps has been estimated at Rs. 1,67,00,000. The Comptroller-General's latest statement shows that the receipts during the first five months of the current year amounted to Rs. 77,08,000, against Rs. 74,22,000 obtained in the corresponding period of last year, showing an increase of Rs. 2,86,000. The actual receipts in 1894-95 amounted to Rs. 1,67,01,147, and the Lieutenant-Governor thinks that the estimate of 1895-96 may be safely raised to Rs. 1,70,00,000. The Provincial share will be Rs. 1,27,50,000.

46. Excise.—The estimate of total revenue under this head has been estimated at Rs. 1,27,00,000, being Rs. 1,38,000 more than the approximate actuals of 1894-95, which amounted to Rs. 1,25,62,000. The Comptroller-General's latest statement shows that the receipts during the first five months of 1895-96 have exceeded those of the corresponding period of last year by Rs. 4,31,000, and the results of the recent settlement of excise shops for the current year show an increase of Rs. 3,95,403 in license fees as compared with those of last year. In view of these figures, the estimate may be safely placed at Rs. 1,29,00,000. The Provincial share will stand at Rs. 32,25,000.

47. Provincial Rates.—The following statement compares the receipts under this head for three years:—

	Actuals, 1892-93.	Actuals, 1893-94.	Approximate actuals, 1894-95.	Budget estimate, 1895-96.	Revised estimate now adopted.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.

Total ...	46,16,267	46,13,061	43,09,150	42,81,000	43,00,000

The collections of the Public works cess in the first five months of the current year show a small decrease of nearly Rs. 9,000, but, looking to the actuals of 1894-95, there is no reason to anticipate that the collections at the end of the year will fall far short of last year. The total estimate under this head will be placed at Rs. 43,00,000.

48. Customs.—The Provincial receipts during the first five months of the current year amounted to Rs. 34,413, against Rs. 24,461 in the corresponding period of last year, showing an increase of Rs. 9,952 The total receipts in 1894-95 were Rs. 73,380, and the estimate for 1895-96 will be raised from Rs. 61,000 to Rs. 75,000.

49. Assessed Taxes.—Both the estimate for 1895-96 and the revised estimate for 1894-95 were passed by the Government of India for Rs. 45,00,000. The actual collections in last year amounted, however, to Rs. 45,63,242, and the arrear balance was reduced from Rs. 2,66,987 to Rs. 1,62,002. The collections during the first five months of the current year show an increase of Rs. 50,000, as compared with those of the corresponding period of last year. The estimate passed by the Government of India will be retained for the present.

50. Law and Justice—Courts of Law.—The total receipts under this head in the first five months of the current year show a decrease of Rs. 9,000 as compared with those of the corresponding period of last year. The approximate actuals in 1894-95 amounted Rs. 8,72,830, and the estimate for the current year will be reduced from Rs. 8,90,000 to Rs. 8,60,000.

51. Police.—The receipts during the first five months of the current year show a decrease of nearly Rs. 8,000 as compared with those of the corresponding period of last year. The latest actuals of 1894-95 were Rs. 2,36,645, and the estimate for 1895-96 will be reduced from Rs. 2,43,000 to Rs. 2,28,000.

52. Medical.—The total receipts amounted to Rs. 1,90,572 in 1893-94 and Rs. 2,05,158 in 1894-95. The receipts in the first five months of the current year show an increase of Rs. 5,000 over those of the corresponding period of last year. The estimate will be raised from Rs. 2,00,000 to Rs. 2,08,000.

53. Scientific and other Minor Departments.—The receipts under this head in 1894-95 amounted Rs. 2,04,045, and in the first five months of the current year show an increase of about Rs. 16,000 over those of the corresponding period of last year. The estimate will be raised from Rs. 1,99,000 to Rs. 2,10,000.

54. Superannuations.—The approximate actuals under this head for 1894-95 were Rs. 75,039, and the receipts in the first five months of the current year show a small increase of about Rs. 2,000 over those obtained in the same period of last year. The estimate will be raised from Rs. 68,000 to Rs. 76,000.

55. Railways.—The following statement compares the estimates for 1895-96 with the actuals of the past two years:—

	Actuals, 1893-94.	Actuals, 1894-95.	Estimate, 1895-96.	Estimate, now adopted.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Gross receipts ...	1,24,94,814	1,43,86,293	1,30,00,000	1,36,00,000
Working expenses ...	54,25,131	57,21,845	57,00,000	56,50,000
Net receipts ...	70,69,683	86,64,448	73,00,000	79,50,000
Provincial share	35,34,841	43,32,224	36,50,000	39,75,000

The approximate gross earnings of the Eastern Bengal State Railway system from the 1st April to 28th September 1895 amounted to Rs. 62,37,799, against Rs. 61,97,159 obtained from 1st April to 29th September 1894. If the average receipts of one day are added to this, the total increase in five months and 29 days will be about Rs. 91,000. The large receipts in 1894-95 were attributed to a favourable jute traffic, but as the earnings in the first six months of the current year show an increase over those of the corresponding period of the preceding year, the Lieutenant-Governor is of opinion that the estimate may fairly be placed at Rs. 1,36,00,000. This figure has been taken provisionally. The Provincial share of these receipts will stand at Rs. 39,75,000.

56. Irrigation—Major Works.—The Government of India placed the revised estimate for 1894-95 under this head at Rs. 14,60,000, and the estimate for the current year at Rs. 15,00,000. The returns of the Examiner of Public Works Accounts show that the receipts in first four months of the current year were Rs. 62,000 less than those of the corresponding period of last year. There has been a slight increase under Navigation and Miscellaneous, but a very marked falling off in water-rates. These are, however, expected to be made up later on in the year. The receipts in 1894-95 will have amounted to Rs. 15,24,040, and the average actuals of the past five years were Rs. 16,07,000. In view of the fluctuating character of these receipts, it will not perhaps be safe to anticipate that the average of the past five years will be obtained, but there is no reason to think that Rs. 15,00,000, the estimate passed by the Government of India, will not be attained.

	Rs.
1891-92 ...	16,03,000
1892-93	18,88,000
1893-94	16,73,000
1894-95 ...	15,24,000
Total of five years ...	80,35,000
Average per year	16,07,000

57. Civil Works by Public Works Department.—The estimated receipts, amounting to Rs. 1,80,000, will be raised by Rs. 30,000, being the estimated sale-proceeds of the Maniktollah distillery buildings, and by Rs. 35,000, being the estimated profits of the Sibpur Workshops. The total estimate will stand at Rs. 2,45,000.

58. Summary of Receipts.—The total receipts of the province, which when the budget estimate was framed were placed at Rs. 4,41,97,000, will now stand in the revised estimate at Rs. 4,48,56,000, exclusive of the opening balance, an increase of 6½ lakhs.

Expenditure.

59 Land Revenue.—The estimate under this head, amounting to Rs. 36,88,000, will be raised by Rs. 2,965 for the construction of a boat for the Collector of Cuttack; by Rs. 500 for the construction of a well in the compound of Collector's cutcherry, Monghyr; by Rs. 3,067 for enquiry into the mul-raiyati rights in the Deoghur subdivision in Sonthal Parganas; and by about Rs. 4,000 for temporary establishment for the completion of audit work of the tauzi accounts of the Cuttack Collectorate and for rewriting tauzi rolls in the Muzaffarpur Collectorate and writing up the tauzi rolls and ledgers in the Saran Collectorate. The total grant will now stand at Rs 37,00,000.

60. Customs.—The total expenditure for the year 1895-96 was originally estimated by the Accountant-General at Rs. 5,86,000 against Rs. 5,79,000, the budget estimate for 1894-95. The estimate of the Accountant-General did not include any provision for the additional establishment, the necessity for which had arisen in consequence of the passing of Act XVI of 1894, nor had he provided for the additional establishment provisionally entertained upon the passing of Act VIII of 1894. The Accountant General's estimate of Rs. 4,80,514 for the Calcutta Custom House establishment was raised to Rs. 7,44,000, and the total grant was passed for Rs. 8,55,000, including an extra provision of Rs. 5,000 for exchange compensation allowance. The figure finally passed by the Government of India for the Custom House establishment amounts to Rs. 58,627-1-4 × 12 = Rs. 7,03,525, and for the Custom Audit Department of the Board's office Rs. 327-8 × 12 = Rs. 3,930. A saving of Rs. 7,44,000 — Rs. 7,04,000 = Rs. 40,000 may therefore be expected under Custom House establishment, but some additioual provision is necessary for contingencies and travelling allowances, &c., owing to the increase of establishment. A reduction of Rs. 35,000 will therefore be made under Customs, and the total grant will now stand at Rs. 8,20,000.

61. General Administration.—As stated above, a provision of Rs. 3,930 will be necessary for the Customs Audit Department of the office of the Board of Revenue, against Rs. 2,112 already included in the budget. An additional provision of Rs. 1,818, or Rs. 2,000 in round numbers, will be made on this account. The total charges in 1894-95 amounted, however, to Rs. 17,19,693, and the actuals of the first five months of the current year show an increase of Rs. 25,000 as compared with those of the corresponding period of last year. In view of these figures, the total grant will be raised from Rs. 17,08,000 to Rs. 17,40,000.

62. Jails.—The estimate under this head will be reduced by Rs. 929, which has been made over to the Public Works Department for effecting certain improvements in the drainage of the Presidency Jail. Against this reduction, some provision is necessary for the employment of female warders for female prisoners in certain jails sanctioned in August last at an additional monthly cost of Rs. 92. On the whole the grant will stand at Rs. 21,47,000, as originally sanctioned by the Government of India.

63. Police.—The estimate under this head has been raised by Rs. 18,000, to provide for the following charges sanctioned after the budget was passed:—

(1) The payment of Rs. ',391-10-8 to the East Indian Railway Company on account of supervision charges of the Government Railway Police over the State lines in the Bengal Division of the East Indian Railway from the 1st October 1885 to the 31st March 1892.

(2) The payment of the sums of Rs. 2,798-0-8 and Rs. 1,293-15-5 on account of the $\frac{3}{10}$ths share due for the cost of watch and ward establishment and police guards employed in Bengal by the Bengal and North-Western Railway Company from the 1st April 1884 to the 30th June 1890.

(3) The payment of Rs. 1,416-13 2 on account of the $\frac{3}{10}$ths share payable by this Government of the cost of house accommodation provided by the Bengal and North-Western Railway Company for the police force employed in the Bengal section of the Bengal and North-Western and Tirhut Railways.

(4) The payment of Rs. 1,500 for Dome settlements in the Champaran district.

(5) Additional provision necessary for the Government share of River Police, Rs. 1,367.

(6) The appointment of an Inspector on Rs. 100 per mensem for the district of Saran to supervise the Dome settlements, Rs. 900.

The total grant will now stand at Rs. 60,56,000.

64. Education.—The estimate under this head, amounting to Rs. 26,72,000, has been reduced by Rs. 24,207 on account of the following charges transferred to the Public Works Department and to District Boards on account of the following buildings:—

	Rs.
(a) Additions to and alterations in the Arrah Zilla School building	5,625
(b) Additional accommodation in the Boarding-house of the Government School at Baraset	3,148
(c) Construction of two wings and a gallery in the Chapra Zilla School	13,385
(d) Conversion of the south part of the compound of the Patna College into a cricket-ground	1,412
(e) Additional expenditure incurred in constructing two wings to the Pabna Zilla School building	283
(f) Raising the floor of the library-room in the Mymensingh School	354

Against these reductions, an additional grant of Rs. 11,055 has been made for primary schools in backward districts, and a provision of Rs. 12,000 for fitting up the chemical and physical laboratories and other changes in the Civil Engineering College, Sibpur. The Secretary of State has sanctioned an honorarium of Rs. 5,000 to Dr. Grunwedel for the completion of the Lepcha Grammar. The total grant will now stand at Rs. 26,76,000.

65. Medical.—An additional grant of Rs. 5,000 has been sanctioned for the purchase of certain articles for the Anatomical Museum, Medical College, Calcutta. The charges under "Hospitals and dispensaries" and "Sanitation and Vaccination" during the first five months of the current year show increases of nearly Rs. 10,000 and over Rs. 5,000, respectively, over those of the corresponding period of last year. In view of these increases, the total grant for the year will be placed at Rs. 18,40,000 against Rs. 18,13,084, the latest actuals of 1894-95.

66. Scientific and other Minor Departments.—The estimate under this head has been raised by Rs. 2,000 for a grant to the Secretary to the Buddhist Society for the publication of their text, and by Rs. 7,000 to meet other miscellaneous charges, such as special expenditure in connection with the casts of the Asoka inscriptions, charges for Inspector of Explosives, and Refunds. The total grant will now be raised to Rs. 4,70,000.

67. Superannuation.—The estimate under this head amounts to Rs. 18,05,000. The actual charges in past years were:—

		Increase.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
1890-91	15,13,000	.....
1891-92	16,00,000	87,000
1892-93	17,03,000	1,03,000
1893-94	17,40,000	37,000
1894-95	17,80,000	40,000
Estimate, 1895-96 ...	18,05,000	25,000

The increase in the last four years amounted to Rs. 2,67,000, or an average of Rs. 67,000 a year. The actuals in the first five months of the current year show an increase of Rs. 35,000 over those of the corresponding period of last year, and justify the estimate being raised to Rs. 18,40,000

68. Stationery and Printing.—An additional grant of Rs. 4,540 has been sanctioned under the head "Contingencies" for municipal taxes on premises No. 3, Church Lane, and 11, Strand. The question of the revision of the establishment of the office of the Superintendent of Stationery is now under the consideration of the Board of Revenue, who have been asked to substitute fixed for incremental salaries, and to convert the existing departmental establishment into a graded one; but pending orders on the subject, no provision is necessary. The total grant under this head will now stand at Rs. 13,21,000.

69. Miscellaneous.—The estimate under this head will be raised by Rs. 3,000 granted to the Albert Victor Leper Asylum to meet the present liabilities of the Institution in addition to the annual maintenance allowance. The grant will now stand at Rs. 2,47,000.

70. Irrigation—Minor Works and Navigation.—The estimate under this head, as passed by the Government of India, amounts to Rs. 16,22,000. At the instance of the Public Works Department, some small grants have been made, aggregating Rs. 840, to the Local Funds by reduction under this head.

Against this reduction, an additional grant of Rs. 1,30,000 will, with the sanction of the Government of India, be made to the Public Works Department for the improvement of the Bhangorkhal, a section of the Eastern Canal system. The total grant will therefore stand at Rs. 17,51,000.

71. Civil Works in charge of the Public Works Department.—The grant for Provincial Civil works for the current year was originally fixed at Rs. 26,96,000. It has been reduced to Rs. 25,77,242 as the net result of certain additions to and deductions from the original allotment sanctioned during the past six months. An additional grant of Rs. 3,919 will have to be made for percentage charges for establishment, tools and plant on Imperial works transferred to the management of local funds in 1894-95; and, subject to the sanction of the Government of India, the Lieutenant-Governor has issued orders to take early steps for the completion and execution of some of the urgent works which were kept back at the time the budget was first prepared, when, in consequence of the fluctuating character of the railway receipts, an accurate forecast of the Provincial share of these receipts could not be obtained. The cost of these additional works in the current year will probably amount to Rs. 5,55,208, as shown below, and the Government of India will be moved for early sanction to this excess expenditure :—

	Rs.
Eden Hostel	1,10,000
Calcutta Madrassa Boarding-house	27,424
Campbell lying-in-ward	31,375
Medical College Anatomical block	1,00,817
Kurseong Boys' School	84,000
Additional block for the Stamp and Stationery Office ...	89,748
Tollygunge Police Barrack	11,132
Bhowanipur Hospital	52,100
Bhagalpur Training School	4,900
Muzaffarpur Record-room	3,477
Treble Munsifi at Howrah	21,282
Darjeeling Police Barrack	7,873
Covered way to connect the nurses' quarters with the Medical College Hospital	1,988
Tirihana to Bagdogra road	3,092
Jalpaiguri Deputy Commissioner's residence	6,000
Total ...	5,55,208

The total grant will now stand at Rs. 31,36,000.

72. Civil works in charge of Civil Officers.—The Lieutenant-Governor has promised to make a grant to the Krishnagar Municipality of half the estimated cost of the drainage of the town up to Rs. 10,000. Against this addition a reduction of Rs. 6,229 will be made in the grant for the repairs of building in the South Lushai Hills, that being the amount already placed at the disposal of the District Board of Chittagong for the repairs of the Commissariat godown. The total grant will now stand at Rs. 1,40,000.

73. Contributions.—The grants made to the several District Boards to establish equilibrium between the receipts and charges transferred to their management amount to Rs. 4,76,885, and the special grants made to certain local bodies for the maintenance of roads transferred to their charge amount to Rs. 2,11,253. The annual grants to local bodies for the maintenance of Imperial and Provincial civil works, including establishment and allowances to Engineers, &c., amount to Rs. 1,52,649, and the annual grants to District Road Funds and District Road Accounts aggregate Rs. 53,056. The total comes up to Rs. 8,93,843. The following further grants have been sanctioned for the current year :—

	Rs.
(1) To Local Funds for Imperial works	8,653
(2) Ditto Provincial works	1,78,278
(3) Ditto Irrigation Minor Works	840
(4) Ditto Educational works	637
(5) To the District Board of Chittagong for repairs to the Commissariat godown	6,229
(6) To the Sonthal Parganas Road Account for improvements in Government estates	16,000
Total ...	2,10,637

These make a total of Rs. 11,04,480; and as some provision is necessary to meet unforeseen demands, the estimate under this head will be placed at Rs. 11,42,000.

74. Summary of Expenditure.—The total expenditure is thus estimated at Rs. 4,50,16,000, against a budget figure of Rs. 4,43,08,000, an increase of seven lakhs of rupees. It exceeds the estimated receipts by one and-a-half lakhs of rupees.

75. Closing balance.—According to the estimates passed by the Government of India, it was expected that the year would close with a balance of Rs. 32,62,000. According to the estimates now adopted, the closing balance will be Rs. 41,63,000, against an opening balance of Rs. 43,23,000. The total estimate of expenditure now adopted exceeds, however, the budget estimate by a net sum of Rs. 7,08,000, for which the sanction of the Supreme Government is necessary. This excess is made up of additional grant of Rs. 23,000 under Education, Rs. 1,30,000 under Irrigation—Minor Works, for the Bhangor khal, and Rs. 5,55,000 under Civil Buildings for urgent works which cannot be postponed.

76. Brief retrospect of five years.—This is a convenient place in which to record the financial history of the Province during the last five years. That history is contained in the following figures:—

	Actuals.			Approximate actuals, 1894-95.	Revised estimate, 1895-96.
	1891-92.	1892-93.	1893-94.

Expenditure	5,79,21,327	4,25,43,825	4,29,09,459	4,29,20,640	4,50,16,000
Closing balance ...	23,53,431	22,55,172	26,24,038	43,23,120	41,63,000

77. The opening balance of 1891-92 would have been much higher but for the special benevolence of 10 lakhs levied by the Government of India in 1890-91 in addition to the fixed contribution of Rs. 6,90,000 due under the Provincial contract commenced in 1887-88, which expired in April 1892. During 1891-92 the Provincial receipts amounted to Rs. 5,78,01,984, and the expenditure of the year slightly exceeded the receipts, and the closing balance was reduced to Rs. 23,53,431, or about three and-a-half lakhs above the prescribed minimum. The next year, 1892-93, was the first of the current contract framed for the five years April 1892 to March 1897. As compared with the receipts of 1891-92, the Provincial revenues of 1892-93 show a falling off of rather more than a crore and-a-half. Of this decline no less than 129 lakhs is accounted for by an important administrative change, carried out with Sir Charles Elliott's entire concurrence, under which the Nalhati and Tirhut State Railways were made Imperial, while the net receipts of the Eastern Bengal Railway system were divided equally between Imperial and Provincial revenues. At the same time it was decided that the executive control of all these railways should rest with the Government of India. There was also a fall of more than 27 lakhs under Land Revenue adjustments, caused by the rise in the fixed contribution from Provincial to Imperial to Rs. 14,39,000, and by the fact that certain large contributions made from Imperial revenues on account of special expenditure during 1891-92 did not recur in 1892-93. On the expenditure side, Bengal was relieved of charges amounting to 142 lakhs under the head of State Railways, including nearly 37 lakhs for interest on debt, while the cost of the survey and settlement operations was made Imperial. The result of these adjustments was that in the first year of the contract, the Province had a revenue of Rs. 4,24,45,566 against an expenditure of Rs. 4,25,43,825, and the balance at the close of the year was reduced to Rs. 22,55,172. In the following year, 1893-94, the revenue shows an increase of Rs. 8,32,759, owing to increased receipts under Stamps and Excise, and an improvement of over four lakhs under Railways, due to the increased prosperity of the Eastern Bengal State Railway. On the Expenditure side the charges increased by Rs. 3,65,634, owing mainly to the grant of exchange compensation allowance. The revenue, however, exceeded the expenditure by Rs. 3,68,866, and the year closed with a balance of Rs. 26,24,038. The revenue of 1894-95 increased by nearly seventeen lakhs, of which nearly eight lakhs occurred under Railways, nearly five and-a-half lakhs under Stamps, and a lakh and-a-half under Miscellaneous, while Excise and Assessed Taxes show an increase of more than a lakh each. As, however, an extraordinary contribution of three lakhs was levied by the Government of India, and adjusted under Land Revenue, the actual rise in the Provincial revenues was only thirteen and-a-half lakhs. No material increase occurred in the expenditure, and the balance at the close of the year stood at Rs. 43,23,120. The figures now adopted for the current year show increases of two lakhs and-a-quarter under Stamps, three-quarters of a lakh under Excise, and five lakhs under Land Revenue Adjustments; while the estimated receipts from Railways have declined by three lakhs and-a-half, and from Miscellaneous by one lakh and-a-half, the net result being an increase of two lakhs and-a-half. On the other hand, the expenditure as now estimated has risen by nearly twenty-one lakhs distributed over a number of heads, the largest increase being under Irrigation and Roads and Buildings, which between them account for nearly half of the amount.

78. On a review of the entire period, it will be seen that, besides the extraordinary benevolence of ten lakhs levied at the commencement of the period, Bengal has contributed within the last five years no less than Rs. 67,46,000 to meet the necessities of the Empire, over and above the heads of receipts ordinarily classed as Imperial: and in addition to this there has been a steady growth in the receipts divided in varying proportions between Imperial and Provincial Revenues, which, while it swelled the Provincial revenues in the manner described above, yielded to the Supreme Government an increase of nearly fifty-one lakhs. Notwithstanding this drain upon the Provincial resources, the Lieutenant-Governor is glad to be able to look back upon a substantial array of administrative improvements which have been carried out within the period under review. Three new districts have been created, the number of Subordinate Judges and Munsifs has been increased, an additional Judge has appointed for the Eastern districts, the ministeral establishments of Judicial officers have been strengthened, and the number of Rural Sub-Registrars has been increased. The police has been reorganised mainly on the lines suggested by the Police Commission of 1890, at a total cost of more than five lakhs per annum; a school for the training of Police officers has been opened; barracks have been built and improved; special reserves of armed police have been created in every district to meet local emergencies; and the French system of identifying criminals by measurement has been introduced. The jails at Buxar and Bhagalpur have been enlarged; the Hazaribagh jail has been converted into a central jail; special committees have been formed for the purpose of conducting systematic inquiries into the condition of the less healthy jails; and the water-supply of all the jails has been examined and improved. A large block of buildings to be devoted to the study of anatomy has been added to the Medical College, and numerous minor improvements have been made in the buildings of that institution; surgical and midwifery wards and a dispensary have been constructed at the Campbell Hospital; a new hospital is under construction in the south of Calcutta; the Vaccination and Sanitary Department have been completely reorganized; a second vaccine depôt has been opened at Darjeeling, and is now extending its operations to Nepal; quinine has been brought through the Post Office within the reach of the poorest classes, and the supply has been increased by the purchase of a fresh plantation at Nimbong near Darjeeling. The system of weighing salt has been improved, and the salt warehouse at Sulkea has been connected with the East Indian Railway so as to facilitate the export of salt by rail. Under the head of Public Works the period has been one of considerable activity. In Calcutta a new Police Court, an office for the Presidency Commissioner, the Collector of Calcutta, and the Collector of Income-tax, and two new buildings for the Stamps and Stationery Department, have been built, a fresh wing has been added to the Indian Museum, and the Small Cause Court has been greatly enlarged. In the mufassal a large number of Government offices have been built and extended, and quarters have been provided for officials in several places where houses were not to be had. Feeder roads have been opened in connexion with several railways, and a definite scheme has been worked out for future operations in this direction. Material help has been afforded to the backward districts of Palamau and the Sonthal Parganas towards new and improved roads; the communications of the tea districts of the Duars and of Darjeeling have been improved, and a great number of bridges have ben constructed on Provincial roads. During the current year a large project, the canalisation of the Bhangor khal, has been undertaken, which will improve the boat route to Backergunge and extend the facilities for traffic with Eastern Bengal generally. The Orissa system of canals has been extended; and the Hijili Tidal Canal remodelled. Particular attention has been given to the construction of distributaries, and the collection of irrigation rates has been improved. In the Education Department, Provincial money has been spent on improving the teaching at the Sibpur Engineering College and adding to it a class for mining engineers, and a new set of workshops has been constructed for the practical training of the students; a Veterinary School and Hospital has been created in Calcutta; primary and female education have been extended; an industrial school has been opened at Patna; a new school for European boys is being constructed at Kurseong; a chemical laboratory has been added to the Presidency College; a new building provided for the School of Art in Calcutta; and finally, large additions have been made to the Eden Hindu Hostel, and the Calcutta Madrasa boarding-house has been begun with the object of providing suitable accommodation for all, or a large proportion, of both Hindu and Muhammadan students.

79. The list is a long one, but were it twice as long, much would still have been left to do. Where the claims to assistance are so numerous and so pressing as they are in Bengal, it is clearly out of the question that all should be met. The utmost that the Government can hope to accomplish is to allot the limited resources at its disposal as far as possible in accordance with the relative urgency of the demands which are put forward. Sir Charles Elliott trusts that he has applied this principle as equitably as circumstances permitted. He leaves the Provincial finances in a condition of exceptional prosperity, and he rejoices to think that his successor will be able to utilise the large balance with which the present year will close, in carrying out some of the projects and improvements which he himself has been unable to complete.

ORDER.—Ordered, that a copy of this Resolution be submitted to the Government of India, Department of Finance and Commerce, for information.

Ordered also, that a copy of the above Resolution be forwarded to the Board of Revenue; to all Commissioners of Divisions; to the Accountant-General; to the Inspectors-General of Civil Hospitals, Police, Jails, and Registration; to the Directors of Public Instruction and Land Records and Agriculture; to the Conservator of Forests; to the Port Officer, Calcutta; to the Superintendent of the Royal Botanic Gardens, Calcutta; to the Manager of the Eastern Bengal State Railway, and to all Departments of this Government, for information.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

H. H. RISLEY,

Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

RESOLUTION ON THE ADMINISTRATION REPORT OF THE CALCUTTA MUNICIPAL CORPORATION FOR THE YEAR 1894-95.

MUNICIPAL DEPARTMENT—MUNICIPAL.

Darjeeling, the 8th November 1895.

RESOLUTION—No. 887T.—M.

READ—

The Administration Report of the Commissioners of Calcutta for the year 1894-95.

Read again—

The Report for the year 1893-94, and the Resolution recorded by Government thereon.

The Lieutenant-Governor regrets to observe that, notwithstanding the hope expressed in the Resolution on the previous year's report, that the delays which have occurred in past years in the submission of the Annual Report of the Commissioners to Government would be avoided, no efforts seem to have been made to secure the earlier submission of the present report, which was not received till six weeks after it was due, and then was accompanied by the remark that the Commissioners had been unable to consider the important part of it which is contained in the report of the Health Officer. With the means at their disposal the Commissioners ought to be able to complete their accounts and get the report printed within three months from the close of the financial year. They would then have a month to give to discussing the report, which would come before Government at the end of July as a well-considered expression of the views of the Commissioners on the work done by them in the course of the year. As it is the report bears throughout the stamp of haste and insufficiency. As a literary production it is unworthy of notice, and there are many discrepancies in the figures which require explanation. The collections of rates are rather worse than they have ever been before. Less has been done towards improvements. The drainage question as a whole, or even the part of it which affects the "added area," has not been grappled with. Great issues are at stake and important decisions have to be arrived at, but the time is consumed in endless discussions, and little practical advance is made. The settlement of the question regarding the statutory three lakhs to be expended annually on suburban improvements, and of the long pending acquisition case relating to 54, Clive Street, may be put on the opposite side, and are subjects for congratulation.

2. The post of Chairman was held by Mr. J. G. Ritchie throughout the year, while Mr. Harry Lee, the permanent incumbent, was absent on furlough. Since the close of the year, news of the death of Mr. Lee has been received, and the Lieutenant-Governor shares the regret which the Commissioners have felt at the loss of their late Chairman, who, while he held that office, performed his duties with characteristic zeal and ability. The year 1894-95 was the last of the administration of the Commissioners who came into office in April 1892, and a general election was held on the 16th March 1895. In 10 out of the 25 wards of the Municipality, the candidates who offered themselves for election were returned unopposed. In the 15 wards where contests took place, 70 per cent. of the voters recorded their votes, against 53 and 42 per cent. at the two previous elections. Of the 50 Commissioners elected, 36 were members of the last Corporation, and of the 14 new Commissioners, two had served on former occasions. The personnel of the Commissioners, both as regards race and profession, remains practically the same.

3. Meetings and attendance of Commissioners.—The Commissioners assembled in General meeting 27 times against 26 in the previous year. The General Committee appointed under section 63 of the Act met 53 times against 51, and the Standing and Special Committees appointed under section 65 met 48 and 22 times against 61 and 26 respectively in 1893-94. There were also 33 meetings of Sub-Committees against 35. The total number of meetings of all kinds was 183 against 199 in the previous year. Seventeen Commissioners attended more than 50 meetings, against 19 in the previous year. The Commissioners who attended the greatest number of meetings were the Hon'ble Rai Durgagutty Banerjee Bahadur, C.I.E., 117 meetings; Babu Lall Behary Bysack, 111; Babu Radha Churn Pal, 107; and Babu Prya Nath Malik, 104. There was a falling off in the attendance of elected Commissioners, the average precentage of attendence being 55 against 61 in the previous year. The average percentage of attendance among the nominated Commissioners was the same as last year, viz., 46, while the percentage of attendance of members representing the Port Commissioners, the Trades' Association, and the Bengal Chamber of Commerce combined, rose from 39 to 53.

4. Proceedings of meetings.—The principal questions dealt with by the Commissioners in general meeting were the drainage of the suburban area, the provision of a public recreation ground at Marcus Square, the establishment of a hospital at Bhowanipore, the acquisition of the 54, Clive Street, site, and the statutory obligation of the Corporation to spend three lakhs annually on suburban improvements. No advance was made during the year with the scheme for the drainage of the Suburban area, as the Commissioners were awaiting the opinion of Mr. Baldwin Latham on the subject. The want of a public recreation ground in the northern part of the Town has long been felt, and at the instance of Government the Commissioners set apart the site known as Marcus Square for this purpose; the tank which formerly stood on that site has been filled up, and an area comprising a little over 13 bighas of land has been taken up and converted into a public recreation ground. The cost, towards which Government has contributed a grant of Rs. 50,000, has to be met in part from public subscriptions, and the Lieutenant-Governor trust that so much of it as still remains to be collected will soon be realized. The need of a hospital for the southern Suburbs of Calcutta has also been recognised for a long time, and the matter has been under the consideration of the Commissioners since the year 1890-91. During the year under review an arrangement was come to by which the Municipality gave up as a site for the proposed hospital a plot of land south of the Bhowanipur reservoir, measuring 128 cottahs 13 chittacks and 44 square feet, valued at Rs. 64,366; consented to the merging in the new hospital of the present Sumbhoo Nath Pundit Dispensary, which is to be sold, the name being preserved for the outdoor department of the new hospital, and the sale-proceeds appropriated towards the construction of the new building; and agreed to make an annual contribution to the new institution of Rs. 5,000, inclusive of the sum now contributed to the Sumbhoo Nath Pundit Dispensary. At the same time, Government undertook to contribute the remaining sum necessary for the construction of a building for the new hospital, and to continue to provide year by year the cost of maintenance in excess of the contribution from the Municipality. The new hospital, when ready, will be managed by a Board of five Governors with the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals as President in addition. Three of the Governors will be nominated by Government and two by the Municipality. The plans and estimates, amounting to Rs. 90,539, for the construction of the new hospital, have already been approved by Government, and the building is now well advanced. The long pending appeal case in connection with the acquisition by the Commissioners of 54, Clive Street, was settled during the year by the Commissioners entering into a compromise with the appellant and paying him two lakhs over and above the amount awarded by the Judge in the Lower Court, with arrears of interest at 6 per cent. The acquisition of this piece of land, $1\frac{1}{2}$ bigahs in extent, with the buildings upon it, has cost the Corporation over 11 lakhs. With the settlement of this troublesome matter, the Harrison Road account has now been practically closed, and it appears that the entire undertaking, including the electric lighting, the working of which is at present defective, has cost the Corporation Rs. 27,37,000 after deducting the sums recovered from the sale of surplus land. The Commissioners have arrived at last at a settlement of the long pending question regarding the method of calculating the statutory three lakhs to be expended by them annually on improvements in the suburbans area. With the advice of counsel, who seem to have taken a broad and equitable view of the requirements of the law, the Commissioners have now determined the mode in which this account should be prepared, one of the chief items charged to it being the instalments of interest and sinking fund payments on account of capital sums expended on the extension of the water-supply which was undertaken in anticipation of the amalgamation of the Suburbs with the Town. Details of the expenditure held to be debitable to this account since the year 1889-90, when the Suburbs were amalgamated with the Town, are given in Appendix I, Part II of the Report, of which the following is an abstract:—

	Rs.	A.	P.	Rs.	A.	P.
Expenditure during 1889-90—
Interest and Sinking Fund on water-supply expenditure	78,390	0	0

Improvements in Suburbs from revenue	1,22,170	0	4
Cost of new lamps	21,379	7	9
Total ...	.....			16,85,355	14	11

This account shows that in lieu of 18 lakhs which should have been expended on suburban improvements during the past six years, Rs. 16,85,355 have been so expended. The balance, Rs. 1,14,645, will, it is said, be adjusted during the current year. The Commissioners will therefore have to spend Rs. 4,14.645, on suburban improvements during the current year in order to bring this account up to date. Having regard, however, to the intricate character of the question and the length of time over which the transactions extend, the Lieutenant-Governor thinks that the account prepared by the Commissioners should be submitted for audit to some independent authority, which should report whether the items included in it comply with the interpretation of the law adopted by the learned counsel whose advice was taken on the subject, and that this report should be submitted for the information of Government.

5. Loans.—The loan liability of the Corporation at the commencement of the year was as follows:—

	Rs.	A.	P.
Unpaid balance of 6 per cent. debenture loan of 1866	5,000	0	0
5 per cent. debenture loans	1,44,01,900	0	0
4½ ditto ditto	30,48,300	0	0
	1,74,55,200	0	0
Balance of consolidated loans from Government ...	51,11,493	7	7
Loan from Port Commissioners	2,00,000	0	0
Total ...	2,27,66,693	7	7

No new loans were raised during the year, and the Commissioners were able to pay off nearly 4½ lakhs of their debt. The loan of Rs. 2,00,000 from the Port Commissioners towards the Harrison Road Fund, was repaid from the proceeds of the sale of surplus land, and Rs. 2,49,700-7-3 of the consolidated loans from Government, were repaid from revenue, leaving a balance of Rs. 2,23,16,993-0-4 as the loan liability of the Corporation at the close of the year. Against this they had in their Reserve Funds and in the Special Fund for the repayment of the loan of 1866, a total sum of Rs. 13,19,719-3-9, or Rs. 2,37,525-5-6 more than the amount in reserve shown last year, but the Government securities and municipal debentures were entered only at their par value in the report for 1893-94, while in the present report they are entered in the market value, which accounts in great measure for the difference. Since the close of the year the Corporation have, with the sanction of the Government of India, raised a further loan of 18 lakhs at 4 per cent., repayable after 15 years.

6. Income and expenditure.—The following statement compares the receipts and expenditure of the Municipality for the past two years:—

Lighting rate charges	3,90,496	4,28,277
Total ...	43,24,030	44,72,986

There was an increase of Rs. 48,682 in the total revenue of the year as compared with that of the previous year. The income derived from each of the four rates levied in the Municipality shows an improvement which was due to enhancement of assessments on revaluation. The large falling off, Rs. 42,964, in the Road Department receipts is said to have been due chiefly to the remission granted to the Tramway Company, under the new agreement entered into with the Company. The total expenditure exceeded that of the previous year by Rs. 1,48,906. The increases are chiefly under Road Department Rs. 70,400, Gowkhana Rs. 31,995, and lighting charges Rs. 22,602. The cost of establishment and other charges were kept within the estimates of the year.

7. Financial position.—The year opened with net cash balances of Rs. 3,24,924 and Rs. 3,45,163 in the Revenue and Capital Funds respectively. During the year the total receipts of the Revenue Funds, as shown in paragraph 6 above, amounted to Rs. 45,12,477, and the expenditure to Rs. 44,72,936, leaving a net balance of Rs. 39,541 to be carried to account, while the receipts of the Capital Funds amounted to Rs. 2,65,937, and the expenditure to Rs. 6,52,822, leaving a considerable deficit, which was met in part by an advance of Rs. 1,10,159 from Revenue Funds. At the close of the year there was a net cash balance of Rs. 4,19,567 at credit of the Revenue Funds, while the Capital Funds showed a deficit of Rs. 63,248. This has since been replenished by the loan raised by the Corporation during the current year.

8. Assessment and collection of the consolidated rate.—During the year under report the revaluation of houses, lands and bustees in parts of the town, after the disposal of appeals filed under section 135 of the Calcutta Municipal Act, resulted in a net increase of Rs. 3,90,753. The assessed annual valuation of the town on 31st March 1895, therefore, stood at Rs. 1,98,41,008 against Rs. 1,94,50,255 on the same date in the previous year. Fair progress was made in the disposal of objections against assessments, notwithstanding the interruption of work in this department owing to the work imposed on it in connection with the general election of Commissioners, and the number of pending cases was reduced to 1,382 from 2,093 in the previous year.

The current demand of the consolidated rate was Rs. 37,61,513 against Rs. 36,80,274 in 1893-94, showing an increase of Rs. 81,239, but there was an outstanding balance of Rs. 5,06,066 remaining from the previous year, so that the gross demand for the year was Rs. 42,67,579. The gross collections amounted to Rs. 34,79,917, or a percentage of 81·5 on the gross demand, against a percentage of 82·07 in the previous year. The incidence of the consolidated rate per head of the population was Rs. 5-12-8 against Rs. 5-3-8 in the previous year, and that of the total municipal taxation Rs. 6-11-6 against Rs. 6-2-6.

9. The following statement, which is taken from paragraph 13 of the report, and to which column 11 has been added, shows the progress of demand and collections during the past five years:—

Year.	Outstanding balance of consolidated rate on 1st April.				Total.	Current demand for the year	Gross demand including balance.	Gross collection.	Percentage of collection on gross demand.	Arrears, i. e., column 8 —column 9.

Out of the total arrears shown in column 11, Rs. 1,98,817 were cancelled or remitted during the year, leaving uncollected a sum of Rs 5,91,083, the bills for which were distributed as follows:—

	Rs.		Rs.
Collector	1,08,607	Warrant Superintendent ...	3,66,492
Joint-Collector ...	28,476	Assessor	87,508

As the difference between the total arrear and the balance outstanding for recovery in each succeeding year is clearly due to remissions, it follows that, within the period covered by the statement, about 13 lakhs have been written off. Not only are no arrears recovered, but the gross collections never equal even the current demand in any single year. Of the total collections made in each department, 85 33 per cent. of the demand were received in the Collector's Department, 82·44 per cent. in the Joint-Collector's Department, and 32·5 per cent. in the Warrant Department, against 84·45, 83·06 and 40·1, the percentages of the previous year. There was an improvement in the work of the Collector's Department during the year, and a less amount transferred from that department to the Warrant Department, but the balance outstanding is still large, and has shown a steady increase for some years. The work of the Joint-Collector's Department, on the other hand, shows a falling off. The collections were much less than those of the two previous years, the amount being Rs. 6,09,413 against Rs. 6,82,811 in 1893-94, and Rs. 6,25,738 in 1892-93, while the percentage of the demand transferred to the Warrant Department for realization was 10·22 against 9·87 and 9·85 in the two preceding years. The falling off in the collections in this department is observed in all three classes of bills, viz., for owners' share of rates, occupiers' share, and bustee land. The work of the Warrant Department also shows a considerable falling off compared with the results of the previous year. There can be little doubt that the Commissioners lose heavily by not taking advantage of the powers which the law gives them to enforce prompt payment of municipal dues. All rates are payable at the beginning of the quarter to which they relate, and if proper arrangements were made for serving notices of demand, the bills ought to be in the hands of the Warrant Department before the close of the first month of the quarter.

10. License and Registration Department.—The following statement compares the gross receipts under the several heads in this Department during the past two years:—

	1893-94.			1894-95.
	Rs.	A.	P.	Rs.	A.	P.
I.—Tax on trades and professions ...	3,46,889	7	3	3,44,183	14	9

VII.—Miscellaneous receipts ...	719	14	0	688	14	0
VIII.—Fines under section 90 of the Calcutta Municipal Act	8,405	8	6	8,027	11	4
IX.—Fines under section 80 of the Calcutta Municipal Act ...	966	0	0	1,043	0	0

There was a slight improvement in the total receipts in this department, though the receipts under the head of Trades and Professions showed a falling off to the extent of Rs. 2,655. The amount derived from the tax on carriages and animals is the largest yet collected, and reflects credit on the vigilance of the officers connected with this department. The reasons assigned for the falling off in the receipts under the head of Trades and Professions are (1) that a number of Joint Stock Companies which had paid the tax for 1893-94 withheld payment for 1894-95 pending the decision of the High Court, in a test case brought against the Standard Marine Insurance Company, Limited, which had disputed its liability to the tax; (2) that depôts of wood, straw, hay and other inflammable materials, which were formerly subject to a license fee at a uniform rate of Rs. 25, are now, under the Fire-Brigade Act of 1893, only liable to pay fees at varying rates which yield a smaller income; and (3) that the collection of the tax was retarded by the severe epidemic of small-pox which prevailed in the town during the last quarter of the year. The total number of licenses for trades and professions issued during the year was 25,098 against 25,983 in the previous year. The total number of carriages taxed during the year was 5,236 against 5,212 in 1893-94, and the number of horses and ponies taxed was 6,785 against 6,778. The number of hackney carriages registered rose from 3,452 to 3,594, the increase being shared by all three classes of these conveyances.

11. Market, lighting, printing.—The income from the municipal market rose from Rs. 1,28,311 to Rs. 1,31,033, and the profit to the Commissioners, after payment of all charges, was Rs. 1,11,933 against Rs. 1,07,815 in the previous year. The numbers of gas and oil lamps in Calcutta at the close of the year were 6,079 and 1,953 respectively, against 5,952 and 1,647, the numbers of the previous year, showing an increase of 127 in gas lamps and 306 in oil lamps. These figures, however, disagree with those given in the table in paragraph 187 of the Report, which shows an increase of 92 in gas lamps and 210 in oil lamps. This discrepancy should be explained. The actual cost of lighting was Rs. 3,86,159 against Rs. 3,58,967, showing an increase of Rs. 27,192, due to the increased number of lamps. The printing department appears to have worked satisfactorily, resulting in a net profit to the Corporation of Rs. 5,113.

12. Survey.—The work of laying down boundaries in connection with the resurvey of the town was completed, and a number of surveys were made in connexion with projects of improvement and boundary disputes. The Assessor and Surveyor disposed of 20,772 cases out of a total of 20,886, leaving 114 pending at the close of the year, against 139 in the previous year.

13. Litigation.—The number of fresh civil suits in which the Corporation appeared as plaintiff during the year was 122, the same number as in the previous year. Besides these they appeared as plaintiff in 30 pending cases of the previous year. Of the 122 new suits, 121 were for the recovery of rates and miscellaneous dues involving Rs. 34,045, and one for ejectment against Kanai Lal Pundit, who refused to vacate a part of 54, Clive Street, after it had been acquired by the Corporation, as he had an idol located there. The order of ejectment having been passed by the Court, it was duly carried out, and the building was dismantled by the Commissioners. Of the 121 suits instituted by the Corporation for the recovery of dues, 61 were decreed, 8 were compromised, and 52 remained pending at the close of the year. As in the previous year, no cases were dismissed by the Court. The large number of pending cases is said to have been due to many cases having been instituted in March 1895. Of the suits in which the Corporation appeared as defendant, the suit for trespass brought by Rajendra Dutt in 1889-90 remained unsettled, as the arbitrators made no award during the year. This case has been pending for a long time, and the arbitrators should be pressed to give their award. The acquisition case relating to 54, Clive Street, was, as already noticed in the earlier part of this review, successfully compromised. In another suit, which was decided after the close of the year, the Court passed a perpetual injunction on the Commissioners, forbidding them the use of the old trenching ground at Goragacha, and gave permission to the plaintiffs to file a similar suit in respect of the new ground recently opened at the same place. An important test suit was brought during the year against the Standard Marine Insurance Company, to determine the disputed question whether Insurance Companies were liable to pay license tax under section 87 of the Calcutta Act. The Honorary Magistrate who tried the case decided that they were, but on appeal his judgment was reversed by the High Court, which held that a Company carrying on the business of insurance was not liable to assessment under section 87, as the business of insurance was not one of the occupations mentioned in schedule 2 of the Act. By this decision the Commissioners lose a revenue of nearly Rs. 10,000 a year. As there is no reason why these Companies should be exempted from taxation, and as it was not the intention of the Legislature that they should be exempted, steps will be taken to amend the law so as to render them and other Companies covered by the decision of the High Court liable to assessment in future. There were 14 appeals to the Small Cause Court under section 137 of the Act, against assessments of houses and lands, with the result that in three cases the assessment was reduced by the Court, five were amicably arranged out of Court, five were dismissed with costs, and one remained pending at the close of the year. The number of cases instituted by the Corporation in the Police Courts increased from 14,087 to 16,941, of which 9,667 were successful, 805 were unsuccessful, 4,230 were withdrawn or struck off, and 2,239 remained pending at the close of the year. The amount of fines imposed on the persons prosecuted in these cases amounted to Rs. 24,776-8 against Rs. 18,717-4 in the previous year. The largest number of prosecutions were, under sections 80 and 90 of the Act, instituted by the License Department, the number being 11,211 against 9,729 in the previous year. The prosecutions instituted under section 212 by the Road Department also increased from 783 to 1,398, which shows that the laxity in this Department, complained of in the previous year, has to a great extent been removed. The number of prosecutions instituted by the Health Department under the Vaccination Act was 562 against 631 in the previous year, and the fines imposed in these cases amounted to Rs. 106-8 against Rs. 72-12. The cost of the litigation undertaken by the Corporation during the year amounted to Rs. 33,202-10 against Rs. 25,064-9-1 in 1893-94.

14. Education.—Not a word is said in the report of the question of increasing the municipal contribution towards primary education in Calcutta, which has been pressed upon the Commissioners by this Government and the Government of India. It appears from the statement of General Fund expenditure given in Appendix F, Volume II, that a sum of Rs. 3,564 was expended during the year on general education, and that a grant of Rs. 900 was made to a school for the deaf and dumb. It is not stated how the former grant was distributed. As it is desirable that this information should be furnished, a statement similar to that given in paragraph 227 of the Report for 1893-94 should in future be included in the Annual Report of the Corporation. The Lieutenant-Governor observes with surprise the reluctance of the Commissioners to make the allotment of Rs. 10,000 which has been suggested as the smallest sum which the Commissioners can properly devote to a purpose which is universally recognised as holding a high place among the legitimate obligations of local authorities.

15. Town and Bustee improvement.—The total amount expended during the year on town and bustee improvements was Rs. 76,138 against Rs. 92,102, Rs. 1,41,730, and Rs. 1,61,334 in the three preceding years. The Capital Fund from which this expenditure is met opened the year with a balance in hand of Rs. 19,169. The receipts during the year, including a contribution from Government of Rs. 30,575 for improvement of the bustee in Hastings, amounted to Rs. 69,108, and the closing balance was Rs. 12,139. Of the total amount expended, Rs. 43,346 represents expenditure on town improvements, which consisted chiefly of the construction of new roads and the widening of existing thoroughfares, and Rs. 32,792 expenditure on bustee improvements, filling up of tanks in the Town and Suburbs, construction of squares, and construction of urinals. This is a small amount to spend considering the state of many of the bustees and the urgent need in which they stand of improvement. Only Rs. 7,634 was spent on the improvement of the Hastings bustee. The Lieutenant-Governor hopes that the full amount granted by Government for this purpose will be expended and early steps taken to complete the scheme for placing this area in a thoroughly sanitary condition.

16. Engineers' Department.—The new Worthington engine at Tallah, the largest pumping engine in India, has been erected and is working satisfactorily. Nearly 4·91 miles of pipe were added to the distribution system, making the entire length 307 miles, the number of premises connected being 25,286. The average daily supply of filtered water during the year was 20,248,268 gallons, which is the largest on record, giving a daily consumption per head of the population of 36·66 gallons in the Town proper and 19·94 gallons in the suburban area. In addition to this, an average daily supply of 112,007 gallons of filtered water was afforded to Barrackpore, and 29,334 gallons to the Manicktolla Municipality. The Dum-Dum Cantonment and the Cossipore-Chitpur Municipality have also been connected with the Calcutta supply, the former receiving 31,911 gallons a day, and the latter a minimum supply of 310,000 gallons a day. The daily supply of unfiltered water, which obtains in the Town proper only, was on an average 4,578,099 gallons, allowing 11·02 gallons per diem her head of the population. This system now comprises 76·63 miles of pipes, 2,885 ground hydrants for watering roads, 271 connections to sewer flushing chambers, 86 bathing platforms, 151 public latrines, and 966 connected premises, and further extensions are contemplated. The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to notice that three cast-iron cattle drinking-troughs were presented to the town during the year by private individuals. There are now 76 of these troughs in the town, all connected with the filtered water-supply.

17. Health Department.—The vital statistics of Calcutta for the year 1894 correspond in their essential features to those recorded for the entire Province during the same period. The number of births fell from 13,492 to 11,438, and the birth-rate per thousand of population from 19·7 to 16·8. A comparison of the figures with the mean of the previous five years shows the decline to have been highest in the months of March, August and September, and to have occurred mainly in the Town proper, the falling off in the Suburbs being comparatively slight. No comments on the figures are given in the Health Officer's report. The number of deaths rose from 20,113 to 22,441, and the death-rate per thousand from 29·5 to 32·9, the increase in the Town proper being 2·7 per thousand more than in the Suburbs. Of the total increase of 2,328 deaths, 872 were due to fever, 826 to cholera, and 374 to small-pox. The Health Officer attributes the increased mortality from fevers in Calcutta almost entirely to the defective condition of the sewers, which at certain states of the tide become blocked and leak into the surrounding soil. This state of things is no doubt highly insanitary; but the hypothesis that leakage from the sewers is the cause of the increased deaths from fevers does not seem as yet to have been established. The statement given in the margin compares the fever mortality in Calcutta and in the 24-Parganas for the last twenty years—a period selected with reference to the fact that the drainage of the southern portion of the Town was completed in 1874. It will be observed that the Calcutta death-rate shows considerable fluctuations, and that the mortality in the last year of the period is only ·1 per thousand in excess of that recorded twenty years ago, when the cause put forward by the Health Officer could not have begun to operate. Were that cause the true one, the water-logging and pollution of the soil in the neighbourhood of the sewers would have gone on increasing throughout the period, and the ratio of deaths from fever would have tended to keep pace with it. No such tendency can be traced in the recorded statistics; on the contrary, a marked fall in the mortality occurred in 1880, and lasted without any material increase and with occasional decreases until 1891, when the rate rose to 10·5 and continued substantially at that level until last year. On comparing the Calcutta statistics with those for the surrounding country, a certain degree of correspondence between the two sets of figures may be traced, and the conclusion which they seem to indicate is that the prevalence of fever in both areas is determined in the main by the general causes which produce fever everywhere in Bengal; but that the operation of these causes in Calcutta is counteracted to a varying extent by improved sanitary conditions, among which the reduction of subsoil moisture by drainage occupies a prominent place. There is, however, another aspect of the question upon which unfortunately neither these statistics nor the Health Officer's report throw any light. Assuming that at certain states of the tide percolation takes place from the Calcutta sewers into the adjacent soil, it seems primâ facie unlikely that this would produce saturation to an extent sufficient to bring about any marked increase in ordinary fever; but as the fluid which thus finds its way into the soil is largely composed of sewage, some increase of fevers of a typhoidal character might probably be looked for. That such fevers had in fact greatly increased was alleged on the authority of the Health Officer by the Chamber of Commerce, in their letter to Government of the 10th July, complaining of the Goragacha trenching-ground; and in communicating to the Corporation the reply of Government to that letter, the Chairman was particularly asked that "a full report, supported by the necessary statistics, might be called for from the Health Officer, on the allegation that typhoidal fevers are on the increase in Calcutta." It was obviously desirable that the grounds for so alarming a statement should be fully set forth and examined, and the Lieutenant-Governor expected that the Health Officer would be able to show from hospital statistics, and from records of cases treated by medical men, exactly what proportion of the increased mortality from fever consisted of cases which could reasonably be attributed to the action of sewage pollution, and would further be able to say in what parts of the town such cases had occurred, and what relation their distribution bore to the areas where leakage from the sewers is most prevalent. In reply to this request, Dr. Simpson reported that the number of deaths from typhoid fever during the last four years was as stated in the margin. He also observed: "The general fever mortality of Calcutta has, however, within recent years increased, and from conversations I have had with medical men attending such cases, I gather that many of them assume a typhoidal aspect, and more especially of late years," and added that "this subject and the local causes at work in the production of Calcutta fevers" had been fully dealt with in his annual report. The report, however, contains no reference to typhoid, and deals merely with the increase in ordinary fevers which has been discussed above. It is a matter for much regret that after lending the weight of his authority to the statement that typhoidal fevers are largely increasing in Calcutta, the Health Officer should have neglected to comply with the request that the grounds of that opinion might be fully set forth. Owing to this omission it is impossible, as the matter now stands, to arrive at any certain or even probable conclusion on the important question whether the increase in fever mortality which has occurred during the last three years in Calcutta is due to purely local causes which admit of being diminished or removed, or to general causes affecting the whole surrounding country, which it would be vain to attempt to cope with. The position is a very unsatisfactory one, and illustrates the damage that may be done to sanitary progress by making vague general assertions and withholding the evidence upon which they are based.

Small pox raged with some severity during the latter part of the year, the number of deaths from this cause being 405, of which 346 were in the Town proper and 59 in the Suburbs. During the epidemic every possible means of staying the progress of the disease was adopted, and vaccination was freely resorted to, with the result that 17,335 operations were performed against 14,377 in the previous year. Owing to the large number of small pox patients sent to the Campbell Hospital, the accommodation available at that institution was found to be insufficient, and temporary sheds for patients had to be erected in the compound of the hospital The need of a permanent hospital for small-pox patients, to provide against an emergency such as that which arose during the late epidemic, was considered by the Commissioners, who went so far as to offer a site and a grant of Rs. 5,000 for the construction of the necessary building; but the matter was dropped when the epidemic subsided, the Commissioners contenting themselves with making an increase of Rs. 5,000 to the annual grant made to the Campbell Hospital. Cholera did not appear in an epidemic form during the year, but the number of deaths recorded from this cause was 1,695, of which 1,118 were in the Town and 577 in the suburban area. Professor Haffkine's system of anti-choleraic inoculation was introduced by the Commissioners as a tentative measure for one year, and a grant of Rs. 7,500 was sanctioned by them to defray the cost of the trial. A full account of what was done is given in the Health Officer's report, and although the results are as yet inconclusive, the question is one of such surpassing interest that the Lieutenant-Governor would be glad to see the experiment continued.

18. Drainage.—The extension of the sewerage system to Entally was proceeded with during the year, and is approaching completion. In the Town proper 3,135 lineal feet of pipe sewers were laid, and the sewerage of the land along the Port Commissioners' railway between Sobha Bazar Street and Kumartoli Street was completed. In the canal fringe area improvements were effected in the drainage along the Bahir Mirzapore Road. The long-pending scheme for the drainage of the whole suburban area south and south-east of the Town proper was discussed during the year, and a report, drawn up by Mr. A. J. Hughes, in consultation with Mr. James Kimber, the Engineer to the Corporation, on the subject, was sent to Mr. Baldwin Latham for his opinion. This has since been received, and will no doubt be carefully considered by the Corporation as soon as the additional data required by Mr. Latham have been collected. The Lieutenant-Governor trusts that no delay will occur in carrying out these instructions, and that an early decision will be arrived at on a question which is of vital importance to the health and prosperity of Calcutta.

Since the close of the year the Commissioners have adopted the temporary scheme proposed by Mr. Baldwin Latham for discharging the night-soil of about three-fourths of the population of the Suburbs into the Circular Road sewer at an estimated cost of Rs. 1,08,200. The adoption of this scheme, which will, it is understood, be completed by the 1st of March, when the Corporation are bound to discontinue the trenching operations now being conducted, as a strictly temporary measure, in the neighbourhood of the Docks, will finally get rid of the serious difficulties which have arisen in connexion with the trenching-grounds at Goragacha and other places in the suburban area, and the Lieutenant-Governor congratulates the Commissioners on the fact that they have at last bestirred themselves to action on this important subject. It is assumed that the question whether additional pumping machinery will be required at Palmer's Bridge has been or will be carefully considered.

19. For some years past the Health Officer has urged upon the Corporation the necessity of amending the building regulations now in force in Calcutta, so as to make provision for fixing the minimum width of public streets, limiting the height of houses in relation to the width of the streets, controlling the construction of brick buildings on bustee land, fixing the minimum sizes of court-yards within houses, and the minimum space to be left between the back of houses for the purpose of ventilation. These points are doubtless of great importance, and the Health Officer is right to lay stress on them; but the question of passing a special Building Act can hardly be dealt with in a Resolution reviewing the work of the Municipality during the year, and it is necessary, before such a step is taken, to examine the provisions of the existing law in order to see how far they are defective. The Commissioners have, it is said, recently appointed a Committee to report on the difficulties that have arisen in the interpretation and working of the building regulations contained in the Calcutta Municipal Act, and of the bye-laws passed by them. The report of this Committee will be awaited. Meanwhile it can only be said that when life and health are in question the owners of property cannot be permitted to assert, in so broad and absolute a manner as is involved in the claim put forward in paragraph 291 of the Report, that whatever land is required for the construction of roads should be taken up at the cost of the public, and that owners should under no circumstances be called upon to surrender any portion of their existing rights. The bent of modern opinion in the more advanced countries is distinctly adverse to such uncompromising claims, and this view will sooner or later make itself felt in Calcutta, and will result in some equitable restrictions being imposed on the rights of property where the owners benefit largely by municipal improvements to which they contribute no more than any ordinary rate-payer.

CALCUTTA,
The 7th November 1895.

Circular No. $\frac{20}{272-2}$ F.

Extract from the Proceedings of the Government of India, in the Department of Revenue and Agriculture (Forests), dated Simla, the 25th October 1895.

READ—

(i) Circular Resolution of this Department, No. 11-F., dated 28th June 1893, promulgating rules to regulate the constitution of, admission to, and studies and discipline at, the Imperial Forest School, Dehra Dun.

(ii) Circular of this Department, No. 9-F., dated 29th May 1895, forwarding copies of the resolutions passed by the Board of Control of the Imperial Forest School in March 1895.

(iii) Letter from the Inspector-General of Forests, No. 793, dated 9th September 1895, regarding the fourth and sixth of the resolutions passed by the Forest School Board of Control in March 1895.

RESOLUTION.

The Director of the Imperial Forest School and his staff having noticed the difficulty which the students experience in intelligently assimilating the lectures with which the School course commences, and which deal with technical subjects in their relation to the practice of forestry, proposed, following the example of the Forest Schools of Europe, that the students should join the School each year on the 15th April instead of on the 1st July, in order that they might commence their studies with practical work in the forests under an Instructor, and thus become to some extent familiar with the forests and the nature of the work to be done in them, as a preliminary to the study in the class-room of sylviculture and forest-mathematics.

Under this proposal, which has received the approval of the Government of India and to which effect will be given from the beginning of the year 1897, the School course will last $23\frac{1}{2}$ instead of 21 months as at present; and it will be necessary to hold the examination for entrance into the School in January instead of in March. The additional expenditure entailed on each student by the change will be as follows:—

		Rs.
(a)	For a European student of the Upper Class	$112\frac{1}{2}$
(b)	„ Native „ „ „	$87\frac{1}{2}$
(c)	„ „ „ „ Lower „	70

2. The Government of India have also approved of a recommendation by the Board of Control that Rule 15 of the Forest School Rules should be amended, so as to allow of candidates for the Lower Class, who are already in Government service, being admitted into the School, even though they may be 25 years of age or over, and may have been in the Subordinate Forest Service for less than three years. The conditions now imposed by Rule 13 (ii), (a) and (c), may therefore be waived by a special order of the Local Government or Administration in the case of any Government student whom it may be in future proposed to send to the Lower Class.

3. It has also been found desirable to make some other small corrections of minor importance in the rules. Appended to this Resolution is a copy of the Forest School Rules as new amended. The alterations effected in the rules noted in the margin will not take effect till the 1st January 1897; but the amendments made in the remaining rules† will come into force on and after the 1st January 1896.

4, 5, 10, 12 (i) (e), (v) [except the addition to the fourth subject of examination], and (viii); 13 (last clause), 14, 15 (ii) and (iii); 18, 19, 20 and 21.

†12 (v) [addition to fourth subject of examination]; 13 (a), (b), and (ii); and 15 [new clause (iv)].

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of this Resolution, with its appendix, be forwarded, for information, to the Governments of Madras and Bombay, the Local Governments and Administrations noted in the margin, the Inspector-General of Forests, and the Comptroller and Auditor General.

Bengal.	Assam.
North-Western Provinces and Oudh.	Coorg.

APPENDIX.

RULES TO REGULATE THE CONSTITUTION OF, ADMISSION TO, AND STUDIES AND DISCIPLINE AT, THE IMPERIAL FOREST SCHOOL, DEHRA DUN.

Section I.—Constitution and Studies.

1. The School is under the administrative control of the Inspector-General of Forests, who is assisted by a Board consisting of—

(1) the Inspector-General of Forests, President,
(2) the Director of Public Instruction, North-Western Provinces and Oudh,
(3) the Director of the School,
(4) one Conservator from each province (not more than three serving in any given year), with, as Secretary, the Assistant Inspector-General of Forests.

2. The Superior Staff of the School consists of—

(1) the Director,
(2) the Deputy Director,
(3) & (4) two Instructors,
(5) the Vernacular Instructor,

} assisted by the Forest Officers of the School Circle, North-Western Provinces.

The Conservator of Forests, School Circle, North-Western Provinces, will ordinarily be Director of the School. The Deputy Director and two Instructors are officers of the Indian Forest Service on the Imperial List. The Vernacular Instructor is an officer of the Provincial Forest Service—also on the Imperial List.

3. The Director of the School is charged with (1) the general administration of the institution, including the regulation of the course of study under the arrangements prescribed by the Board of Control, subject to the sanction of the Government of India; (2) the supervision of the School buildings, quarters, and gardens; (3) the control of the accounts, and the conduct of correspondence.

4. Courses.—There are two courses: one in English, the other in the Hindustani language. Each course lasts 23½ months. The English course is that followed by the "Upper Class;" the Hindustani course, that followed by the "Lower Class." The first year's students are called "Juniors; the second year's students, "Seniors." In the English course, students are prepared for the certificate in Forestry by the "Higher Standard;" in the Hindustani course, for that by the "Lower Standard."

The subjects taught in these courses are the following, described in the School syllabuses:—

1. Forestry, including Sylviculture, Utilisation and Forest Working-Plans, both theoretical and practical.

2. Mathematics—elementary Arithmetic, Algebra, Trigonometry, and Mechanics, in their application to forest questions.
3. Physical Science, including Chemistry, Physics, Physiography, Geology, Mineralogy and Soils.
4. Botany, both theoretical and practical, including the collection and preservation of plants.
5. Zoology—the classification of animals and the study of useful and dangerous species, especially of insects, including the collection and preservation of specimens.
6. Drawing, Surveying and Estimating, as required for forest officers.
7. Forest Engineering, theoretical and practical.
8. Forest Law, the elements of Criminal Law, and departmental organisation.
9. Forest Accounts and Procedure.

5. Terms.—The terms of study are as follows :—

1st year—
- Preliminary term—April 15th to June 15th, in camp.
- Vacation—June 16th to June 30th.
- Rains term—July 1st to October 31st, in Dehra Dun.
- Winter term—November 1st to December 22nd, in camp.
- Vacation—December 23rd to January 5th.
- Spring term—January 6th to March 31st, in camp.

2nd year—
- Hill tour term—April 1st to May 31st, in camp.
- Vacation—June 1st to 30th.
- Rains term—July 1st to October 31st, in Dehra Dun.
- Winter term—November 1st to December 22nd, in camp.
- Vacation—December 23rd to January 5th.
- Spring term—January 6th to February 15th, in camp.
- Examinations, including survey test—February 16th to March 31st.

6. Examinations.—The School examinations are—

1. Monthly, to test progress and application.
2. Final.

The Monthly examinations are usually held on the last two working days of each month, as the Director may order. The marks obtained at these examinations are counted for one-fourth of the aggregate at the Final.

The Final examinations are held in March of the 2nd year, and the marks then obtained count for three-fourths of the aggregate.

7. Certificates.—There are two certificates obtainable in each class, after the final examinations: a "pass" certificate and an "honours" certificate. The former is granted to students who obtain over 50 per cent. of the aggregate marks allotted to all subjects, provided this includes 50 per cent. of the marks allowed for each of the subjects of Forestry, Botany, Surveying, and Engineering. The latter is granted to students who obtain over 75 per cent. of the aggregate marks allotted to all subjects, including over 50 per cent. in each individual subject. These certificates are only granted on the orders of the Board of Control, who have authority to exercise their discretion in doubtful cases.

8. Prizes.—The School medals are awarded by order of the Board of Control, but only if "honour" marks (75 per cent.) have been obtained. Other prizes, whether given by Government or other donors, are also awarded by the Board of Control.

9. Should any student, of the three categories enumerated in Rule 11, be unable (a) to appear at the final examinations, or, having appeared, (b) fail to pass those examinations, he will not be permitted to appear at any subsequent final examination, unless he follows a second time the whole course of instruction at the School, or, at the discretion of the Director, the second year's course.

Section II.—Admission Rules.

10. The total number of students of each class who can be admitted into the School each year will be limited to such number as the Board of Control may decide, from time to time, can be accommodated in the School. The number of studentships to be allotted each year to the respective Provinces, as well as the number of nominations to be made by the Director, will, with due regard to the total prescribed by the Board of Control, be decided by the Director of the School before the 1st of November, after consultation with the Provincial authorities as to their requirements, and communicated to the Local Governments concerned.

A.—Upper Class.

11. There are three catagories of students in the Upper Class—

(1) Private students.
(2) Students already in the Government service.
(3) Students deputed by Native States.

12. Private students comprise all those students who are at present without appointments in any Forest Service, and whose object it is, by becoming possessors of Forest School certificates, to obtain employment either in the Forest Service of the Government of India or in that of a Native State, or some other owner of forest-property.

(i) Candidates for admission to the Forest School as private students must not be less than 18 or more than 25 years of age, and their applications must be sent to a Conservator of Forests* through a Divisional Forest Officer, of rank not below that of an Assistant Conservator of the 1st grade, or through a Collector or other district officer. Neither the Conservator, the Divisional Forest Officer, nor the Collector need belong to the forest circle or province in which the candidate seeks emp'oyment; but Divisional Forest Officers and Collectors may not forward to Conservators applications unsupported by the five certificates enumerated below, namely:—

* Conservator of Forests, Bengal Circle, at Darjeeling.
Conservator of Forests, Assam Circle, at Shillong.
Conservators of Forests, North-Western Provinces and Oudh—
School Circle, at Dehra Dun.
Central Circle, at Naini Tal.
Oudh Circle at Naini Tal.
Conservators of Forests, Central Provinces—
Southern Circle, at Nagpur.
Northern Circle, at Jabalpur.
Conservator of Forests, Berar Circle, at Amraoti.
Conservator of Forests, Punjab Circle, at Lahore.
Conservators of Forests, Upper Burma—
Eastern Circle, at Mandalay.
Western Circle, at Mandalay.
Conservators of Forests, Lower Burma—
Pegu Circle, at Rangoon.
Tennasserim Circle, at Rangoon.
Conservators of Forests, Madras Presidency—
Northern Circle, at Waltair.
Central Circle, at Madras.
Southern Circle, at Coimbatore.

(a) A certificate that the candidate is a "Native of India," within the meaning† assigned to those words by section 6 of 33 Vict., Cap. 3.

(b) A certificate of age.

(c) A health certificate in the form prescribed by article 61 of the Civil Service Regulations, signed by the Civil Surgeon of the district in which the said Divisional Forest Officer's or Collector's duties lie, and testifying to the candidate's sound constitution, good vision and hearing, and general physical fitness for a rough outdoor life in the Forest Department.

(d) A certificate of respectability and good moral character from two or more persons whose social or official position can be accepted as a guarantee of reliableness.

(e) A certificate from an officer of the Education Department, of a rank not less than that of a Deputy Inspector of Schools or the Head Master of a High School under public management, to the effect that the candidate's education appears sufficiently good to give hopes of his being able to pass the entrance examination.

The last three certificates must bear date not further back than the 1st August of the year preceding that in which the candidate proposes to present himself at the entrance examination.

If any person, giving certificates as above under (c), (d), and (e), is in a position to mention anything more to the credit of the candidate than the certificates actually call for, he may do so.

(ii) Upon the receipt by the Conservator of any application in respect to which the preceding conditions shall have been observed, that officer may either accept or reject the application, without assigning any reason for so doing; or he may require the candidate to produce other or better certificates in person before him.

(iii) Conservators may, at their option, test the fitness of a candidate who desires to enter the service of Government by practical work in the forests.

(iv) Those candidates who have been approved by the Conservator will be permitted, under his recommendation, to appear at the next entrance examination for the Forest School held in his circle.

(v) The Entrance examination is held in the month of January each year, on such date as may be fixed by the Director, both at the Imperial Forest School and at such centres as may be fixed from time to time by Local Governments, and under such officers, Educational, Revenue, Forest, or other, as may be appointed: provided that the date shall be communicated by the Director to Local Governments and Conservators on or before 1st November. The subjects of examination are:—

		Minima pass marks. Per cent.
1.	English { Conversation	50
	{ Composition	33
2.	Arithmetic	40
3.	Algebra, up to and including quadratic equations	40
4.	Elements of Euclid, books I to IV and book VI, with examples	25
5.	Mensuration—lengths, areas and volumes, with examples ...	25

† "Native of India" means any person born and domiciled within the dominions of Her Majesty in India, or within the territories of Indian Princes tributary to or in alliance with Her Majesty, of parents habitually resident in India, and not established there for temporary purposes only. (Article 45, Civil Service Regulations.)

The examination papers on the above subjects will be forwarded by the Director in sealed covers to such officials as the Local Governments may direct in the month preceding the examination.

(vi) A Local Government may lay down rules under which the number of candidates allotted, under Rule 10, to the Province for admission into the School, shall be selected from the number of passed candidates. In such rules due regard must be had to the place taken in the examination, but the Local Government shall not be debarred from preferring, for good and sufficient reasons, a passed candidate who may have taken a lower place in the list to one higher on the list: provided that the Director may, after inspection of the papers of the selected candidates, place before the Local Government an objection to the admission of any of such candidates on the ground that he is below the required standard.

(vii) The Local Government may, if it thinks fit, exempt from the entrance examination any candidate who is a Bachelor of Arts, or who has obtained a degree or diploma of about the same standard at any university in India or in the United Kingdom or in a British Colony, or at any educational institution to which the Government of India may extend the privilege: provided that such degree or diploma shall not give such candidate a preferential claim over any candidates who have passed the entrance examination and who may appear more eligible for the Forest Service.

(viii) Prior to the admission of a student, his parents or guardians must satisfy the Director that they are willing and able to defray the expenses of the student at the School. These expenses are estimated to be not less than Rs. 822½ for each student living in native fashion, and Rs. 1,057½ in the case of those living in European fashion (vide Rule 21). Of these sums, parents or guardians must deposit with the Director, before the course commences, a sum of Rs. 141 in the case of native students and Rs. 188 in the case of European students, to meet the initial cost of uniform, books, instruments, stationery, and camp-equipage (vide Rule 18), and, in addition, Rs. 50 as caution-money.

(ix) Local Governments may, on the recommendation of a Conservator or of the Director, and in exceptional cases, allow selected private students who have passed the entrance examination a monthly stipend, not exceeding Rs. 50, to assist them through the School course: provided that such selected private students previously execute an agreement binding themselves to serve the Local Government concerned (in the event of their obtaining the School certificate) for a period of not less than five years (vide Rule 17). Such monthly stipend may, in case of misconduct or unsatisfactory progress at the School, be reduced or altogether withdrawn at the discretion of the Director.

(x) The names of those private students who succeed in obtaining the School certificate will be entered by the Director in a register to be kept for that purpose, and the Conservators of those circles, in which the non-stipendiary private students may severally desire or be willing to serve, will be addressed by him with the view of obtaining appointments for such students. The Conservators concerned will, for this purpose, be furnished with the original certificates already referred to in clause (i) of this rule, the School certificates, and such other useful information, more especially regarding the physical qualifications of the students, as the Director may be in a position to furnish.

(xi) A list of private students, who may not succeed in obtaining appointments, will be forwarded by the Director to the Inspector-General of Forests, who will circulate the list amongst Durbars, Conservators, and other persons likely to be in need of the services of trained forest officials.

(xii) The appointment to the service of Government of passed private students depends on the existence of vacancies in the various circles, and even a stipendiary student has no claim to such appointment.

13. Candidates in the Government Service, who may be deputed to the Upper Class, will ordinarily be either—

(a) Forest Rangers who desire to qualify themselves for further promotion in their own or to a higher class; or

(b) other members of the Subordinate Forest Service (Foresters and other subordinate officials) similarly desirous of qualifying for promotion.

(i) Forest Rangers may be deputed by Local Governments, provided the candidates are certified by the Conservator under whom they are serving to possess sufficient knowledge of English and general education and ability to enable them to profit by the course. Such officers may be above 25 years of age, and need not pass the entrance examination. While at the School they will draw the pay of their grade and the travelling allowances to which they may be entitled under the Civil Service Regulations.

(ii) Other officers of the Subordinate Service may be deputed by Local Governments, provided that—

(a) they have been in that service for not less than three years;
(b) they have passed the School entrance examination;
(c) they are under 25 years of age;
(d) they have executed the formal agreement referred to in Rule 17.

Such officers will, while at the School, draw the pay and travelling allowances of their grade in the service: provided that the total amount sanctioned to meet the cost of their training, inclusive of travelling expenses, shall not be less than Rs. 822½ in the case of students living in the native style, and Rs. 1,057½ in the case of students living in European fashion (vide Rule 21).

14. Students deputed by Native States may be admitted on the request of the State concerned: provided that—

(a) they have passed the entrance examination of the School;
(b) they have produced the certificates required for admission, specified in Rule 12 (i).

The Durbars of Native States sending students to the School shall, before the beginning of each term, or of each year if preferred, deposit with the Director a sum sufficient to meet the expenses of the students. This sum, for the whole course, must not be less than Rs. 822½ for students living in native fashion, and Rs. 1,057½ for those living in European fashion (vide Rule 21).

B.—Lower Class.

15. There are also three categories of students in the Lower Class—

(a) Private students.
(b) Students in Government service.
(c) Students deputed by Native States.

The rules for admission to the Lower Class are the same as those detailed in Rules 12, 13, and 14, for admission to the Upper Class, with the following exceptions:—

(i) Instead of the Entrance Examination, the candidate must furnish a certificate of having passed the Middle Class Examination in the North-Western Provinces and Oudh, or an equivalent standard in another province, as well as a certificate that he possesses a competent knowledge of Hindustani.
(ii) The cost of training will not be less than Rs. 658 (vide Rule 21) for the whole course of 23½ months.
(iii) The required deposit will be Rs. 94, and the caution-money Rs. 25.
(iv) In the case of candidates who are already in the Subordinate Forest Service and below the rank of Ranger, the restrictions imposed by Rule 13 (ii) (a) and (c) may be specially relaxed under the orders of the Local Government.

C.—General.

16. No student of European or Eurasian extraction, not already in the permanent employment of Government or of a Native State, shall be admitted into the Forest School if he is married; nor shall any such student, whether in the permanent employment of Government or of a Native State, or not, marry whilst at the School or until he has joined a permanent appointment. A breach of this rule will render the student liable to dismissal from the School, or to forfeiture of any appointment in the Forest Service which may have been promised to him, or to which he may otherwise have a claim.

17. Agreement and Security Bond.—Officers of the Subordinate Service, deputed to the School by Local Governments under Rules 13 (ii) and 15, shall execute a formal agreement—the sureties for the fulfilment of which should be men of position and means—to continue in the Forest Service of the Local Government concerned for a period of not less than five years after passing out of the Forest School, and on such rates of pay as may be in accordance with the existing organisation of the Department. A breach of this condition will render the defaulter and his sureties liable for the refund of the entire cost of the student's education at the School. The agreement and security-bond shall be in the appended forms, and must be executed before the student is admitted to the School. The agreement will be signed by the student and, if he is a minor, by his father or guardian also; the bond by the student and two sureties. The amount of security to be taken will be—

		Rs.
For a Lower Class student	... ...	600
„ an Upper Class student	Native	750
	European	1,000

The agreement and security bond need not be stamped.

The same rule shall apply to private students who may be granted stipends under Rule 12 (ix), subject, however, to the proviso of Rule 12 (xii). Should any such student not be appointed to the Forest Service of Government at the end of his School course, his agreement and security-bond will be returned to him.

18. Uniform, books, and camp allowances.—The Director is authorized to make deductions from the pay of Forest Ranger students under Rule 13 (i), or of students of the Subordinate

Service under Rules 13 (ii) and 15, or from the stipends of private students under Rules 12 (ix) and 15, to the following amounts :—

			Rs.
Lower Class students	...	4 monthly, or	94 in all
Upper „ „	Native ...	6 „	141 „
	European	8 „	188 „

in order to meet the following items of initial expenditure, viz —

	Upper Class.		Lower class.
	Native.	European.
1	2	3	4
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Uniform and equipment	35	68	20
Books and instruments	60	60	34
Camp outfit	46	60	40
Total ...	141	188	94

The Director will charge off in his accounts such portions of the above as may be necessary from time to time to meet expenditure on the items mentioned, until the whole of the amounts are exhausted, after which the student will be required to pay in cash for articles supplied.

19. Travelling allowances of private students in receipt of stipends.—Students holding stipends from Local Governments under Rule 12 (ix) are not entitled to travelling allowance; but, as the tours entail greater expenditure in some months than in others, the Director is authorised to make a further monthly deduction from their stipends, of Rs. 5 from Upper Class Native students and Rs 7 from Upper Class European students, and to disburse the amounts in the following manner :—

1		2	3
		Rs.	Rs.
Monthly travelling allowances ...	15th April-15th June, November-March, 1st year; April-May, November-February, 2nd „	4	8
Or for 13 months ...		52	104
Special additional allowances for hill tours		30	22
„ „ for Punjab tour		35½	38½
Total ...		117½	164½

20. Should the Conservator of a Circle from which any Government student of the Subordinate Service is deputed to the School, under Rule 13 (ii), prefer it, he can, subject to the orders of his Government, authorize the Director to pay travelling allowance to such student at the rates given in Rule 19, instead of at the rates allowed by the Civil Service Regulations. And in the case of Lower Class Government students, deputed to the School under Rule 15, he may similarly authorize the payment of travelling allowance at the following rates, instead of the rates permissible under the Civil Service Regulations :—

	Rs.
Monthly travelling allowance at Rs. 4	52
Special hill tour allowance	22
„ Punjab tour allowance	20

which rates are equivalent to a permanent travelling allowance of Rs. 4 per month for the whole course.

21. Estimated expense of training.—It has been calculated that, in addition to the amounts specified in Rule 18 for cost of uniform, books, &c., and camp-equipment, and in Rules 19 and 20 for travelling, the minimum monthly subsistence money for students comes to Rs. 20, Rs. 24, and Rs. 30, respectively, so that the minimum pay and travelling allowances of Government students under Rule 13 (ii), and the minimum stipends for stipendiary students under Rule 12 (ix), should not be less than Rs 35 and Rs. 45, respectively, nor should the minimum pay and travelling allowances of Lower Class students (Rule 15) be less than Rs. 28. Thus, the minimum cost of training will be as follows :—

	Lower Class.	Upper Class.
		Native.	European.
1	2	3	4
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Subsistence money	20	24	30
Uniform, books, and camp outfit	4	6	8
Travelling allowance	4	5	7
Total per mensem ...	28	35	45
Or for the whole course of 23½ months	658	822½	1,057½

The same amounts should be taken as minima in calculating the allowances to be deposited on account of students from Native States under Rules 14 and 15, or provided by parents and guardians for the cost of training of private students.

Section III.—Disciplinary Rules.

22. Quarters.—The Director will allot to students, on their arrival in Dehra, such quarters as may be available in the School buildings or in the houses rented by him for students' accommodation. The School quarters are tenable during the whole period of the students' course, and the rent is Rs. 2 monthly for each student, or Rs. 4 for each room. Students for whom there is no accommodation in quarters or in houses rented by the Director, or who may prefer it, can, with the permission of the Director, reside in the town in lodgings selected by themselves ; but in that case the Director will accept no responsibility for the rent.

All students living in quarters or in the rented houses are expected to abide by such orders as the Director may issue from time to time for the purpose of ensuring cleanliness and sanitation.

No dogs are allowed in quarters, nor may dogs or horses be brought inside the School grounds.

Breakages of furniture, &c., in the quarters or School buildings must be paid for by the students. Students are responsible for the acts of their servants.

23. Uniform.—All students must wear the School uniform, which consists of a suit of khaki drill with white-metal buttons, and a grey turban of prescribed pattern, for the hot weather, and of khaki serge with similar buttons for the cold weather and camp. Those students who become members of the Dehra Dun Mounted Rifles are, however, permitted to wear the undress uniform of the corps, which also consists of a suit of khaki drill, of pattern similar to that of the School. Students who are Volunteers will wear, as head-dress, a brown shikar hat while at the School, and the regular corps helmet when on parade. Native students may dispense with turbans, or wear other head-dress, only with the Director's special permission. Uniform must always be worn inside the School building. It must also be worn in the School grounds up to 5 P.M.

24. Uniform and Camp Equipment.—The uniform of members of the Dehra Dun Mounted Rifles may be obtained through the corps staff ; that of other students through the Store-keeper of the School, on the Director's order. As camp equipment each student requires—

(1) A small tent, not larger than 10 feet × 8 feet.
(2) A camp bed.
(3) A small camp table.
(4) A camp chair or "morah."

These articles are made at the School and issued at cost-price to students.

25. Books and Instruments.—The list of books and instruments required by each student will be published by the Director from time to time. The articles must be purchased from the Director, who endeavours to obtain them of the best quality procurable, consistent with cheapness. No article will, however, be issued by the Store-keeper, except (a) on order of the Director, or (b) on cash payment.

Copies of the Forest Acts and Forest Code, as also surveying instruments and herbarium presses, are issued on loan, and students using them will be responsible for their safe custody and return.

26. Leave.—During the course of instruction, no student may leave Dehra without the written order of the Director; nor may students, while in camp, leave the camp head-quarters without the written order of the Deputy Director or the Instructor in charge. Subsidiary rules regarding leave will be made by the Director from time to time.

27. Holidays.—During the rains term Saturday will usually be observed as a holiday or devoted to excursions. In camp it will ordinarily be a half-holiday. Such of the usual gazetted holidays as are allowed will be notified as such from time to time.

28. Punishments.—Students are liable to the following punishments:—

(1) Reprimand by the teacher in class.
(2) Reprimand by the Director or the Deputy Director at any time.
(3) Reprimand before a meeting, convened by the Director, of not less than three School officers, one of whom must be either the Director or the Deputy Director. The proceedings of the meeting will be reported to the Conservator or the Native State deputing the student, or to his parents or guardians if he is a private student; and, if the meeting so decides, a note of them will be made on his final certificate.
(4) The Director, acting with the consensus of the meeting referred to under (3), has power to inflict, in addition, a fine to the extent of one-third of the salary or allowances of the student for a period not exceeding three months.
(5) The Director, acting with the consensus of a full meeting of the School officers presided over by himself, has power to dismiss any student for misconduct; and a student thus dismissed cannot be re-admitted to the School. The Director may remand any student who, in his opinion, is not sufficiently promising.

29. Monthly Reports.—A progress report on the work of each student will be issued monthly by the Director. It will record the number of marks obtained by the student at the last monthly examination, his application to his studies, and his conduct generally. It will be sent, for Government students or private students in receipt of stipends, to the Conservator of the Circle from which the student is deputed; for Native State students, to such person as the Durbar may direct; and for ordinary private students, to the parent or guardian concerned.

30. Library.—The books in the School Library are available for the use of students under such rules as the Director may make from time to time. Books of reference must be consulted in the library itself, and no books may be taken away except after application to the librarian and entry in a register.

31. Museum.—The Museum and Herbarium are also available for the use of students; but the objects in the Museum may not be handled or removed without the express permission of the Director or the Deputy Director. Permission to consult the Herbarium may be obtained from the Director or the Deputy Director, but the plants must be kept in their order as arranged, and no sheets removed or altered without permission.

32. Athletic Sports.—The gymnasium and the tennis courts will be available for the use of students during all recreation hours on week-days. Cricket and football may be played on the old parade ground. Students are recommended to join the School Athletic Club, the subscription to which is Rs. 4 yearly, and half-rates for those who do not play all the games.

Forms of Agreement and Bond to be executed by students already in the service of, or in receipt of stipends from, Government, previous to entry into the Forest School, Dehra Dun.

				Srs.	c.
Cuttack	...	...	...	23	10	per rupee.
Jajpur	...	...	...	28	12
Kendrapara	...	...	...	31	8
Banki	...	...	...	31	8

Hazaribagh.—Rainfall nil. Weather seasonable. Prospects of rice crop are not as good as expected. Rabi prospects good. Fodder and water sufficient. Common rice selling at 12 to 14 seers per rupee.

General Summary.—With the exception of a light shower in Purnea, there was practically no rain in any of the reporting districts during the week. The prospects of the winter rice crop have suffered in many parts of the Province owing to the early cessation of the rains, and the general outturn is not expected to be so good as originally anticipated. The sowing of the spring crops is generally going on, but more rain is needed in parts of Bihar. Sugarcane is doing well. No cattle-disease is reported, except from parts of Bhagalpur and Purnea. The price of common rice generally continues steady, but shows a decided tendency to rise in several districts.

Abstract of the results of Meteorological Observations taken at the Alipore Observatory in the month of October 1895.

	Inches.	Date.	Hour.
The mean pressure of the month	29·848
The average pressure of October from 24 years' registers ...	29·832
The highest pressure in the month	30 017	27th	10
The lowest pressure in the month	29·474	1st	16
The range of pressure	0·543
	Hours.
The total number of hours of bright sunshine during the month	221·7
The maximum possible number of hours of sunshine ...	359·1
The mean temperature of the month	79·3
The average temperature of October from 24 years' registers ...	81·5
The highest temperature in the month	91·3	6th
The lowest temperature in the month	67·6	8th
The range of temperature during the month	23·7
The mean daily range of temperature	12·6
The greatest range of temperature in one day	20·2	8th
	Per cent.
The mean humidity of the month	81
The average humidity of October from 24 years' registers ...	79
	Inches.
The mean vapour tension of the month	0·801
The average vapour tension of October from 9 years' registers...	0·854
The mean cloud proportion of the month	3·59
The average cloud proportion of October from 18 years' registers	4·01
	Inches.
The total rainfall of the month	2·79
The total rainfall indicated by a Beckley's self-registering rain-gauge (mouth of the gauge about 52 feet above the ground)	2·60
The average fall of October from 48 years' registers	5·61
The greatest fall in 24 hours	1·44	2nd
	Days.
The number of rainy days in the month	7
The average number of rainy days in October from 24 years' registers	10
The mean maximum equilibrium temperature of solar radiation during the month	⊖ 138·7
The mean difference of sun and air temperatures	52·8
The greatest sun temperature	150·7	10th
The greatest excess of sun over air temperature	63·7	10th
The mean temperature of the nocturnal radiation thermometer on woollen cloth	68·5
The mean depression of the nocturnal radiation thermometer below the minimum air temperature at 4 feet above the ground	4·8
The greatest depression of the nocturnal radiation thermometer below the minimum air temperature	7·2	18th Miles.
The mean movement of the wind per day	66·0
The greatest movement of the wind in one day	378·0	2nd
The greatest movement of the wind in one hour	22·0	1st, 10 to 11 p.m.

The number of hours with winds from each of the 8 points—

The results of observations at the Alipore Observatory are not rigorously comparable with the registers of past years (at the Park Street Observatory). The barometer is about 3 feet higher at Alipore, and, other things being equal, reads therefore ·003 lower. The diurnal range of temperature is also greater at Alipore, and the mean temperature apparently about ⊖0·8 lower; and, finally, the thermometer which furnished the record of temperature at the Surveyor-General's Office during 20 years and upwards is found to read 0·6 higher than the Kew standard thermometer, which is the standard of reference at the present Observatory.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL, AND OF THE METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN ASSAM, FOR THE MONTH OF OCTOBER 1895.

WEATHER during October, as throughout the monsoon season, has been distinguished by a comparative absence of rainfall. This deficient rainfall has been more marked in the northern half of the province, Bihar having received on an average only 16, and North Bengal 30 per cent. of the normal. In the other divisions the average fall has been between 80 and 90 per cent., except in East Bengal, where there has been a small excess of 7 per cent. Almost all the rain received in East Bengal fell during the first three days, when a severe cyclonic storm caused heavy rain.

Only two periods of rainy weather occurred during the month—the first at the beginning, when the storm just referred to passed from the north-west of the Bay across the Sunderbuns into East Bengal, and the second towards the end of the month, when a cyclonic storm in the south-west of the Bay caused a current of moist air to move northwards along the west coast. As the moist current advanced, heavy rain fell at all stations on the west coast, and cloudy rainy weather prevailed in Orissa, Chota Nagpur, and South-West Bengal for some days. The rainfall in these parts appears to have been maintained by a very shallow depression, which moved from the south of Burma over the north of the Bay and into Lower Bengal, arriving there about the same time as the moist current which had moved up the west of the Bay. The continuance of the rainfall in the south-western districts of the province of Bengal is difficult to account for, except on this supposition, because it was of daily occurrence for some time after all trace of the disturbance in the south-west of the Bay had disappeared.

Soon after the cyclonic storm in the early days of the month had disappeared, conditions became favourable for the withdrawal of the monsoon current from the north of the Bay. The large diffused low-pressure area characteristic of the change of seasons formed over the south of the Bay, and a moderate gradient developed from north to south. Following this rainfall became general on the Madras coast, and continued with but little interruption till near the end of the month.

At the same time fine settled weather prevailed in Bengal and over the north of the Bay, with comparatively low temperatures, especially at night, and an almost entire absence of rainfall. The two tables below show that the rainfall of the month occurred during the first few days and the last few days. They have already been published in the weekly reports, and are arranged as below for comparison.

Table showing in inches the average rainfall in the large divisions of the province as reported for the weeks ending 5th October and 2nd November :—

Chota Nagpur ...	Nil.	0·25	Nil.	0·25

It will be seen from these tables that on neither of the two occasions of rainy weather did much rain fall in Bihar, and that on the latter occasion very little fell in North Bengal. On the other hand, the only amount of any importance shown in the second table was 0·6 inch in Orissa for the week ending 26th October. This was due to the moist current mentioned above having before the 26th caused moderately heavy rain in Orissa.

The north-east monsoon conditions were established over the province and the Bay about the 7th, and the fine weather which followed was accompanied by temperatures considerably lower than those which generally occur at that season of the year. There was, however, a rather important exception in the case of Chota Nagpur and Bihar, where mean temperature was frequently above the normal.

The higher temperatures in the western districts occurred during the day as shown in the following table, which gives the variation from the normal in mean maximum and minimum temperatures at representative stations :—

Station.	Variation in mean maximum temperature.	Variation in mean minimum temperature.
Cuttack	—·7°	—0·3°
Arrah	+1·4	—2·1
Hazaribagh	+0·7	—0·8
Rangpur	−1·7	—1·9
Comilla	—2·2	—3·0
Silchar	—1·6	—3·6

The area over which the days were warmer than the normal coincides with the area where westerly winds prevailed. In the west of Bihar the general direction was south-westerly, in Chota Nagpur westerly, and in Orissa north-westerly. In the centre and east of the province the prevailing direction was north-easterly, but at times when the pressure distribution was more than usually uniform, there were only light variable airs.

The higher day temperatures as compared with those prevailing at night may be accounted for by the greater absence of cloud than is usually the case in October. The clear skies gave a more free exposure to direct rays of the sun, and permitted a more rapid radiation of heat at night.

The disturbance in the early part of the month has already been referred to in the report for the month of September. At the end of that month there was a well-defined depression in the west of the Bay, which at first appeared to be moving in a westerly direction towards the Madras Coast. But as not unfrequently happens at the end of the monsoon season, the centre of the depression followed a curved path tending towards the east. On the 30th of September pressure changes were small at all the coast stations except in the south of Burma, where there was a rapid rise.

Winds from being north-easterly in the Circars had become north-west, and the centre of the disturbance appeared likely to cross the coast somewhere between False Point and Vizagapatam. There was still no indication of the depth of the depression, as pressure readings were within ·04 inch of the normal all round the coast except in the south of Burma, where there was excess of about ·1 inch. On the 1st of October the centre was a little to the south-east of False Point, and it then appeared to be following a line curving to the east. As the depression approached the coast line, pressure fell rapidly—first at Gopalpur and False Point, and then over the whole of the north-west angle of the Bay and in Lower Bengal and Orissa. The rate of motion was much higher than usual, as the centre, from being to the south-east of False Point at 8 A.M. on the 1st, was near Saugor Island about 8 P.M. and Narayanganj on the following morning. The disturbance evidently developed after entering the north-west angle of the Bay, and also during the night of the 1st while passing over Lower Bengal. The fall of pressure at Narayanganj on the morning of the 2nd was more than half an inch, and the changes were large not only in South-West and East Bengal, but also in the north-east angle of the Bay as far south as Akyab.

Stormy weather accompanied the depression in its course over the Bay ; and as the centre passed over the Sandheads, and very close to Saugor Island, the strength of the storm can readily be compared with what it was in East Bengal and the north-east angle of the Bay on the following morning. It may have been partly due to the curved path taken by the storm centre that the winds attained to the strength they had at the mouth of the Megna and inland as far as Narayanganj, but the depression appears also to have deepened, as the lowest pressure on the 1st was 29·443 inches at False Point, and at Narayanganj on the 2nd 29·264, while over an area extending from Mymensingh to Chittagong and from Jessore to Comilla the depth was as great as at False Point on the previous day.

As the depression was moving very rapidly to the east, it soon reached the hilly ground beyond East Bengal, and soon disappeared. On the morning of the 3rd the only trace of its existence was a rather rapid fall of pressure at Sibsagar and in Bihar, and a large defect over the whole of the province. The rise of pressure which followed the disturbance continued steadily till the end of the week, and by that time readings were everywhere above the normal.

The reading of the barometer reported from Barisal on the morning of the 2nd was so much lower than those of any of the other stations that it could not be accepted till enquiry had been made as to whether the observer who was officiating for a short time, had taken the reading with due care. In answer to the enquiry he stated that he had noticed the unusual depression of the barometer; that not only had he verified it several times himself, but that he had sent for the permanent observer, who vouched for its accuracy. The reading was 28·869 inches, and the fall from 8 A.M. of the previous day ·924 inch. Instead, therefore, of passing over Narayanganj, as appeared to be the case, the storm centre must have been at no great distance from Barisal. As the centre could not have been far from Saugor Island, as it passed to the west of the light-ships at the mouth of the Hooghly, the depth of the depression and the strength of the storm must have increased very greatly after crossing the coast. It is unfortunate that no record has been made of the strength of the wind at Barisal: the observer was unable to reach the anemometer.

The depth of the depression, as reported from Barisal, was confirmed by a report received from Comilla, that the lowest reading of the barometer taken there during the forenoon of the 2nd was below 29 inches.

During the passage of the depression across Lower Bengal heavy rain fell; but as it moved quickly, and, as always happens when a storm goes eastward, the weather moderated very rapidly, the quantity of rain was small compared with the intensity of the storm. It was only in East Bengal, where general heavy rain fell. On the 2nd falls varied from 1 to 7 inches over the whole of East Bengal, and heavy falls were recorded in Tippera on the 3rd, the heaviest being 4 at Comilla and 6 inches at Agartala. Rainfall had almost entirely ceased in the western districts on the 3rd, and very little fell anywhere after the 3rd.

Pressure rose steadily for some days after the 3rd; and as it soon began to fall in the south of the Bay, readings became highest in the north-east of the province, and the north-east monsoon distribution was established. From about the 7th, therefore, till towards the end of the month, fine settled weather prevailed over Bengal and the north of the Bay, and rainfall set in on the Madras Coast. The changes during that period were of but slight importance with the exception of those in temperature, and they have been already referred to.

The second disturbance of the month was of very short duration. It may have developed quickly or over an area too far south to affect weather at any of the observatories on the Madras Coast.

Heavy rain began on the 22nd as far north as Madras, and continued on the 23rd, Cuddalore reporting nearly 8 inches on that day. Squally weather began on the 24th, but was not felt to the south of Madras, the severity of the storm being chiefly confined to the part of the coast between Nellore and Cocanada. Within little more than twenty-four hours after the squally weather began at Madras, the depression crossed the coast between Masulipatam and Nellore. On the morning of the 25th the centre appeared to be about due east of Madras and to be moving in a north-westerly direction. On that day heavy rain was reported from Nellore, and a moderate fall had occurred as far north as Masulipatam. On the 26th the centre was well inland, and weather was rapidly moderating. The heavy rainfall on the 26th was between Masulipatam and Gopalpur, and lighter amounts were reported from Puri and Cuttack.

There was a considerable increase in the strength of the wind in the north-west angle of the Bay and in South-West Bengal, but that was of little importance as compared with the heavy rain, which gradually advanced northwards and ultimately became fairly general in Orissa, Chota Nagpur, and South-West Bengal.

The continuance of the cloudy rainy weather in the north of the Bay, Orissa, and Lower Bengal for quite a number of days after all trace of the disturbance from the south-west of the Bay had disappeared may be accounted for by a shallow depression which passed across the north of the Bay from the Burmah coast and into Bengal. While on the 27th pressure was rising slowly to moderately on the west coast and in Bengal, a slow fall prevailed in Burmah and the east of the Bay. This change extended northu-westward on the 28th, and there was a brisk fall over the greater part of Lower Bengal. At that time the pressure distribution was very nearly normal, but there was a faint cyclonic circulation of winds in the central and western districts, and heavy rain fell as far north as Raniganj. Pressure continued to fall on the 29th, slowly everywhere, but rather more quickly in Burmah than in the north of the Bay. Gradients became more regular from north to south, and the cloud began to clear away in Lower Bengal. Rainfall was much less general, and with the brisk rise of pressure on the 30th it entirely stopped, except in Orissa, where scattered showers fell almost till the end of the month.

Pressure for the month is very nearly normal, differences varying from defect of ·01 inch in the west of Bihar and part of East Bengal to excess of ·014 inch in South-West Bengal. Except when the depression was crossing the Sunderbuns and East Bengal on the 1st and 2nd, changes were never large, nor did readings differ much from the normal. The large changes during the existence of the storm have been already referred to, the fall on the approach of the centre being very little short of an inch. The small defect in pressure for the whole month in East Bengal is due to the very low readings reported on the 2nd by all stations in that part of the province.

Temperature.—During the two periods of disturbed weather at the beginning and end of the month, the cloudy weather caused a large fall in day temperatures. At other times maximum readings were usually above the normal. The nights were cooler than usual at the time of the year almost without interruption. As stated above, mean maximum temperature for the whole month is below the normal except in Chota Nagpur and the west of Bihar, and mean minimum temperature is below the normal everywhere. Mean daily temperature is below the normal in the large divisions by amounts varying from a third of a degree in Chota Nagpur to 2°·3 in Assam.

Rainfall.—Very little rain fell except during the first three days, and from the 26th to the end of the month. Owing to the heavy falls which then occurred in the southern districts, the mean difference from the normal is not large, but, as on the second occasion, very little fell in North Bengal and on neither occasion in Bihar. The falls in both these districts are much below the normal. The total fall in Bihar is only ·55 inch as compared with a normal fall of 3·44 inches; in North Bengal 1·32 as compared with 4·42 inches. Defect in Orissa is ·68, in South-West Bengal ·64, and in Chota Nagpur ·37 inch, while in East Bengal there is excess of ·36 inch.

Many of the Bihar stations have received not more than ·3 inch, and with the exception of a few stations in the Darjeeling hills, the falls are rarely more than 1 inch over the whole of the north of the province. Over a belt of country running east and west across the central districts from Chota Nagpur to East Bengal, the falls are between 1 and 3 inches. Further south they vary between 3 and 5 inches except in the southern half of East Bengal and on the Orissa coast, where the falls are between 5 and 10 inches.

Falls are in excess of the normal in the southern half of East Bengal, and over Orissa and the adjacent part of Chota Nagpur, excess ranging up to 2 inches in Orissa and to 5 inches in East Bengal. Over the rest of the province falls are deficient by amounts increasing towards the north, the greatest being a little over 4 inches in parts of the Dinajpur, Rangpur, Bogra, Mymensingh, Bhagalpur, and Saran districts. Over the whole of the northern half of the province defect varies from 2 to 4 inches.

The following table gives a comparison between the actual monthly and total rainfall and the normal rainfall of the province up to the end of October in the same form as has been employed in the previous monthly abstracts of the present year. The figures represent the ratio of the rainfall of each month of the present year to the normal rainfall expressed as a percentage. The table thus gives a condensed summary of the rainfall data of the year for each meteorological division. The first ten columns give the percentage amount of rainfall received in each month, and the last column the percentage rainfall of the whole period from the 1st of January to the end of October:—

The following table gives full data for the comparison of the actual and normal rainfall of the month of October in all districts of the province. The figures are obtained in the manner explained in previous monthly summaries. The first column gives the average district rainfall as determined from the rainfall observations of the past 15 years; the second column gives the actual district rainfall as determined from the actual weighted rainfall of the month at the reporting stations in the district; the third column expresses the ratio of the actual district rainfall to the normal as a percentage, and the fourth the same information in a slightly different form :—

Explanation.—... indicates that no rain has fallen. If the return for any day has not been received, the corresponding space is left blank. If any of the returns are omitting, the corresponding spaces in the total rainfall columns are left blank. With reference to the column of rainy days, the definition of a rainy day is when at least 0·1 inch of rain has fallen

CALCUTTA, the 12th November 1895.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL, FOR THE WEEK ENDING, 8 A.M., SATURDAY THE 9TH OF NOVEMBER 1895.

FINE settled weather has prevailed over the province throughout the week, and also in the west of the Bay, but in the east conditions have been less settled. A large diffused low pressure area has been lying over the Bay, and though pressure-changes at the coast stations have not been of much importance, strong winds sprang up at Diamond Island and continued for some days. Judging by the strength of the wind in that part of the Bay and the very rough sea, a depression of limited extent appears to have formed not far from Diamond Island, within the large diffused low pressure area shown by the coast observations. From some unknown cause it disappeared before its effects were felt on any other part of the coast, and whether it ever existed or not is purely hypothetical.

Pressure has been considerably higher than usual in the south of the Bay throughout the week, and over Bengal there has generally been a small excess. Changes were upwards in the early part of the week, at times with moderate rapidity, but excess was seldom more than ·1 inch. Towards the end, when the depression in the neighbourhood of Diamond Island became diffused, the barometer fell slowly everywhere. Besides the strong winds and the rough sea, a good deal of rain appears to have fallen in the part of the Bay where the squally weather developed. The only heavy fall, however, reported was about 2 inches at Tavoy.

The most important change has been the increase of temperature. For some weeks past mean daily temperature has been steadily below the normal, and on the first day of this week there was still considerable defect in all districts and over the north of the Bay. On the 4th it was rising rather quickly, the change appearing to come from the north of the Province, as on this day there was excess in North Bengal, Bihar and Assam, varying up to nearly 4° at Jalpaiguri, while in the southern districts there was still a moderate defect. On the 5th the area of relatively high temperature had extended over the whole province and the north of the Bay. At the same time there had been a considerable fall in Burma and Madras, and readings became low over the south of the Bay. The excess, which became general on the 5th, gradually increased towards the end of the week, when it was as much as 5° in parts of Lower Bengal and Bihar.

Though only a few scattered showers have fallen, weather was very cloudy in the north of the Bay and in Lower Bengal on the 8th and 9th. This was due to the small storm which had developed in the east of the Bay having diffused over a wide area. The slightly unsettled weather consequent on this change was of only short duration, and by the end of the week conditions were settled over the whole area.

Pressure fell on the first day of the week. It then rose till towards the end, when it fell every where except in Orissa. Mean pressure for the week is above the normal at all stations, but by only small amounts ranging up to ·03 inch in North Bengal.

Temperature.—From being 2° to 3° below the normal mean, temperature has increased to 5° above the normal in places. As there has been excess throughout the week, except near the beginning, means for the week are all in excess, the difference varying from 0°·7 in East Bengal to 2°·2 in Bihar.

Rainfall.—Only a few light scattered showers, chiefly in East and North Bengal, have been reported. East Bengal on an average has received nearly a tenth of an inch, and the other districts ·02 inch or less.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from Observations made at 6h., 10h., 16h. and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

The following are the conditions of sale:—

1.—The opium will be sold for exporation by sea only, and no certificate will be granted except to cover such export.

2.—The opium will be ordinarily offered for sale at an upset price of Rs. 800 per chest, and sold to the highest bidder above that price, except under the circumstances for which provision is made by clause 13 of these conditions of sale. The bids must advance by Rs. 5 at a time.

3.—The sale shall commence at the hour of 11 A.M. of the day fixed by previous notification, and shall not be continued after the hour of 5 P.M.; but if at that hour any of the lots advertised for sale shall remain unsold, the sale may, at the discretion of the Board of Revenue, be resumed on the next day following (not being Sunday or a public holiday), at the hour of 11 A.M., and so on until the whole of the remaining lots are disposed of; or, if the whole quantity advertised shall not be sold on the day appointed, the Board of Revenue may dispose of the lots which remain on hand at a future sale.

4.—Each lot shall contain five chests.

5.—A Promissory Note for a sum, calculated according to the scale, noted in the margin, shall be taken as a deposit on each lot from the purchaser in the sale-room and before the lot is registered in the sale-book, and all such Promissory Notes shall be redeemed on the part of the purchasers at this Office by Bank of Bengal receipts or by substitution of other public securities of the Government of India, on or before 3-30 P.M., in the afternoon of the fifth day after the sale, provided it does not fall on a Saturday; if it falls on a Saturday, the said notes must be redeemed by 1-30 P.M., or, on the other hand, failing such redemption by the time aforesaid, then the lot or lots for which no Bank of Bengal receipts or deposit of other public securities as aforesaid shall have been delivered in, shall be re-sold at such time or times and under such conditions of re-sale as the Board of Revenue shall see fit; and all losses and expenses whatsoever attending such re-sale shall be borne and paid by the defaulters, whilst any profit accruing from such re-sale shall be forfeited to Government.

DEPOSIT.

When the amount bid is less than Rs. 1,200 per chest, Rs. 200 per chest.

On bids of Rs. 1,200 and upwards, but less than Rs. 1,600 per chest, Rs. 300 per chest.

On bids of Rs. 1,600 and upwards, but less than Rs. 2,000 per chest, Rs. 400 per chest.

And so on, Rs. 100 being added to the deposit for every bid additional, to the extent of Rs. 400.

6.—The said Promissory Notes shall be absolutely payable in any event, and the amount thereof shall be absolutely forfeited upon such default as before mentioned, and the amount thereof shall not go or be credited in reduction of any loss on re-sale or expenses thereby incurred, but shall be recoverable whether such re-sale shall be had or not, or whether there shall be a loss on such re-sale or not.

7.—The Promissory Notes taken on the day of sale under the fifth condition, if remaining unredeemed at 3-30 P.M. of the fifth day following the day of sale, or 1-30 P.M., if the last day falls on a Saturday, will be placed in the hands of the Solicitor to the Government for realization in such manner as to him shall seem fit.

8.—No tender of money, Bank of Bengal Receipts, or public securities, on account of opium upon which the prescribed deposit may not have been made before the prescribed time in clause 5 on the fifth day following the day of sale will be afterwards accepted. Provided always that money so subsequently tendered may be taken in payment of the said Promissory Note, but such acceptance of money shall in no way entitle the payer thereof to any right to delivery of the lot or lots in respect whereof the said note was given, or to any of the rights of a purchaser thereof, or release the payer from liability for any unpaid balance of such notes or from the additional liability for the loss and expenses of such re-sale as provided for in clauses No. 5 and No. 6.

9.—The opium advertised for sale shall be paid for not later than by 3-30 P.M. of the fifteenth day from the day of sale, provided it does not fall on a Saturday; if it falls on a Saturday, the opium must be paid for by 1-30 P.M.; and in case any lots of such opium shall not be so paid for and adjusted, then the cash deposit made under the fifth condition, or any public securities that may have been deposited on account of such lots or chests, shall be forfeited, and the opium shall be disposed of on account of Government at such time and in such manner as the Board of Revenue shall think fit; and the first purchaser shall further be required to make good all expenses and any loss or difference of price between that obtained at the re-sale and the amount at which the opium was first purchased, forfeiting all advantages that may arise from such re-sale, and the liability for the loss or difference of price and expenses shall be in addition to, and wholly independent of, the amount of the deposit so forfeited.

10.—Purchasers taking out certificates or orders for the delivery of opium, after making full payment as above prescribed, shall have the option of naming the number of lots of their purchase, which they may desire to be included in each certificate or order; and it is to be clearly understood that the certificates or orders so taken out shall be considered final, and not afterwards changeable for other certificates or orders authorizing the delivery of single lots, or of a different number of lots or chests, whether more or less, than the number of lots or chests originally required to be included in each certificate or order.

12.—The officer superintending the sale on the part of the Government is empowered to reject, at his discretion, the bid of any individual, unless such individual shall on demand render at the time a deposit either in Government of India Notes, Bank of Bengal Receipts, or Government Securities, a sum equal to the amount for which a promissory Note would otherwise be taken under the fifth of these conditions.

13.—With a view to prevent fictitious biddings designed to obstruct the sale, it is hereby notified that the officer of Government superintending the sale shall be competent, at any time during the sale, to withdraw any unsold lot, and immediately to put it up again for sale at a maximum upset price, diminishing the same gradually by Rs. 5 at a time until a bid is obtained; and the first bonâ fide bidder for a lot after it has been offered for sale in the mode here described shall be held and declared to be the purchaser of the said lot, and the officer of Government Superintending the sale shall also be competent to dispose, in the same manner, of as many of the subsequent lots as he may think proper, provided always that no lot shall be sold below the minimum price of Rs. 800 specified in the second of these conditions.

14.—The purchaser of any lot shall have the option of naming and purchasing in immediate succession, at the same price and under the same conditions, any number of lots of the same Agency opium not exceeding altogether twenty-five lots, provided always that there remain a sufficient number of lots of the opium to complete the said twenty-five.

15.—In the event of any dispute or difference touching or concerning any matter or question arising out of the sale of the opium included in this notification, or adjustment of the account thereof, the same shall and may be tried and decided in the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal.

16.—The following papers will be exhibited for inspection on the day of sale, or may be seen previously to that date by personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue:—No. 1, certificate of the opium advertised for sale; No. 2, report of the examination of such opium.

17.—The public are hereby informed that in providing the investment of the opium manufactured at the Patna Factory and the opium manufactured at the Ghazipur Factory for the year 1894-95, the same precautions have been taken as those which have been observed during past years to have the drug procured and sent down in a pure state, to have only the prescribed quantity of leaves used in forming the cakes, and to have the due proportion of opium put into each cake. An account of the weight of the drug when packed at the Patna and Ghazipur Factories, and a statement of the average weight of the chests, indiscriminately taken, for the purpose of comparison, from the despatches on arrival at Calcutta, may be seen on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue.

18.—Any further information respecting weight or quality of the opium advertised for sale, that may be desired by parties connected with the trade, will, as heretofore, be furnished to them on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue. But, in accordance with established usage, under no circumstances will the Board of Revenue entertain or recognize any claim to compensation for loss from any alleged deficiency of weight, abstraction of opium, or adulteration of the drug, which may be preferred on reference to chests after the sale and delivery of the opium for shipment.

By order of the Board of Revenue, L. P.,

E. H. WALSH,
Offg. Secretary.

Advertisement of Sale.

NOTICE is hereby given that the proprietary right of Government, as specified in the conditions of sale below, to the undermentioned estates situate in the district of Monghyr, will be put up to sale at the Monghyr Collectorate on Monday, the 6th January 1896, corresponding with the 6th Magh 1303, Fasli.

The purchasers will be subject to the following conditions of sale:—

Conditions of Sale.

1st.—The estate to be sold to the highest bidder above the upset price which will be fixed by the Collector at the time of sale. The purchaser of this estate will be considered as the proprietor of the estate, and the entire proprietary right of Government in such estate will be transferred to him, subject to the revenue fixed in perpetuity.

2nd.—The sale to be subject to existing leases and to the rights conferred by the settlement proceedings, and by the laws in force, and purchasers to be bound to respect the rights of resident cultivators who have signed the schedule of assessment prepared by the revenue authorities.

3rd.—If the amount of purchase-money do not exceed Rs. 100, the whole amount to be paid down at once.

4th.—If the amount of purchase-money exceeds Rs. 100, one-fourth of the amount bid to be immediately deposited. If the balance be not paid by noon of the fifteenth day after the sale, reckoning the day of sale as one, or, if that day be a close holiday, then by noon of the first succeeding office day, the sale is to be cancelled, the sum deposited being forfeited to Government, and the estate to be again put up to sale at the risk of the defaulting purchaser after issue of advertisement, as in the case of original sale.

Advertisement of Sale.

NOTICE is hereby given that the proprietary right of Government, as specified in the conditions of sale below, to the undermentioned estates situate in the district of Hooghly, will be put up to sale at the Hooghly Collectorate on the 19th December 1895, corresponding with 5th Pous 1302 (B.S.).

The purchasers will be subject to the following conditions of sale:—

Conditions of Sale.

1*st.*—The estate to be sold to the highest bidder above the upset price which will be fixed by the Collector at the time of sale. The purchaser of this estate will be considered as the proprietor of the estate and the entire proprietary right of Government in such estate will be transferred to him subject to the revenue fixed in perpetuity.

2*nd.*—The sale to be subject to existing leases and to the rights conferred by the settlement proceedings, and by the laws in force, and purchasers to be bound to respect the rights of resident cultivators who have signed the schedule of assessment prepared by the revenue authorities.

3*rd.*—If the amount of purchase-money do not exceed Rs. 100, the whole amount to be paid down at once.

4*th.*—If the amount of purchase-money exceed Rs. 100, one-fourth of the amount bid to be immediately deposited. If the balance be not paid by the noon of the 15th day after the sale, reckoning the day of sale as one, or, if that day be a close holiday, then by noon of the first succeeding office day, the sale is to be cancelled (the sum deposited being forfeited to Government), and the estate to be again put up to sale at the risk of the defaulting purchaser after issue of advertisement, as in the case of original sale:—

The Indian Law Reports.

Published under Authority.

THE Indian Law Reports, published under the authority of the Governor-General in Council, appear in monthly parts, published as soon as possible after the first of each month at Calcutta, Madras, Bombay, and Allahabad, and comprise four series—one for the Calcutta High Court, a second for the Madras High Court, a third for the Bombay High Court, and a fourth for the Allahabad High Court. The cases heard by the Privy Council on appeal from each High Court are reported in the Series for that High Court. Cases heard by the Privy Council on appeal from Provinces in India not subject to any High Court are reported in the Calcutta Series.

The Calcutta Series is distributed by the Bengal Secretariat Book Depôt, and the Madras, Bombay, and Allahabad Series are distributed direct from Madras, Bombay, and Allahabad respectively.

In supersession of the previous advertisements, on and from the 1st January 1889 the terms of subscription and sale will be as follows for current issues as well as for back numbers of the Reports from 1876:—

Remittances to be forwarded to the Accountant and Treasurer, Bengal Secretariat, Writers' Buildings, Calcutta.

All the wanting parts of the INDIAN LAW REPORTS (complete series) having now been reprinted, the complete Reports from 1876 to 1893 may be purchased for all the years, or for any particular year, on application to the Officer in charge of the Bengal Secretariat Book Depot.

The subscription, Rs. 22-8 per annum, should be remitted in advance to the Accountant and Treasurer, Bengal Secretariat.

Notice.

IT is hereby notified, for general information, that subscription to the complete series of the Indian Law Reports should be registered during the first three months of each calendar year. Subscribers are therefore requested to send in their subscriptions of the complete series before the 31st March in each year. Those who register their names after that date will understand that copies will be supplied only if available.

[First Publication.]

INDIA, SOUTH—CEYLON COAST.

Construction of a Screw Pile and its position.

THE Master Attendant, Colombo, has given notice, dated 16th October 1895, that a Screw Pile will shortly be placed at the point of intersection of the lines of the N. E. and N. W. Breakwaters, about to be constructed, for the purpose of setting out the work. When the Pile is placed in position a white light showing all round will be exhibited from the top of it, at an elevation of 30 feet above the sea for the present, but later on a green light showing all round will be substituted for the white light.

The position of the Pile will be as follows—

Red light on end of S. W. Breakwater, bearing S. 33° 30′ W., distant 3,260 feet.

(1) Amended positions of Lumo Lumo and Larian islands.

WITH reference to Notice to Mariners, No. 120, dated 8th July last, issued by this office, the British Admiralty has given further notice (No. 550 of 1895) that the following amended positions are the results of recent examinations by the Netherlands Surveying vessel Banda, namely:—

Lumo Lumo island, lat. 2° 56′ S., long 117° 33½′ E.

Larian island, lat. 3° 4′ S., long. 117° 42½′ E. This is a small sandbank about 10 feet above low water, and probably covers at high water during the north-west monsoon. It is about 50 yards in extent, and forms the highest part of a reef of sand and coral, about 2 miles long and 1½ miles broad with depths of 15 to 3 fathoms and less.

(2) Recently discovered shoals.

Also, with reference to Notice to Mariners, No. 241 of 1895:—

That the undermentioned shoals, lying south-eastward of Balabalagan or Little Paternoster islands, have recently been found and examined—

(a) A patch of sand and coral with a least depth of 7 fathoms over it, about $1\frac{4}{10}$ miles long, N.N.W. and S.S.E., and about three-quarters of a mile broad, lies 8 miles N.E. by E. ½ E. from Larian island, or approximately in lat. 3° 0′ 55″ S., long. 117° 49′ 50″ E.

(b) A patch of sand and coral with a least depth of 6 fathoms over it, about half a mile long E.S.E. and W.N.W. and 1½ cables wide, steep-to around, lies approximately in lat. 2° 54′ 55″ S., long. 117° 48′ 40″ E.

(c) A coral patch of 7 fathoms, 4 cables long, S. by E. and N. by W., three-quarters of a cable wide, on a bank of 10 fathoms, 6½ cables in length in the same direction, and 2¾ cables wide, lies approximately in lat. 2° 51′ 40″ S., long. 118° 14′ 50″ E.

(d) A coral patch with a least depth of 9 fathoms, about half a cable long., S.S.E. and N.N.W., and three-quarters of a cable wide, lies approximately in lat. 2° 53′ 25″ S., long. 118° 15′ 30″ E.

		Srs.	c.
Cuttack	... ...	23	10	per rupee.
Jajpur	... ...	29	14
Kendrapara	... ...	31	8
Banki	... ...	31	8

Hazaribagh.—Rainfall nil. Weather cloudy. Harvesting of paddy commenced in places; prospects are not as good as expected. Rabi prospects good. Poppy sowings in progress. Sugarcane doing well. Fodder and water sufficient. Common rice selling at 12 to 14 seers per rupee.

General Summary.—There was light rain in Dacca and Chittagong during the week, but practically none in the other reporting districts. Except in Northern and parts of Eastern Bengal and in Orissa, the state of the winter rice crop is not satisfactory owing to the early cessation of the rains. The sowing of indigo in Lower Bengal and of the rabi crops in Bengal and Bihar has commenced. In Patna district the first sowings of poppy have failed from the unusual heat, and in Darbhanga the rabi is suffering from a lack of moisture. Sugarcane is doing well, and the pressing has begun in some districts. Cattle-disease is reported from Champaran and Purnea; elsewhere the cattle are in good condition. The price of common rice is generally steady.

* Mean for 6 days.

Explanation.—Summary.—The normal means of air pressure and temperature are the arithmetical average or means of the reading during the same period for the The Humidity of the atmosphere is expressed as percentage, saturated air being represented by 100. A clear sky is denoted by 0 and an overcast sky by 10. The mean at the numerical means o average of the rainfall in that district determined from the returns sent in by the subdivisional stations for the period in question station in the district reading in return divided by the number of stations. A rainy day is one on which at least a tenth of an inch fell.

for the week ending Saturday, the 16th of November 1895.

Explanation.—... indicates that no rain has fallen. If the return for any day has not been received, the corresponding space is left blank. If any of the returns are wanting, the corresponding spaces in the total rainfall columns are left blank. With reference to the column of rainy days, the definition of a rain day is when at least ·10 inch of rain has fallen.

CALCUTTA, the 19th November 1895.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL, FOR THE WEEK ENDING, 8 A.M., SATURDAY THE 16TH OF NOVEMBER 1895.

FINE settled weather has prevailed throughout the week, but with one very marked peculiarity in the unusually high temperature for the season of the year. The pressure arrangement, though not differing much from the normal over the province, has not shown very decidedly the features characteristic of the cold weather. This is due to the rather large pressure excess in the south of the Bay, in consequence of which the winds instead of being northerly have been either irregular or with a tendency to become southerly. In the early part of the week, when in addition to the excess in the south, there was defect in the western districts of Bengal, the wind circulation, though very light, resembled in its general features that which obtains during the south-west monsoon period; that is, directions were south or south-west in Lower Bengal, and easterly in the northern districts. The differences from the normal in pressure at that time varied from excess of ·05 inch in the south of the Bay to defect of ·07 inch in the west of Bihar. The variation in mean temperature ranged from defect of 3° in Arakan and part of East Bengal to excess of 5° in the west of Bihar.

Pressure rose slowly for some days; the defect in temperature at eastern stations almost entirely disappeared and the wind circulation in Bengal remained southerly, but over the Bay winds were northerly though light. In the middle of the week pressure fell slowly, then a brisk rise followed on the 14th, and readings were over 30 inches in the northern and western districts. Though, with the increasing pressure in the north-western districts, northerly winds became more general, temperature remained very high, and on the 14th excess in mean temperature was at many stations over 5°. The brisk rise of pressure continued on the 15th, and readings on that day varied from 30·09 inches in North Bengal to a little under 30 inches in the south-west of the Bay. As this arrangement showed a gentle gradient from north to south over the whole area, the northerly winds which hitherto had been fairly regular over the Bay set in at the inland stations also, but with very little strength. Temperature remained practically unchanged, excess averaging 5° except in East Bengal, where it was about 3°. On the 16th, the last day of the week, the pressure distribution had not changed, but temperature had increased over the western half of the province, where excess was about 6°.

Owing probably to the southerly winds in Lower Bengal, humidity was high in the eastern and northern districts.. The sky was more cloudy in East and North Bengal than is usual in the middle of November, and a few light scattered showers fell chiefly in the Darjeeling hills and in parts of East Bengal. In the western districts the skies were cloudless with an entire absence of rainfall.

Pressure, as stated above, was very nearly normal over the province. At first there was a small defect, but the steady rise resulted in a moderate excess towards the end of the week. Mean pressure is in excess everywhere by small amounts varying up to ·04 inch in East Bengal.

Temperature having been high throughout the week both during the day and the night, there is a large excess in mean temperature in all districts. For the large divisions average excess varies from 2°·2 in East Bengal to 5°·1 in Bihar.

Rainfall.—Showers fell in the Darjeeling hill districts during the greater part of the week and at a few scattered stations in East Bengal. In the other districts no rainfall occurred. The average fall in East Bengal is ·16 inch and in North Bengal 14 inch.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from observations made at 6h., 10h., 16h. and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE AND AGRICULTURE.

INVENTIONS AND DESIGNS.

Dated Calcutta, the 10th October 1895.

NOTIFICATION.

IN exercise of the powers conferred by sections 49 and 63 of the Inventions and Designs Act (V of 1888), the Governor-General in Council is pleased to make the following rules for the preparation of applications and specifications filed under sections 5, 8 and 51 of the Act and of drawings attached thereto :—

1. All words used in these rules and defined in the said Act shall have the meanings thereby assigned to them respectively.

2. Applications and specifications must be neatly and legibly written, printed, or otherwise reproduced upon one side only of stout paper of half foolscap size, that is, of a size of 13 inches in height by 8 inches in width, and the pages numbered consecutively in the right-hand top corner.

3. Drawings must be on either stout paper or tracing cloth, and must be neat and clear. Photographs will be accepted if made or mounted in accordance with the following rules.

4. The left-hand portion of each sheet of drawings, to the width of a half sheet of foolscap, that is, a width of 8 inches, must be left blank, so that when the sheets are opened out, the sheets which lie above them and contain the text of the application or specification will conceal no portion of the drawings.

5. Each sheet of drawings must be—

(a) of a width not greater than that of a sheet of foolscap, that is, a width of 16 inches, except when the size of any single drawing is such that a greater width is required for it;

(b) of the same height as a sheet of foolscap, that is, a height of 13 inches, except when the size of any single drawing is such that notwithstanding increased width a greater height is unavoidably necessary.

6. A clear margin of half an inch must be left round the portion of the sheet which is occupied by drawings.

7. Reference figures and letters must be clear and bold, and the same letters should be used for the same parts in different views or drawings. In complicated drawings, or when there is not room to write the letters in their proper places, the letters should be shown outside the figure and connected with the parts referred to by fine lines.

8. The name of the applicant, and the year in which the application is made or specification filed, should be shown on each sheet of drawings in the right-hand top corner of the blank space left, under rule 4. The sheets, when more than one, should be numbered consecutively, and the number of each should be shown in the right-hand top corner of the sheet.

9. No written description of the invention or design should appear on the sheets of drawings.

10. When a patent has been applied for or obtained in England, a fac-simile of the drawings submitted with the English application may be filed, without reference to the above rules.

11. Notwithstanding its non-compliance with any of the above rules, the Governor-General in Council may in his discretion permit any application or specification to be received and filed without requiring the same to be amended.

HIGH COURT NOTICES.

NOTIFICATION.

THE following rule, amending the rules regarding copies, having been framed by the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal, in the exercise of the power vested in it by section 15 of the Statute 24 and 25 Victoria, Chapter 104, and sanctioned by the Governor-General in Council, is published for general information.

By order of the High Court,
T. W. RICHARDSON, Offg. Registrar.

HIGH COURT,
The 22nd November 1895.

Issued by authority of the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal.

(CIVIL AND CRIMINAL.)

Rule No. , dated the , 1895.

1. Cancel clause (b) of Rule 6 and the note thereto at pages 62, 63 (Criminal) 12 at page 61 (Civil) of the High Court's General Rules and Circular Orders and substitute therefor the following:—

(b) [Rule No. of 1895.]—In regard to applications for copies, if the application be allowed and the copy made, the proper officer shall, before issuing the copy, punch the court-fee stamp required for such copy by the laws* for the time being in force, in the manner directed by paragraph 3 of Circular No. 13 of 1892 of the Board of Revenue reproduced in clause (c) of this Rule. If the application be disallowed, or if, before the copy is made, the applicant intimate that he does not require it, such court-fee stamp may be returned to him, a note of this having been done being made in the Register and signed by the proper officer and the applicant.

* See articles 6, 7, 8 and 9 of Schedule I of the Court Fees Act, VII of 1870.

2. Substitute the following for sub-rule IV of Rule 6 at pages 174 and 175 (Criminal) 4 of Rule 7 at pages 122 and 123 (Civil) ibid:—

4. When a copy of a judgment or decree or any other document is required, the party requiring the same shall deliver to the officer designated by the Judge under Rule 1 an application signed by his vakil or by his authorised agent, or by himself, if acting in person, in Form B, which will be obtainable in loose sheets in the same way and at the same cost as Form A.

4A. Every such application shall be numbered consecutively as received, and it shall be the duty of the officer to whom the requisition is delivered at once if possible, or during the same day, or not later than the following day, to ascertain the amount of court-fee stamps payable for the copy asked for and the number of folios required for its preparation, and at the same time to inform the applicant thereof.

4B. When such information cannot be given at once, the officer shall inform the applicant when he may expect to obtain it. The counterfoil of the application shall be returned to the applicant, and it shall be his duty to attend at the time named.

4C. The amount of court-fee stamps and the number of folios required shall always be noted on the back of the requisition, and the applicant shall be required to put his signature thereto as an acknowledgment of his having received the information.

4D. The applicant shall further be informed that his application will not be considered complete, and that the preparation of the copy will not be commenced until he has supplied in full the court-fee stamps and the number of folios stated to be required.

4E. When he supplies the stamps and folios, the applicant shall present the counterfoil of his application, which has been returned to him, and a memorandum shall be made thereon stating the date and hour when the copy will be ready. A corresponding note shall be made on the body or main portion of the form, which shall then be passed on into the office, together with the stamps and folios, for the preparation of the copy. The applicant shall retain the counterfoil, and it shall be his duty to attend on the date fixed for the purpose of receiving the copy.

3. Cancel the "NOTE" at the foot of the "Form of application for copies" reproduced at page $\frac{127 \text{ (Civil)}}{160 \text{ (Criminal)}}$ ibid and substitute therefor the following:—

NOTE.—This portion of the form must be filled up by the applicant. He will receive it back signed by the proper officer. He shall be informed, as soon as possible, of the amount of court-fee stamps and the number of folios required. If this information cannot be given at once, the applicant should attend at the time named for the purpose of obtaining it. The application will not be considered complete, and the preparation of the copy will not be begun, until the stamps and folios necessary have been supplied in full. When the applicant supplies the stamps and folios he shall present this counterfoil, and the date on which the copy will be ready will be noted on the back. The applicant should keep the counterfoil, and on his presenting it, either personally or by an agent whose name has been endorsed on the back, on the date fixed, the copy (there being no objection) will be given to him.

4. In clause (k) of $\frac{\text{Rule 8}}{\text{Rule 7}}$ at page $\frac{131 \text{ (Civil)}}{164 \text{ (Criminal)}}$ ibid, for "Date of delivery of the requisite stamped sheets," substitute "Date of delivery of the requisite stamps and folios."

Sheriff's Office, the 30th October 1895.

NOTICE is hereby given that the Fifth Criminal Sessions of the year 1895 of the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal, for the Town of Calcutta and Factory of Fort William, and the places subordinate thereto, will be holden at the Court-house, in the Town of Calcutta, on Wednesday, the fourth day of December next, at 11 o'clock in the forenoon, and so on from day to day, until the said Sessions be over. And it is hereby proclaimed that all persons who will prosecute any of the prisoners to be brought up for trial at the said Sessions be present then and there to prosecute.

Calcutta University Notice.

HIS EXCELLENCY the Chancellor has decided to allow the Masters or holders of higher degrees in some Faculty and Bachelors of Arts who graduated before the year 1867, to fill up three vacancies in the Senate by election. One of the candidates for election must be a graduate in Medicine, who is either a Bachelor in Medicine of ten years' standing or holder of a higher degree in Medicine, and the other two must be Masters or holders of higher degrees in some Faculty or holders of the degree of Bachelor of Arts, who took that degree before the year 1867.

The election will take place at the Senate House, College Square, on Wednesday, the 1st January 1896.

Every candidate for election must be nominated by a graduate holding one of the above-named degrees, and no graduate will be allowed to nominate more than one candidate. The written nominations of candidates must reach the office of the Registrar not later than the 9th December.

On and after the 16th December, voting papers containing the names of the candidates nominated will be supplied on application by the Registrar. These papers must be filled up in the presence of the Registrar at the Senate House on the 1st January 1896, between the hours of 10 A.M. and 5 P.M., but graduates who are not able to appear in person before the Registrar may fill up the papers in the presence of a Magistrate, a Judge, Subordinate Judge or a Munsif (excluding village Munsifs), by whom the papers will be countersigned. A person exercising the functions of a Magistrate, Judge, Subordinate Judge or a Munsif is not competent to countersign his own voting paper. All voting papers duly signed and countersigned as aforesaid must reach the Registrar not later than 3 P.M. on Wednesday, the 1st January 1896, after which no voting paper will be accepted. Graduates who are not personally known to the officer in whose presence the voting papers are filled up must bring with them their diplomas, or other satisfactory proof of identity.

W. GRIFFITHS,
Registrar.

SENATE HOUSE:
The 25th November 1895.

Civil Engineering College, Sibpur.

Apprentice Department.

THE date for admission to this Department is 3rd February 1896.

Candidates must be at least 15 and not more than 17 years of age.

They must have passed Standard VII of the Code for European Schools or the University Entrance Examination in English and Mathematics. They must submit their applications accompanied by a certificate of age and a certificate showing that they have passed the requisite standard, so as to reach the Principal not later than the 15th January 1896. No applications will be attended to after this date.

The number to be admitted each year is limited to 60, and applicants will be selected in order of merit.

Every applicant, before admission to the College, will be examined by the College Surgeon as to his physical strength, chest measurement, fitness for manual labour, and eyesight. If this officer's report is unsatisfactory, the applicant will not be admitted.

Before an apprentice is admitted to the College his parent or guardian must sign an agreement in the form shown in Appendix A.

The session begins on the first Monday in February. All apprentices are required to join the College on that date. Any apprentice prevented by sickness from attending on the opening day must produce a certificate to that effect from a Civil or Assistant Surgeon, failing which he will be liable to a fine not exceeding Rs. 10. No apprentice will be admitted or re-admitted to the College after the close of the month of February, except by special order of the Director of Public Instruction. This permission will only be given under exceptional circumstances.

There will be two vacancies on the free list for Christian apprentices in February next and three on the reduced* fee-list.

For natives there will be at least six vacancies, possibly more, on the reduced† fee-list.

* Rs. 5 per mensem.

† Rs. 2 per mensem.

These vacancies will be filled up after the opening of the session by the Board of Visitors from those apprentices who join the College. No guarantee can therefore be given beforehand, but forms to be filled up for the consideration of the Board can be had on application to the Principal.

J. S. SLATER, Principal, Civil Engineering College.

SIBPUR, the 22nd November 1895.

NOTIFICATIONS OF THE BOARD OF REVENUE.

UNDER section 22 (2) of Act I (B.C.) of 1895, the Public Demand Recovery Act, the following rules have been framed by the Board with reference to the requirements of section 287 of the Code of Civil Procedure in regard to sales of property in execution of a certificate, and are published for general information:—

I.—When the officer who effects an attachment under section 269, Act XIV of 1882, believes that the property attached does not exceed twenty rupees in value, he shall inform the debtor, or, in his absence, any present adult member of his family, that it will be sold by public auction at once, without the issue of any proclamation under section 287. In case the decree-holder or the judgment-debtor, or any person on his behalf, objects to the adoption of the course, the attaching officer will convoke a panchayat of not less than three respectable adult male inhabitants of the neighbourhood, of whom ordinarily the headman of the village should be one, and will require them to assess the value of the property. If they determine that it exceeds Rs. 20 in value, he shall deal with it under the rules framed by the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, otherwise he shall forthwith proceed to sell it by auction, after giving such reasonable notice, as the circumstances of the case admit of, to intending purchasers.

II.—At the time of making an application under section 230, Act XIV of 1882, for the attachment of moveable property in the possession of the judgment-debtor, the decree-holder shall pay the costs of issuing the proclamation of sale under section 287 of the Act, unless the value of the property, the attachment of which is applied for, is alleged by him not to exceed Rs. 20 in value. In this case, should the value of the property as determined by the above rule, be found to exceed Rs. 20, the decree-holder shall pay the costs of the proclamation immediately on receipt of notice of attachment.

III.—Sales of moveable property not exceeding Rs. 20 in value shall be held on the spot. Such sales will necessarily be conducted by peons when they are the attaching officers. Sales of moveable property of greater value may be held on the spot or at the Sadar or subdivisional head-quarters, as may seem convenient and conducive to the securing of good prices. For such sales officers of higher rank than peons should always be deputed when the value of the property is estimated to exceed Rs. 50, and proclamation should be issued. When the value is between Rs. 20 and Rs. 50, the Collector or Deputy Collector may by a special order depute a peon, if he considers it desirable to do so.

Sale of moveable property.

IV.—Sales of immoveable property should ordinarily be held at the district or subdivisional head-quarters, according as the villages may be nearer to either, but sales on the spot are desirable when bids or sufficient bids cannot be obtained at head-quarters. It sometimes happens that it is only by holding sales in the villages that the property can be disposed of. When this is the case, nazirs, naib-nazirs or bakshis should be employed; but in rare instances, where the value of the property is very small and the cost of deputing a higher officer would be out of proportion to it, a trustworthy peon may be sent out under the special orders of the Collector or Deputy Collector. For all sales of immoveable property proclamation must be issued.

Sale of immoveable property.

V.—Sales of estates or shares of estates should always be held at the district or subdivisional head-quarters.

Sale of estates or shares of estates.

VI.—In order to ensure a good attendance of bidders and fair bids, it is desirable that regular sale days, whether one or more in the month, should be fixed, and that lists of property to be put up at each sale should be published some days in advance. This arrangement cannot, perhaps, be made ordinarily at subdivisions, where sales are few and far between, but it should be introduced where the sales are sufficiently numerous and regular.

Procedure for ensuring a good attendance of bidders and fair bids.

VII.—In cases in which the decree-holder applies for leave to purchase under section 294 of the Code of Civil Procedure, no order to set off the purchase-money against the amount of the decree shall be made upon the application for leave to purchase. Such order shall be made upon a petition presented after the property has been knocked down to the decree-holder at the auction-sale, and such petition shall be stamped with stamps of the value of the poundage fee due for selling the property, viz.—

2 per cent. on the gross amount realised by the sale of the property, up to Rs. 1,000.

1 per cent. more on all excess of all gross proceeds beyond Rs. 1,000.

VIII.—Upon the hearing of such petition the costs of execution, including the amount of the stamps attached to the petition, shall be ascertained and shall be added to the decree; and in cases in which the amount of the purchase-money exceeds the amount of the decree and of such costs, the decree-holder who has so purchased the property shall pay into Court the sum of 25 per cent. upon the balance of the purchase-money after deducting the amount of the decree and of such costs, and shall pay the balance at the expiration of fifteen days in accordance with section 307 of the Code of Civil Procedure.

M. FINUCANE, Offg. Secretary.

The following are the conditions of sale:—

1.—The opium will be sold for exporation by sea only, and no certificate will be granted except to cover such export.

2.—The opium will be ordinarily offered for sale at an upset price of Rs. 800 per chest, and sold to the highest bidder above that price, except under the circumstances for which provision is made by clause 13 of these conditions of sale. The bids must advance by Rs. 5 at a time.

3.—The sale shall commence at the hour of 11 A.M. of the day fixed by previous notification, and shall not be continued after the hour of 5 P.M.; but if at that hour any of the lots advertised for sale shall remain unsold, the sale may, at the discretion of the Board of Revenue, be resumed on the next day following (not being Sunday or a public holiday), at the hour of 11 A.M., and so on until the whole of the remaining lots are disposed of; or, if the whole quantity advertised shall not be sold on the day appointed, the Board of Revenue may dispose of the lots which remain on hand at a future sale.

4.—Each lot shall contain five chests.

5.—A Promissory Note for a sum, calculated according to the scale, noted in the margin, shall be taken as a deposit on each lot from the purchaser in the sale-room and before the lot is registered in the sale-book, and all such Promissory Notes shall be redeemed on the part of the purchasers at this Office by Bank of Bengal receipts or by substitution of other public securities of the Government of India, on or before 3-30 P.M., in the afternoon of the fifth day after the sale, provided it does not fall on a Saturday; if it falls on a Saturday, the said notes must be redeemed by 1-30 P.M., or, on the other hand, failing such redemption by the time aforesaid, then the lot or lots for which no Bank of Bengal receipts or deposit of other public securities as aforesaid shall have been delivered in, shall be re-sold at such time or times and under such conditions of re-sale as the Board of Revenue shall see fit; and all losses and expenses whatsoever attending such re-sale shall be borne and paid by the defaulters, whilst any profit accruing from such re-sale shall be forfeited to Government.

DEPOSIT.

When the amount bid is less than Rs. 1,200 per chest, Rs. 200 per chest.
On bids of Rs. 1,200 and upwards, but less than Rs. 1,600 per chest, Rs. 300 per chest.
On bids of Rs. 1,600 and upwards, but less than Rs. 2,000 per chest, Rs. 400 per chest.
And so on, Rs. 100 being added to the deposit for every bid additional, to the extent of Rs. 400.

6.—The said Promissory Notes shall be absolutely payable in any event, and the amount thereof shall be absolutely forfeited upon such default as before mentioned, and the amount thereof shall not go or be credited in reduction of any loss on re-sale or expenses thereby incurred, but shall be recoverable whether such re-sale shall be had or not, or whether there shall be a loss on such re-sale or not.

7.—The Promissory Notes taken on the day of sale under the fifth condition, if remaining unredeemed at 3-30 P.M. of the fifth day following the day of sale, or 1-30 P.M., if the last day falls on a Saturday, will be placed in the hands of the Solicitor to the Government for realization in such manner as to him shall seem fit.

8.—No tender of money, Bank of Bengal Receipts, or public securities, on account of opium upon which the prescribed deposit may not have been made before the prescribed time in clause 5 on the fifth day following the day of sale will be afterwards accepted. Provided always that money so subsequently tendered may be taken in payment of the said Promissory Note, but such acceptance of money shall in no way entitle the payer thereof to any right to delivery of the lot or lots in respect whereof the said note was given, or to any of the rights of a purchaser thereof, or release the payer from liability for any unpaid balance of such notes or from the additional liability for the loss and expenses of such re-sale as provided for in clauses No. 5 and No. 6.

9.—The opium advertised for sale shall be paid for not later than by 3-30 P.M. of the fifteenth day from the day of sale, provided it does not fall on a Saturday; if it falls on a Saturday, the opium must be paid for by 1-30 P.M.; and in case any lots of such opium shall not be so paid for and adjusted, then the cash deposit made under the fifth condition, or any public securities that may have been deposited on account of such lots or chests, shall be forfeited, and the opium shall be disposed of on account of Government at such time and in such manner as the Board of Revenue shall think fit; and the first purchaser shall further be required to make good all expenses and any loss or difference of price between that obtained at the re-sale and the amount at which the opium was first purchased, forfeiting all advantages that may arise from such re-sale, and the liability for the loss or difference of price and expenses shall be in addition to, and wholly independent of, the amount of the deposit so forfeited.

10.—Purchasers taking out certificates or orders for the delivery of opium, after making full payment as above prescribed, shall have the option of naming the number of lots of their purchase, which they may desire to be included in each certificate or order; and it is to be clearly understood that the certificates or orders so taken out shall be considered final, and not afterwards changeable for other certificates or orders authorizing the delivery of single lots, or of a different number of lots or chests, whether more or less, than the number of lots or chests originally required to be included in each certificate or order.

12.—The officer superintending the sale on the part of the Government is empowered to reject, at his discretion, the bid of any individual, unless such individual shall on demand render at the time a deposit either in Government of India Notes, Bank of Bengal Receipts, or Government Securities, a sum equal to the amount for which a promissory Note would otherwise be taken under the fifth of these conditions.

13.—With a view to prevent fictitious biddings designed to obstruct the sale, it is hereby notified that the officer of Government superintending the sale shall be competent, at any time during the sale, to withdraw any unsold lot, and immediately to put it up again for sale at a maximum upset price, diminishing the same gradually by Rs. 5 at a time until a bid is obtained; and the first bonâ fide bidder for a lot after it has been offered for sale in the mode here described shall be held and declared to be the purchaser of the said lot, and the officer of Government Superintending the sale shall also be competent to dispose, in the same manner, of as many of the subsequent lots as he may think proper, provided always that no lot shall be sold below the minimum price of Rs. 800 specified in the second of these conditions.

14.—The purchaser of any lot shall have the option of naming and purchasing in immediate succession, at the same price and under the same conditions, any number of lots of the same Agency opium not exceeding altogether twenty-five lots, provided always that there remain a sufficient number of lots of the opium to complete the said twenty-five.

15.—In the event of any dispute or difference touching or concerning any matter or question arising out of the sale of the opium included in this notification, or adjustment of the account thereof, the same shall and may be tried and decided in the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal.

16.—The following papers will be exhibited for inspection on the day of sale, or may be seen previously to that date by personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue:—No. 1, certificate of the opium advertised for sale; No. 2, report of the examination of such opium.

17.—The public are hereby informed that in providing the investment of the opium manufactured at the Patna Factory and the opium manufactured at the Ghazipur Factory for the year 1894-95, the same precautions have been taken as those which have been observed during past years to have the drug procured and sent down in a pure state, to have only the prescribed quantity of leaves used in forming the cakes, and to have the due proportion of opium put into each cake. An account of the weight of the drug when packed at the Patna and Ghazipur Factories, and a statement of the average weight of the chests, indiscriminately taken, for the purpose of comparison, from the despatches on arrival at Calcutta, may be seen on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue.

18.—Any further information respecting weight or quality of the opium advertised for sale, that may be desired by parties connected with the trade, will, as heretofore, be furnished to them on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue. But, in accordance with established usage, under no circumstances will the Board of Revenue entertain or recognize any claim to compensation for loss from any alleged deficiency of weight, abstraction of opium, or adulteration of the drug, which may be preferred on reference to chests after the sale and delivery of the opium for shipment.

By order of the Board of Revenue, L. P.,

E. H. WALSH,
Offg. Secretary.

RESOLUTION.

Simla, the 6th November 1895.

The Income Tax Act, II of 1886, came into operation from the 1st April 1886, and has therefore now been in operation for nine years, during which no change has been made in the rate of the tax. Except in the Financial Statement for 1888-89, which contained an account of the first year's administration of the tax, no general review of the working of the Act has as yet been published, and it is desirable now to present such a review for the whole period during which the tax has been levied to the year 1893-94, the most recent year for which final figures are available.

2. A set of statistical tables has been compiled and published in the volume of Financial and Commercial Statistics for British India, in which all the main facts connected with the administration of the tax from the time of its imposition are set forth for India collectively and for each province separately. The figures in this Resolution are taken from these tables.

3. The Act took the place of various Acts under which annual licenses were required for the exercise of any trades, dealings, or industries. Those Acts were in force in the provinces of Madras, Bombay, Bengal, the North-Western Provinces and Oudh, and the Punjab; and in the last year of their existence the net revenue obtained from the taxation imposed under them amounted to Rx. 472,800. In the first year of the operation of the Income Tax Act the net revenue realised in those Provinces was Rx. 1,277,511.

4. The proceeds of the tax have increased steadily from year to year, the gross collections having risen from Rx. 1,369,180 in 1886-87 to Rx. 1,709,323 in 1893-94. The increase amounts to 24·84 per cent., being on an average over 3 per cent. annually.

The transactions during this period are shewn in the subjoined table:—

* Calcutta, Bombay, and Madras.

It will be observed from the foregoing table that the collections in the three cities of Calcutta, Bombay, and Madras average nearly one-fourth of the collections in all India.

There is a steady increase both in the gross collections and in their ratio to the population, and this is no doubt due as much to the increasing wealth of the people, as well as to the increasing experience of the officers engaged in the administration of the tax.

5. The average annual gross collections have been distributed as follows under each of the classes specified in the Schedule of the Act during the period mentioned:—

I, Salaries and Pensions	29·70 per cent.
II, Profits of Companies	5·95 „
III, Interest on Securities	5·84 „
IV, Other sources of Income . . .	58·51 „

6. The average collections in each province are given below:—

	Average annual collections. Rx.		Average annual collections. Rx.
Bengal	391,005	Central Provinces . .	33,928
Bombay	343,511	Assam	21,798
North-Western Provinces and Oudh . . .	220,644	Ajmere-Merwara . .	9,853
Madras . . .	163,582	Hyderabad . . .	4,267
Punjab	110,724	Bangalore . . .	3,087
Burma	61,520	Coorg	1,251

The largest collections are in Bengal which has the largest population of any of the provinces and, of course, includes the city of Calcutta; the Presidency of Bombay with a smaller, but a generally wealthier population, contributes nearly as much; and next in order come the North-Western Provinces and Oudh (which contain four or five commercial cities of what may be called the second rank)' Madras (which might primâ facie have been expected to rank more highly, as compared with Northern India,—see next paragraph), and the Punjab, the collections in the remaining provinces being less than Rx. 100,000 in each case. In Bengal, Bombay, and Madras a large proportion of the tax is collected in the Presidency towns, as will be seen from the figures appended which are those for 1893-94:—

	Rx.
Bengal	419,933
Calcutta	177,046
Proportion in Calcutta		42·16 per cent.

Presidency of Madras	202,623
Madras City	42,284
Proportion in Madras		20·86 per cent.

7. The subjoined figures shew the gross collections in each province for each year since 1886-87:—

	1886-87.	1887-88.	1888-89.	1889-90.	1890-91.	1891-92.	1892-93.	1893-94.	Increase per cent. in 1893-94 over 1886-87.

The increase in Bengal and Bombay has been fairly steady. In the North-Western Provinces and Oudh the figures are singularly uniform from year to year. Madras shews a small increase during the first five years, but a rapid one during the last three, which if maintained will much improve its position in the table in paragraph 6. Punjab, Central Provinces and Assam shew a steady increase. The large increase in Burma is due in part to the extension of the tax to new areas.

8. The cost of collection on the first introduction of the tax was comparatively high, amounting in 1886-87 to Rx. 53,283. The necessity for special establishments which existed in the beginning disappeared as experience was acquired, and since 1887 the cost has ranged from Rx. 26,816 to Rx 30,619. The absence of mofussil establishments makes it far higher in Bengal than elsewhere. In that province, apart from the special staff maintained in Calcutta, there is a large staff of assessors employed in the districts, while in Bombay and other provinces the work of assessment is mainly done by the district officials. The percentages in Burma and Ajmere-Merwara are also exceptionally high. Subjoined are the ratios of the cost of collection in each province to the total collections in 1893-94:—

	Per cent.
Bengal	4·19
Bombay	1·45
Madras	0·99
North-Western Provinces and Oudh	0·83
Punjab	0·88
Central Provinces	Nil.
Assam	0·43

Bangalore	0·94

9. The incidence of the tax per head of population in the whole of British India has been given in the table in paragraph 4 of this Resolution. The incidence is highest in Bombay and Burma, where the commercial communities of the cities of Bombay and Rangoon contribute a relatively high proportion of the provincial collections; and it is lowest in the Central Provinces.

10. The Act exempts from the tax persons with an annual income of less than ₹500, who form the bulk of the population. The figures in the following table give the number of the taxable classes of the population (that is, the number of assessees) in 1893-94, and the incidence of the tax on them in each province :—

	Number of assessees.	Final demand. Rx.	Incidence per assessee. ₹
Bengal	113,770	435,114	38·24
Bombay	86,528	372,898	43·09
Madras	71,025	204,153	28·74
North-Western Provinces and Oudh	76,076	231,092	30·38
Punjab	46,814	125,105	26 72
Central Provinces	10,371	37,744	36·39
Assam	7,802	26,049	33·39
Burma	18,676	73,301	39·24
Ajmere-Merwara	3,086	8 076	26·17
Coorg	438	2,000	45·65
Bangalore	781	3,277	41·96
Hyderabad	812	4,834	59·53
Port Blair	104	633	60·85

The whole number of persons assessed to the tax in 1893-94 was only 436,283, and the incidence on each assessee of the total final demand (Rx. 1,524,276) was just under ₹35 (₹34·93). Of the larger provinces, Bombay heads the list; but it is not possible to gather much from any comparison based on these figures, as a high incidence may be equally due to the full assessment of the wealthy classes, and to an unduly low assessment of the moderately well-off ones. In Burma for example, the tax is in force only in some selected areas, and therefore necessarily shews a high incidence. The incidence in Hyderabad and Port Blair is far higher than it is elsewhere, because in both cases only Government officials are assessed. The lowest incidence is in Ajmere, the Punjab, and Madras.

11. The subjoined statement shews the incidence of the tax per 100,000 of the population for each province. The figures represent the incidence in Calcutta on the population of that city, in the rest of Bengal on the population of the province minus the population of Calcutta, and in Bengal generally including Calcutta on the whole population of the province including Calcutta; and similarly for Bombay, Madras, and Burma. It will be seen that outside the large commercial centres the incidence of the tax is extremely light :—

Among the presidency cities Bombay seems to fall short as compared with Calcutta; but looking at the interior of the presidency, Bombay in a long way ahead of Bengal as might be expected from the comparison of the commercially active towns in these provinces respectively.

12. Under Part II of the Schedule of the Act (Profits of Companies) the largest sums are obtained from railway and cotton-spinning and weaving companies, banking companies also contributing a considerable share. Under Part IV, the largest amount of the tax is realised from persons engaged in money lending and changing.

The following figures compare the collections from companies in 1886-87 and 1893-94 :—

	1886-87. Rx.	1893-94. Rx.
Railway	37,180	29,002
Cotton spinning and weaving	5,532	20,584
Banking	12,113	13,460

Press	2,147	4,650
Jute and hemp	556	3,120
Insurance	3,192	3,057
Others	10,468	18,329

The decline in the collections from Railway companies is partly due to a legal decision as to the assessment and partly to the transfer to Government after 1886-87 of the Oudh and Rohilkhand Railway. The increases against cotton and jute, reflect the advance of these two industries.

13. A similar comparison for the classes under Part IV of the Schedule (variable individual incomes) brings out the following figures for the more important classes :—

15. Below are shown the collections of the tax classified according to the amount of income. Under classes I to VI (₹500 to ₹2,000), the total collections are a little more than half the amount realised under classes VII to XV (₹2,000 and upwards). The first and second classes, those including incomes ranging from ₹500 to ₹1,000 annually, paid over 33 lakhs in 1893-94, being just about one-fifth of the total receipts from all classes.

The total collections under the several classes, distributed between the different provinces in 1893-94, were as follows:—

PROVINCE.	Classes I to VI, Rx. 50—200.	Class VII, Rx. 200—250.	Class VIII, Rx. 250—500.	Class IX, Rx. 500—1,000.	Class X, Rx. 1,000—2,000.	Class XI, Rx. 2,000—3,000.	Class XII, Rx. 3,000—4,000. The comparatively large proportion of assessees under ₹2,000 income, in the North-Western Provinces and Oudh and the Punjab, deserves notice; it may be taken to mark the greater equality of income in these provinces.

No. 4062*M.*—The 22nd November 1895.—In exercise of the power conferred by section 17, sub-section (1) of the Cantonments Act (XIII of 1889), and with the previous sanction of the Governor-General in Council, the Lieutenant-Governor is pleased to impose the following tax in the Cantonment of Barrackpore :—

A water-rate not exceeding seven and-a-half per cent. on the annual value of holdings when the houses and lands are situated in any road supplied with water, and not exceeding six per cent. when the houses and lands are situated in any road not so supplied.

H. H. RISLEY,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 4063*M.*—The 22nd November 1895.—In exercise of the power conferred by section 17, sub-section (2) of the Cantonments Act (XIII of 1889), and with the previous sanction of the Governor-General in Council, the Lieutenant-Governor is pleased to direct that the provisions of sections 279 to 286, both inclusive, and of sections 295 and 297 of the Bengal Municipal Act III of 1884, as amended by Act IV of 1894, shall apply to the assessment and recovery of the water-rate imposed in the Cantonment of Barrackpore by the Notification No. 4062M., of this date, in the adapted form hereto annexed.

Sections 279—286, 295 and 297 of the Bengal Municipal Act III of 1884, as amended by Act IV of 1894, as adapted to the Cantonment of Barrackpore.

279. (1) It shall be lawful for the Cantonment Committee at a meeting to impose a water-rate not exceeding seven and-a-half per centum on the annual value of holdings when the houses and lands are situated in any road supplied with water, and not exceeding six per centum when the houses and lands are situated in any road not so supplied.

(2) In fixing the amount of the rate, regard shall be had to the principle that the total net proceeds of the tax, together with the estimated income from payments for water supplied from the works under special contract or otherwise, shall not exceed the amount required for carrying out the purposes of these provisions.

(3) The water-rate shall be paid by the occupiers of the holdings by quarterly instalments in advance :

Provided that such water-rate shall not be levied upon—

(a) any house or land, no part of which is within a radius of 1,000 feet from the nearest standpipe or other supply of water available to the public; or

(b) any land used exclusively for purpose of agriculture;

Provided also that nothing in this section shall prevent the Cantonment Committee from making any special arrangement consistent with this Act with persons residing beyond the radius fixed in clause (a) above.

280. The annual value of holdings shall be the value determined by the Cantonment Committee for the imposition of the rate on holdings which is now levied in the Cantonment.

281. Whenever the person by whom the water-rate shall have been paid, or from whom the said rate shall have been recovered, is not the owner of the house or land in respect of which the water-rate shall have been assessed, such person may recover from the owner one-fourth of the water-rate so paid or recovered, and may deduct the same from the rent payable by him to such owner.

282. Whenever any house or land has been unoccupied during an entire quarter, the owner of the said house or land shall pay to the Cantonment Committee one-fourth of the sum which would have been payable as water-rate by the occupier if such house or land had been occupied.

The sum payable by the owner under this section shall be deemed to be due on the first day of the quarter following that in respect of which the said sum is payable.

Provided that notice shall have been given in writing to the Cantonment Committee of such house or land being unoccupied, and that the application for refund be made within six months next after the date on which the house or land ceased to be occupied.

The date on which the said notice is delivered at the office of the Cantonment Committee shall, for the purposes of this section, be deemed to be the date on which the house or land ceased to be occupied.

284. Whenever any house or land which shall have been unoccupied shall begin to be occupied during any quarter, there shall be forthwith payable by the occupier in respect of such house or land a sum calculated at one-fourth of the rate that would have been payable if the house or land had been occupied during the entire quarter for the period during which the house or land was not occupied, and the full rate for the residue of the quarter.

And such occupier shall be entitled to deduct from the rent, or otherwise recover from the owner, one-fourth of the water-rate that would have been payable if the house or land had been occupied during the entire quarter.

285. Whenever any person holding any house or land from the owner thereof has sublet the same in severalty to two or more persons, the person holding from the owner shall be deemed to be the occupier of such house or land.

286. The provisions of sections three hundred and twelve,* three hundred and thirteen, and three hundred and fourteen shall be applicable, provided that the owner shall not be entitled to recover from any occupying tenant more than three-fourths of the water-rate that would, but for this proviso, be recoverable by him under the said sections.

295. The Cantonment Committee at a meeting may determine what quantity of water shall be supplied to the occupier of every house, free of further charge, for every rupee paid to the Committee as water-rate on account of such house.

If the Cantonment Committee have reason to believe that the occupier of any house consumes more water than he is entitled to as aforesaid, it shall be lawful for them to provide a water meter at their own expense, and to attach the same to the water-pipes of the said house; and any water which may be used over and above the quantity to which the occupier is entitled as aforesaid, shall be paid for by him at such rate as the Cantonment Committee at a meeting may determine.

297. If any person supplied with water shall neglect to pay the water-rate hereinbefore mentioned at the times of payment thereof, or the charge made for the said water when supplied for other than domestic purposes, the Cantonment Committee may turn off the water from the house or land in respect of which such rate or charge is payable, and may recover the expense of turning off the water from such person.

Provided that the stopping or cutting off the supply of water shall not relieve any person from any penalties or liabilities which he may have incurred.

*312. If any holding shall be occupied by more than one tenant holding severally, or shall be of less annual value than one hundred rupees, it shall be lawful for the Commissioners to recover the rate from the owner of such holding.

Power to assess owners in certain cases.

313. Whenever any rate shall be recovered from any owner of any holding under the provisions of the last preceding section, it shall be lawful for such owner, if there shall be but one occupying tenant of such entire holding, to recover from such tenant the entire amount of the rate which shall have been so paid by such owner; and if there shall be one occupying tenant of a part of such holding, or more than one occupying tenant of such holding, then to recover from such tenant, or each of such tenants, such sum as shall bear to the entire amount of rate which may have been so recovered from such owner, the same proportion as the value of the portion of such holding in the occupation of such tenant bears to the entire value of such holding, subject, however, to the provisions of the next succeeding section.

Owner to recover from the occupier rates paid by owner.

314. Every owner who, under the provision of the last preceding section, may be entitled to recover any sum from any occupying tenant of any holding or of any portion thereof, shall have for the recovery of such sum all such and the same remedies, powers, rights, and authorities as if such sum were rent payable to such owner by such tenant in respect of so much of such holdings as may be in the occupation of such tenant.

Owner may recover rate paid as rent.

24-Parganas Collectorate, the 1st November 1895. W. H. H. VINCENT Offg. Collector.

Advertisement of Sale.

NOTICE is hereby given that the proprietary right of Government, as specified in the conditions of sale below, to the undermentioned estates situate in the district of Hooghly, will be put up to sale at the Hooghly Collectorate on the 10th December 1895, corresponding with 5th Pous 1302 (B.S.).

The purchasers will be subject to the following conditions of sale :—

Conditions of Sale.

1*st*.—The estate to be sold to the highest bidder above the upset price which will be fixed by the Collector at the time of sale. The purchaser of this estate will be considered as the proprietor of the estate and the entire proprietary right of Government in such estate will be transferred to him subject to the revenue fixed in perpetuity.

2*nd*.—The sale to be subject to existing leases and to the rights conferred by the settlement proceedings, and by the laws in force, and purchasers to be bound to respect the rights of resident cultivators who have signed the schedule of assessment prepared by the revenue authorities.

3*rd*.—If the amount of purchase-money do not exceed Rs. 100, the whole amount to be paid down at once.

4*th*.—If the amount of purchase-money exceed Rs. 100, one-fourth of the amount bid to be immediately deposited. If the balance be not paid by the noon of the 15th day after the sale, reckoning the day of sale as one, or, if that day be a close holiday, then by noon of the first succeeding office day, the sale is to be cancelled (the sum deposited being forfeited to Government), and the estate to be again put up to sale at the risk of the defaulting purchaser after issue of advertisement, as in the case of original sale :—

Advertisement of Sale.

NOTICE is hereby given that the proprietary right of Government, as specified in the conditions of sale below, to the undermentioned estates situate in the district of Nadia, will be put up to sale at the Nadia Collectorate on the 13th January 1896, corresponding with Bengali 30th Poush 1302 B.S.

The purchasers will be subject to the following conditions of sale :—

Conditions of Sale.

1*st*.—The estate to be sold to the highest bidder above the upset price. The purchaser of this estate will be considered as the proprietor of the estate, and the entire proprietary right of Government in such estate will be transferred to him, subject to the revenue fixed in perpetuity.

2*nd*.—The sale to be subject to existing leases and to the rights conferred by the settlement proceedings and by the laws in force; and purchasers to be bound to respect the rights of resident cultivators who have signed the schedule of assessment prepared by the revenue authorities.

3*rd*.—If the amount of purchase-money do not exceed Rs. 100, the whole amount to be paid down at once.

4*th*.—If the amount of purchase-money exceed Rs. 100, one-fourth of the amount bid to be immediately deposited. If the balance be not paid by noon of the 15th day after the sale, reckoning the day of sale as one, or, if that day be a close holiday, then by noon of the first succeeding office day, the sale is to be cancelled (the sum deposited being forfeited to Government), and the estate to be again put up to sale at the risk of the defaulting purchaser, after issue of advertisement as in the case of original sale :—

No. L.A.-347, dated 31st October 1895.

From—The Auditors of the Accounts of the Corporation of Calcutta,
To—The Municipal Commissioners of Calcutta.

WE have the honour to report that the cash accounts of the Corporation of Calcutta for the year ending 31st March 1895 have been audited on our behalf, and have been found correct.

2. We have signed the printed statement of the annual accounts of the Corporation for the year 1894-95 in token of our having been satisfied with the audit exercised on our behalf, and we herewith transmit that statement, with a formal certificate that the accounts set forth in that statement have been correctly extracted from the books kept in the Accounts Branch of the Office of the Corporation.

3. We have at the same time to invite attention to the defects, detailed in the accompanying note, which exist in your accounts, and to the suggestions which, as noticed in the note, were made in previous reports but have not yet been acted on.

We have, &c.,

G. E. MANISTY,
Offg. Accountant-General.

J. A. ROBERTSON,
Examiner of Local Accounts.

Note on the Audit of the Accounts of Calcutta Municipality for the year 1894-95.

THE following heads in the General Fund Ledger have been closed with the gross balances noted against each head :—

Debit balance.

	Rs.	A.	P.
House drainage recoverable	23,011	3	2
Health Department—Bustee drainage recoverable ...	15,089	7	10

The details of these balances have been worked out and a statement prepared by the Account Department showing the difference between these balances and the balances as per miscellaneous bill register. That statement was submitted to the General Committee on the 20th July 1895, soliciting sanction to write off the differences between the general ledger and the miscellaneous bill register. The General Committee would not sanction the differences being written off, nor the details being finally dealt with until another attempt had been made to recover them by an officer to be specially deputed for that purpose. Up to the date of this note, however, no officer has been deputed, and the differences are still unadjusted. The cause of the excess in the ledger balances, which under the two heads amounts to Rs. 25,201-10-3, is that bills dating back as far as the year 1891 have from time to time been cancelled under the sanction of the Vice-Chairman, Chairman, and Commissioners, without being written off the accounts. In these circumstances, it is evident that the greater part of the difference must be irrecoverable, and that its retention on the books as a realisable asset is misleading. We would, therefore, recommend that a book adjustment be made charging the full difference to profit and loss. This will of course in no way prejudice the right of the Corporation to make any recoveries on the report of the officer deputed to investigate the claims. It will merely be necessary to prepare a list of these claims and credit the recoveries to profit and loss.

Credit balance.

Town Hall recoverable—Rs. 1,562-13-9.

The details have been worked out. Some of the items go back to 1893. The Secretary to the Corporation should now investigate each item, and adjust as many as possible during the year.

Credit balance.

Interest on Contractors' Deposits—Rs. 4,564-4-1.

The details have been worked out and consist of 65 items. During the current year the Chief Accountant should adjust as many items as possible, so as to reduce the clerical labour of carrying forward details of so many accounts. Included in the above 65 items are 35 belonging to security deposits of employés. They should be transferred to a separate head styled "Security Deposits of Employés," to distinguish them from contractors' deposits.

General Deposit Account—Rs. 52,373-3.

There are 13 items of security deposit of employés included in this balance. They should also be transferred to the new head.

License Deposit Account—Rs. 423.

There are 4 items belonging to the year 1893, 1 item of 1892, and 2 items of 1891, included in this balance. The License Officer should be called upon to adjust these old items as soon as possible.

Contractors' Deposit Account, Government paper—Rs. 1,67,100.

Included in this balance, there are 40 items, amounting to Rs. 50,700 belonging to deposits of employés; they should be transferred to a new separate head "Security Deposits of Employés, Government Paper Account," and the Bank of Bengal should be requested to make the same transfer, and grant a separate receipt, to be headed "Security Deposit of Employés."

Water-rate Fund Ledger.—The Deposit Account in this ledger closed with a credit balance of Rs. 9,803-15-6 consisting of 423 items, extending back as far as the year 1886. The majority of the items composing this balance are for "deposits for water supplied for building and business purposes."

A fully detailed list of these 423 items should be forwarded to the Assistant Engineer in charge, Water-works, who should immediately supply the necessary information regarding those deposits on account of water supplied for building or business purposes, where the building has been completed or business stopped, so that this unwieldy balance may be reduced. The Chief Accountant should separate this account into three separate heads, as follows:—

(a) Deposits for water supplied for building purposes:
(b) Ditto ditto business purposes:
(c) Earnest-money deposits, and the Assistant Engineer in charge, Water-works, should be instructed to see that when money is paid to the Municipal Treasurer by his department on account of deposits, that the chalan clearly states whether the deposit is for (a), (b) or (c).

The Treasurer should also be instructed to clearly distinguish these deposits in his accounts.

The Assistant Engineer in charge, Water-works, should be called upon to closely watch these deposits and prevent them from accumulating unnecessarily. As soon as a building is completed and the supply of water stopped, the deposit should be adjusted at once and not allowed to be unattended to for years.

Drainage Loan Fund Ledger.—The Deposit Account in the ledger closed with a credit balance of Rs. 388-1-1. A full detailed copy of this balance should be sent to the Chief Engineer, who should supply the necessary information to the Chief Accountant, to enable him to adjust the amount.

The Advance Account in this ledger closed with a debit balance of Rs. 8-11-6. This is for advance made to the Superintendent of Stores. He should be called upon to adjust the amount as early as possible.

Water-supply Loan Ledger.—The Advance Account in this ledger closed with a debit balance of Rs. 1,257-9-3. This is for advances made to Chief Engineer and Assistant Engineer to land water-pipes. A full detailed copy of this balance should be sent to the Chief Engineer, who should supply the necessary information to the Chief Accountant, to enable him to adjust this account.

The Suspense Account in this ledger closed with a credit balance of Rs. 882-3-9.

The Chief Accountant should ask the Chief Engineer whether the work for preparing plans, &c., for the riparian Municipalities has been completed, and if so, this amount should be transferred to "Water-supply Loan Miscellaneous Receipts."

Town and Bustee Improvement Ledger.—Rs. 118-0-6 have remained in deposit in this ledger since 1892. The Chief Accountant should adjust this amount during the current year, if possible.

2. The ledger balance of the outstanding miscellaneous bills on the 31st March 1895 amounted to Rs. 62,245-12-10, and purported to be in the hands of the following officers of the Municipality:—

Name.	General Fund.	Water-rate.	Loan.	Total.
	Rs. A. P.	Rs. A. P.	Rs. A. P.	Rs. A. P.
Joint-Collector	4,575 0 1	4,874 11 9	15,015 9 7	24,465 5 5
Warrant Officer	11,288 1 9	1,420 4 0	14,398 14 0	27,107 3 9
Assessor	214 5 0	.....	598 13 5	813 2 5
Health Officer	274 11 6	.....	5,572 4 6	5,847 0 0
Engineer	658 15 3	60 0 0	.....	718 15 3
Secretary	125 12 0	30 0 0	3,138 6 0	3,294 2 0
Total ...	17,136 13 7	6,384 15 9	38,723 15 6	62,245 12 10

The Personal Assistant to the Vice-Chairman has taken actual stock of the above bills, but departmental returns verifying these balances have only been given in the Administration Report by the Joint-Collector, Warrant Officer, and Assessor. No departmental return has been given by either the Health Officer or the Engineer.

In paragraph 7 of the note on the audit of your accounts for 1892-93, attention was drawn to this defect, but it has not yet been remedied.

Out of 33 bills of the General Fund amounting to Rs. 274-11-6 in the hands of the Health Officer, only 3 originals and 2 duplicates amounting to Rs. 39-12-3 were produced before the Personal Assistant to the Vice-Chairman at the time of taking stock; and out of the balance 12 bills amounting to Rs. 187-1 could not be accounted for, but were stated to have been lost. This should be investigated and the officer who is responsible should either account for the bills, or make good the loss sustained by the Corporation.

The departmental returns of the Joint-Collector and the Warrant Officer agree with the balance in the ledger, but the return from the Assessor differs as follows:—

Statement of miscellaneous bills disposed of in Assessor's Department during the year 1894-95, taken from page 55, paragraph 118 of Part I, Administration Report.

Balance outstanding on 31st March 1894.	New bills received.	Total amount outstanding.	Amount returned.	Amount cancelled.	Total amount disposed of.	Balance outstanding on 31st March 1895.

should have been as follows:—

On account of—	Outstanding balance on 31st March 1894.	New bills received.	Total.	Amount returned to other officers.	Amount of bills cancelled.	Amount disposed of from deposit account.	Total.	Balance outstanding on 31st March 1895.

It will thus be seen that, with the exception of the opening balance, not a single column of the statement compiled by the Assessor's Bill Department agrees with the ledger balance. Care should be taken for the future to prevent this defect.

3. The comparison of the outstanding balance on account of the miscellaneous bills at the close of 1893-94 and 94-95 is as follows:—

	Rs. A. P.	Rs. A. P.

The Joint-Collector should be asked to explain why he cannot collect the bills of 1892-93 and 1893-94, and failing to collect them, why he did not send them to the Warrant Officer before the 31st March 1895. No miscellaneous bills should remain in his hands for more than three months. If he cannot collect them within that period, he should send them to the Warrant Officer, with a report in each case, stating why the bill could not be collected. The Warrant Officer should be called upon to explain the reason why the bills for 1890-91, 1891-92, 1892-93 and 1893-94 were still uncollected on the 31st March 1895, and in all cases where he is of opinion that the bill cannot be realised, should forward it with a report to the Chairman for cancellation. The balances in the hands of the Assessor, Health Officer, and Engineer represent bills that have been returned to them for some reference. It is not recognised to be the duty of the officer who sends a bill to another department for reference, to watch and see that it is promptly returned, or an explanation of the cause of delay given; consequently the accumulation of unadjusted bills in the receiving department is unchecked.

A large number of bills are stated to be detained in the hands of Government and public offices. All such bills for 1893-94 and former years should be recalled, and each case gone into, to ascertain the reasons of detention for such long periods.

A considerable number of bills are stated to be in the hands of the Pleader, Small Cause Court, upon which decrees have been given, but still the demands are unrealised. These also should be recalled, and all claims prior to 1st April 1894, looked into, and then, if in the opinion of the Chairman they cannot be realised, they should be remitted. It should be remembered that all outstanding bills are shown in the municipal accounts as a realisable asset, and if they are not or cannot be realised, but are simply carried forward from year to year, the assets become more or less defective and misleading.

4. The ledger balance of the outstanding consolidated rate-bills on the 31st March 1895 amounted to Rs. 5,88,846-4-2 in the hands of the following officers:—

	Rs.	A.	P.
Collector	1,08,607	7	0
Joint-Collector	28,475	9	9
Warrant Officer	3,64,255	6	6
Assessor	87,507	12	11
	5,88,846	4	2

and the departmental returns from those officers agree with the balances in the ledger.

The Collector's balance of Rs. 1,08,607-7 includes bills to the extent of Rs. 25,786-9-9, stated to have been detained for various reasons in Government and public offices. To what period these bills belong, or for how long they have been detained in the offices referred to, is not stated. We would suggest that in future the Collector should show to what period, i.e., 1st, 2nd, 3rd, and 4th quarter of such and such a year, the whole balance in his hands refers, the absence of this information being a defect in his departmental return. We would also suggest that all Government or public offices, who have detained bills for more than three months, should be called upon either to pay or return the bills. In the latter case, the bills could then be handed over to the Warrant Officer for recovery by coercive measures, as in all other cases.

The terms of the Collector's contract are that he shall return all uncollected rate-bills within one week after the first presentation; it follows, therefore, that the balance in his hands ought to consist of bills of the last quarter only (all others having been passed on to the Warrant Officer), but in the absence of any information on this point in his departmental return, it is impossible to tell to what period the balance in his hands belongs. It also appears that no stock is ever taken of these outstanding rate-bills, or those in the custody of the Joint-Collector.

For obvious reasons it is quite as necessary to take stock periodically of the rate-bills as of the miscellaneous bills, and we would, therefore, strongly recommend the introduction of this precautionary check. Similarly the Joint-Collector's balance of Rs. 28,475-9-9 includes bills to the extent of Rs. 1,851-10-9 detained in Government and public offices. These should be dealt with immediately under the three months' limit. The departmental return of this officer shows that although he is under the same obligation as the Collector to return to the Warrant Officer all bills not collected within one week after first presentation, still on the 31st March 1895 he had in his own hands, exclusive of the bills detained in Government and public offices, bills for the 2nd and 3rd quarters of 1894-95 to the extent of Rs. 1,137-2, as follows:—

	Rs.	A.	P.
Owner's share, 2nd quarter, 1894-95 ...	29	5	9
Ditto, 3rd ditto ...	163	11	3
Bustee land, 3rd ditto ...	944	1	0
Total ...	1,137	2	0

He should be called upon to explain why these bills were still in his hands, and no passed on to the Warrant Officer.

The departmental return of the Warrant Officer does not show clearly, year by year, how many years are included in his balance of Rs. 3,64,255-6-6. We would suggest this being done in the future, so that it may be seen at a glance how much of this balance will be barred by limitation each year and require to be removed from the list of realisable assets.

Similarly, the Assessor should show how many previous years' demands are included in his gross balance at the end of each year.

5. The ledger balance of the outstanding arrear house-rate bills on the 31st March 1895 amounted to Rs. 933-2-11 in the hands of the Warrant Officer only. The departmental return of that officer agrees with this figure, but is defective in not analysing the years included in this balance. This should be done in future.

6. The ledger balance of the outstanding night-soil fees on the 31st March 1895 was Rs. 691-15-3 in the hands of the Warrant Officer only.

The departmental return exhibits this figure, but does not analyse the years covered by this balance. This should be done in future.

7. The ledger balance of the outstanding arrear water, police and lighting-rate bills on the 31st March 1895 amounted to Rs. 611-12-9 in the hands of the Warrant Officer only.

The same remarks apply to this return as to those under paragraphs 5 and 6 above.

8. The ledger balance of the outstanding market rent-bills on the 31st March 1895 was Rs. 4,786-9-3 in the hands of the following officers :—

Superintendent of Market—

	Rs.	A.	P.	Rs.	A.	P.

and these figures agree with the departmental returns of those officers. The departmental returns, however, are defective in not analysing the balances, according to years, to show how much belongs to each year. This should be done in future.

During the year under audit, bills to the extent of Rs. 695-1-6 had to be cancelled as irrecoverable, as follows:—

	Rs.	A.	P.
Out of the stock held by the Warrant Officer	607	4	9
„ „ „ Market Superintendent	87	12	9
	695	1	6

9. During the year under audit 82 estimates for metal for road repairs, aggregating 227,000 cubic feet, valued at Rs. 33,445, were made out by the Road Department against a head called "Reserve Stock," instead of the name of the particular roads for which the metal was required being given on the estimates, as is customary in all other cases; 65 of these estimates were stated to be for town area and 17 for the added area.

Now, there is no such head as "Reserve Stock" in the accounts of the Municipality, and if there were, it would be a suspense head, and not an expenditure head. We would point out that it is irregular in any circumstances to make out estimates for final expenditure against a fictitious head. This practice should, therefore, be put a stop to at once, and all future estimates should be made out against the particular roads for which the metal is required. The practice also, which obtains at present, of allowing contractors and others to sign receipts for metal from the Store Department, without obtaining the countersignature of the Road Overseer, is open to grave objection, and we would strongly advise orders being issued at once, that in future all receipts, for anything received from the Store Department for roads, must be countersigned by the Road Overseers.

* Old metal stated to be available.

The system at present in vogue in the Road Department of granting receipts to the Store Department in the month of March of each year for road metal that is not removed from the storeyards until after the financial year has expired, and charging the value of these nominal issues against the fictitious head "Reserve Stock," so as to prevent the road grants lapsing, is an irregular expedient for evading the natural operation of the Budget system which cannot be countenanced. No receipt for road metal should be granted by the Road Department to the Store Department until the metal has actully been removed from the storeyard and delivered on the road for which it is intended. If these were done, the contractor's receipt would certify that the metal had been received by him at the gate of the storeyard and the Road Overseer's countersignature on the some, that the contractor had delivered the metal on the road where it was wanted. The absence of this necessary safeguard makes it quite possible for fraud to be committed at any time. It should be the duty of the Superintendent of Stores to see that the countersignature of the Road Overseers is obtained on each receipt, and of the Road Superintendent that no receipts are granted without the metal being actually delivered at the site where it is wanted. If the repairs to any road cannot be completed within the financial year to which the grant refers, and the grant lapses, application in the usual manner should be made to have the grant re-sanctioned for the next year. Any other method of dealing with cases of this kind leads to confusion in the accounts, and opens wide the door to serious abuses.

10. In paragraph 16 of the note on the accounts of 1892-93, attention was drawn to the absence of stock lists from any of the departments of the Municipality, and again in paragraph 11 of the note on the accounts of 1893-94 this was repeated, with the addition that stock had not yet been taken for all the departments, and that in those cases where it had been taken, it was defective, as no transfer had been made to block. Very clear instructions were then given regarding any difficulty that might arise regarding valuation. We notice, however, that the suggestions have not been attended to during the year under audit. No returns have been received from either the Engineer or Health Officer's Department, or the departments subordinate to them. In those returns which have been received, a valuation is given in some instances, and in others left blank; some have been totalled and others not. Under these circumstances, it is quite impossible for the Chief Accountant to make any transfer to Block Account, and we must again point out that the early submission of these returns ought certainly to be required from all departments of the Municipality; that they should be prepared on a uniform plan, and that the valuation should be arrived at by either of the alternatives suggested in paragraph 11 of the note of last year, so that the Chief Accountant may make the necessary transfer before the end of the current year.

NOTICE TO MARINERS—No. 220.

[First Publication.]

AUSTRALIA, SOUTH—SPENCER GULF.

A lightship near the western edge of the Middle bank.

THE President, Marine Board, Port Adelaide, has given notice (No. 7 of 1895) that on or about December 15th, 1895, it is intended to place a lightship near the western edge of the Middle bank, Spencer gulf.

The vessel, painted red, has one mast (with ball at the masthead), from which a fixed white light will be exhibited, visible in ordinary weather at a distance of, say, ten (10) miles all round. The vessel will be moored in four (4) fathoms water L.W.S., with Webling point on with Barn hill bearing N. 85° 50′ E. (true), and Plank point bearing N. 41° 35′ W. (true).

Approximate position—lat. 33° 37′ 20″ S., long. 137° 34′ 20″ E.

Further notice will be given as to the exact date of the exhibition of the light.

This notice affects Admiralty Charts Nos. 404 and 2389B.

(1) West channel—Pile (West sand) permanent light re-exhibited.

WITH reference to Notice to Mariners No. 106, dated 25th June last, issued by this office, the British Admiralty has given further notice (No. 589 of 1895) that on 6th September 1895, Pile (West sand) permanant light, fixed red and white (other particulars as given at No. 662, List of Lights, part VI, 1895), would be re-exhibited, and the temporary light-vessel (flashing white light) withdrawn.

Also, that the fog signal at the Pile light-house would be similar to that on board the temporary light-vessel, viz., a gong and a fog-horn, which, during thick or foggy weather, will be sounded alternately every five minutes.

Approximate position, lat. 38° 11½′ S., long. 144° 45½′ E.

Also, that a beacon, surmounted by a basket ball, painted red, and 9 feet above high water, has been erected at the extreme of the foul ground south-westward of Point Wilson, in a position with that point, bearing about N.E. (N. 45° E.), distant 5½ cables, or approximately in lat. 38° 6′ 0″ S., long. 144° 29′ 55″ E.

CHINA, EAST COAST—MIN RIVER.

Alterations in buoyage.

THE British Admiralty has given notice (No. 590 of 1895) that, on or about 15th September 1895, the undermentioned alterations would be made in the buoyage of Min river, in the vicinity of Ta seu (Spiteful island), approach to Pagoda anchorage:—

1. The buoy (black and white chequered) marking the northern side of Niu ta (Parkhill rock) would be replaced by a buoy, painted black and surmounted by a black spherical cage.

Approximate position, lat. 26° 0′ 50″ N., long. 119° 29′ 5″ E.

2. The buoy (red and white chequered) marking the southern side of Niu ta (Parkhill rock), and the buoy (black) marking Hurst rock, would be withdrawn, the channel between these buoys being unsafe for navigation.

NEW ZEALAND—NORTH ISLAND.

Sunken rock reported southward of Gable-end foreland.

THE British Admiralty has given notice (No. 591 of 1895) that the Master of the steam-vessel Monowai reported that on 23rd January 1895 that vessel touched on a rock, lying with Gable-end foreland, bearing about N. ⅜ W. (N. 4° W.), distant 4½ miles, or approximately in lat. 38° 36′ S., long. 178° 17½′ E.

An examination of the locality has recently been made by Captain Fairchild of the New Zealand Government steam-vessel Hinemoa, who obtained a sounding of 8 fathoms about half a mile westward of the above position.

A further search will be made as soon as possible. In the meantime the rock and the sounding of 8 fathoms have been placed on the Admiralty chart.

AFRICA, EAST COAST—ZANZIBAR ISLAND.

Intended alteration in Mwana Mwana light.

THE British Admiralty has given notice (No. 593 of 1895) that about 1st January 1896, the light (fixed white) on the north end of Mwana Mwana will be altered to a fourth order, revolving light every thirty seconds, showing a red sector over the reef extending off Ras Nungwe.

The new light may occasionally be shown experimentally during November and December 1895.

Approximate position, lat. 5° 45′ 10″ S., long. 39° 13′ 10″ E.

Further notice will be given when the alteration has been carried out.

FLUSHING OF THE MOATS AND THE LALDIGHI IN THE TOWN OF NATOR BY THE INTRODUCTION OF WATER FROM THE RIVER GODAI

MUNICIPAL DEPARTMENT—MUNICIPAL.

Calcutta, the 25th November 1895.

RESOLUTION—No. 4083M.

READ—

A memorandum, No. 600Mct., dated the 21st September 1895, from the Commissioner of the Rajshahi Division, forwarding a copy of a letter, No. 953J., dated the 12th September 1895, from the Magistrate of Rajshahi, reporting that the Hon'ble Maharaja Jagadindra Nath Roy and Kumar Jogendra Nath Roy of the Nator Raj have approved of the arrangement made for the supervision by the District Engineer of Rajshahi of the periodical flushing of the moats around their residence at Nator and of the big tank in the town, known as the Laldighi, and have agreed to bear the cost of the periodical flushing, which is estimated at Rs. 275 a year.

A memorandum No. 214M., dated the 30th September 1895, from the Commissioner of Rajshahi, intimating that the District Board of Rajshahi have agreed to the services of the District Engineer being utilised for this purpose when he visits Nator in connection with his own duties and to the payment of a small honorarium

Read also—

The previous correspondence on the subject.

The town of Nator, in the district of Rajshahi, has long been notorious for its unhealthiness, which was reported to be due, among other causes, to the filthy state of the tanks and the extensive moats around the residence of the Nator Raj family, on which nearly the whole population of the town depend for their supply of drinking water. The condition of the town has been condemned by successive Sanitary Commissioners; and, so far back as the year 1880, Dr. Liddordale pointedly drew attention to the necessity for cleansing these moats, which were described to be "reservoirs of sewage" into which the surface drainage of the greater portion of the town and the sewage from many private latrines were allowed to be discharged.

2. From time to time attempts were made to improve the condition of the moats, and in 1881 the Subdivisional Officer of Nator applied to the representatives of both branches of the Raj family, for permission to flush them at the cost of the Municipality by letting in fresh water from the river Narad, which flows past the town—a project which was recommended by the District Engineer and the Divisional Superintendent of Works. While acknowledging the value of the scheme, the Raj family declined to give their consent to it from the apprehension that the silt deposited by the river water might, in course of time, block the moats, and thereby cause a scarcity of water. The District Magistrate, however, sanctioned the project, a cut was made, and a culvert constructed and communication between the river and the moats established on the 15th September 1881. Kumar Jogendra Nath Roy, on the 12th October 1881, presented a memorial to Government, complaining of the action of the local officers; but as it appeared on enquiry that the cut was not intended to be kept open, except occasionally for letting in fresh water, and that consequently there was no ground for apprehending that the moats would become blocked by silt, the Kumar was informed that he had no cause of complaint.

3. The Kumar subsequently brought a civil suit against the Municipality, and obtained a decree and an injunction restraining them from opening this cut. Although the decree was obtained in January 1884, the cut was actually kept open from 1881 to 1886, and fresh water let in during each of those years. In 1887 the Kumar closed the cut and built two huts on its site, thereby stopping all flow of fresh water from the river into the moats.

4. In March 1888, the Sanitary Commissioner brought to the notice of Government the evils resulting from the closing of the cut, and in July 1888 the Commissioner submitted a report from the Magistrate of Rajshahi on the same subject. The Inspector of Local Works and the Sanitary Commissioner were accordingly asked to visit the town, and to submit to Government their opinion in the matter.

5. The Inspector of Local Works recommended the original project of flushing the moats by water from the Narad, which had always received the strongest official support, but had been opposed by those representing local interests. The Sanitary Commissioner, on the other hand, condemned the Narad scheme on the ground that the water supplied would be unwholesome, and suggested that flushing should be effected by means of a cut from the river Godai. This latter proposal seemed to the Lieutenant-Governor to be the only one which was both practicable and likely to put a stop to further litigation and dispute; and in October 1889 His Honour gave it his general approval, and urged the local officers to attend to its execution.

6. In July 1890 the Commissioner of the Division reported that both branches of the Raj family had formally agreed to a rough scheme, prepared by the District Engineer, and estimated to cost Rs. 6,000, for flushing the moats and the Laldighi by water from the Godai, and that the Kumar had agreed to bear all the expenses connected with it. The scheme was approved by Government, and a sum of Rs. 300 required for the preparation of the detailed project was sanctioned from the Provincial revenues.

7. Later on, however, the Kumar withdrew his original offer, and declined to contribute more than half the estimated cost, and then only on condition that the other branch of the family should first deposit the remaining moiety. During the visit of the Lieutenant-Governor to Rampur Boalia in August 1891, the Maharaja expressed his willingness to bear his share of the cost, but nothing was done until in September 1893, after being required by the Municipality, under section 200 of the Bengal Municipal Act, 1884, to cleanse the moats, the proprietors paid to the District Magistrate the sum of Rs. 7,200 required for the works. Detailed plans and estimates were then prepared by the District Engineer and approved by the Superintending Engineer, and the project was eventually taken up by the District Engineer under the orders of the Magistrate, Mr. J. C. Price. It was completed in November 1894, and the Inspector of Local Works reported that the scheme had been satisfactorily carried out, but that the works could not be maintained in good order without professional superintendence. It has, therefore, been arranged, with the consent of the District Board and of the Raj family, that the District Engineer shall supervise the maintenance of the works for a small honorarium of Rs. 100 a year, which sum, as well as the cost of the maintenance of the works, estimated at Rs. 175, will be paid by the Nator family.

8. The Lieutenant-Governor is gratified to find that this troublesome and delicate question, which has been under discussion for many years, has at last been brought to a satisfactory conclusion. Sir Charles Elliott congratulates the Raj family and all concerned in the matter upon the execution of an important sanitary project, which, if properly maintained, with due precautions against the pollution of the water by surface drainage, will, no doubt, greatly benefit the health of the residents of Nator.

ORDER.—Ordered that this Resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette, and that copies of it be communicated to both branches of the Nator Raj family, and to the Commissioner for information and communication to the Magistrate and the District Board.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

H. H. RISLEY,

Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

Sadar	12 to 14	0	per rupee.
Barasat	13	12
Basirhat	15	3¾
Diamond Harbour	16	0

Murshidabad.—Rainfall nil. State of kalai good. Harvesting of aman commenced; estimated outturn 8 annas. Cutting of sugarcane going on. Sowing of rabi crops still continues. State of indigo and mulberry seems good. Fodder and water sufficient. Common rice sells at 14 seers per rupee.

Khulna.—Rainfall nil. Weather cold. Prospects of aman rice continue to be good. Rabi sowings still going on in the Sadar subdivision. Fodder and water sufficient. Common rice sells at—

	Srs.
Sadar	17 to 21	per rupee.
Bagerhat	18
Satkhira	16

Dinajpur.—Rainfall nil. Weather rather warm during day. Prospects of standing crops continue good. Common rice selling from 12 to 16 seers per rupee. No cattle-disease reported. Fodder and water sufficient.

Rangpur.—Rainfall nil. Weather seasonable. Harvesting of aman commenced. Sowing of winter crops going on. Rain wanted. Prospects generally good. Common rice selling at 12 to 13 seers per rupee. Fodder sufficient. No cattle-disease.

Pabna.—Rainfall nil. Cold weather has begun very late. Prospects of aman rice good on the whole. Rain required.

Dacca.—Rainfall nil. Weather seasonable. Harvesting of aman paddy commenced; prospects fair. Fodder available. No cattle-disease. Price of common rice 17 seers per rupee.

Chittagong.—No rain. Weather hot and occasionally cloudy. Harvesting of early aman nearly finished. Prospects of winter rice indifferent. Rabi sowings continue. Fodder and water sufficient. Common rice sells at 16 seers per rupee.

Patna.—No rain. Paddy harvest commenced in places. Poppy and rabi sowings nearly finished. Common rice selling from 16 to 19 seers per rupee. Fodder and water for cattle sufficient.

Gaya.—Still no rain. Winter rice crop will not be above nine annas. Harvesting begun. Rabi suffering for want of moisture. Poppy had to be resown in many places, but is doing fairly well. Price of common rice at Sadar 14½ seers against an average of 16½ seers per rupee.

Champaran.—No rain. Rabi being sown. Aghani being harvested; 12 annas outturn estimated. Fodder and water for cattle sufficient.

Darbhanga.—No rain. Winter rice nearly ripe and harvesting commenced in places. Rabi and poppy doing fairly well, but rain badly wanted. Common rice selling at 16 seers per rupee. Fodder sufficient.

Bhagalpur.—No rain. Weather seasonable. Rabi is being sown. Paddy is being cut. Sugarcane is being pressed. Common rice sells at 17 seers 10 chitaks per rupee at Sadar. No cattle-disease. Fodder and water sufficient.

Purnea.—No rain. Harvesting of aghani paddy commenced. Rabi sowings going on; prospects fair. Cattle-disease reported from Sadar thana. Fodder and water sufficient. Common rice selling from 16 to 21 seers a rupee.

Cuttack.—Rainfall nil. Weather seasonable. Harvesting of laghu sarad in progress. Guru sarad maturing. Condition of cattle good. Fodder sufficient. Common rice sells at—

		Srs.	c.
Cuttack	... ...	23	10	per rupee.
Jajpur	... ...	29	14
Kendrapara	... ...	31	8
Banki	... ...	31	8

Hazaribagh.—Rainfall nil. Weather much cooler and more seasonable. Paddy being harvested; outturn 8 to 12 annas. Prospects of rabi good, but rain wanted. Poppy sowings completed; outlook promising. Fodder and water sufficient. Price of common rice 12 to 16 seers per rupee.

General Summary.—There was no rain during the week. The harvesting of winter rice has begun. Owing to the early cessation of the rains the outturn will probably be below the average, except in Northern Bengal and Orissa. The sowing of the rabi crops is in progress, but complaints come from Gaya, Darbhanga, and Hazaribagh of a lack of moisture. Poppy is coming on well, though the recent heat in Bihar has necessitated resowings in places. Sugarcane is a good crop and is being harvested in some districts. No cattle-disease is reported except from the Sadar thana of Purnea. The price of common rice continues generally steady, but the slight upward tendency continues.

Explanation.—... indicates that no rain has fallen. If the return for any day has not been received, the corresponding space is left blank. If any of the returns are wanting, the corresponding spaces in the total rainfall columns are left blank. With reference to the column of rainy days, the definition of a rainy day is when at least ·10 inch of rain has fallen

CALCUTTA, the 26th November 1895.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL FOR THE WEEK ENDING, 8 A.M., SATURDAY, THE 23RD OF NOVEMBER 1895.

AT the commencement of the week fine weather generally prevailed over the province, but the conditions as to temperature were decidedly abnormal, and on Sunday, the 17th, the first day of the week under review, the maximum or day temperatures registered were usually from about 2° to 7° in excess of the normal, while in the night temperatures the excess was generally between 4° and nearly 9°. Pressure was also slightly to considerably above the normal, and either calms or very light and rather variable winds were reported over the province. Conditions over North-Western India, however, indicated a change in the weather, for a barometric depression which had appeared in the Southern Punjab on the 16th continued to exist, while a cold wave of air had commenced in Baluchistan, which appeared to be spreading eastwards. On the 18th the centre of the depression was situated near Meerut, and the feeble storm was breaking up against the Himalayas, giving snow and hail in the hills and rain in the adjacent plains, while the cold wave had advanced over the Punjab on the 18th, and on the 19th it was advancing over the North-Western Provinces. During this time the changes of temperature and pressure in Bengal were small and unimportant, but from the 20th the cold wave commenced to affect Bengal, and from the 19th to the 20th there had been a fall in the mean temperature of about 1°, and on the 21st of about 1° to 3°, while the fall was of a rather smaller amount on the 22nd. On this last date also pressure had decreased rather briskly and the distribution had become nearly normal. On the 22nd also the maximum temperatures reported were usually still from 1° to 3° in excess, though the night or minimum temperatures were nearly normal. On the 23rd temperature had again fallen at the majority of stations, and the mean temperature had become not very far from the normal, while the pressure changes were small and the distribution also fairly normal. The northerly winds characteristic of the cold season had become more strongly developed, and steady cool northerly winds of light to moderate force had established themselves over the whole province.

Pressure was at the commencement of the week very decidedly above the normal, while at its close it was practically normal. Hence the mean for the week has been in distinct, though small, excess, the usual variation being about 0·05″ to 0·06.″

Temperature.—The principal meteorological feature during the week has been the steady fall of temperature from about the 20th. On the last day of the week the mean for the province had become almost normal, but for the whole week the average mean temperature was 3·2° in excess, the largest excess having been registered in Chota Nagpur, where it has equalled 4·4°. The variation of the average temperature from the normal at certain selected stations in different districts of the province is shown in the following table:—

Rainfall.—Light local showers have been received at one or two stations in and near the hills of North Bengal, and also at two or three stations in Orissa, but with these exceptions the whole province has been practically rainless.

The following table gives the summary of the temperature and rainfall data of each of the six meteorological divisions of the province for the week ending Saturday, the 23rd of November 1895 :—

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from observations made at 6h., 10h., 16h. and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

NOTIFICATION—No. 4141.

The 3rd December 1895.—In supersession of notifications dated the 28th May 1889, the 9th September 1890, the 23rd December 1890, and the 29th February 1892, and in exercise of the powers conferred by the Inland Emigrants' Health Act, I (B.C.) of 1889, the Lieutenant-Governor is pleased, with the sanction of the Government of India, to make the following rules, which are hereby published for general information.

C. E. BUCKLAND,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

RULES UNDER ACT I (B.C.) OF 1889.

Definitions.

1. In these rules, unless there is something repugnant in the subject or context—

Manager means any person appointed by an Agent to be in charge on his account of any depôt or rest-house.

Depôt means any place of accommodation for emigrants, as defined by Act I (B.C.) of 1889, in which the emigrants are collected prior to their being despatched by an Agent or Manager to another depôt or to their destination in the labour districts.

Rest-house means any place of accommodation for emigrants in which the emigrants are halted between the time of leaving a depôt and arriving at another depôt or at their destination.

Places of accommodation for emigrants.

2. Every Agent shall provide and maintain, in such places as the Local Government may from time to time direct, or in the absence of such direction in respect of any route, in such places as the District Magistrate may direct or approve, depôts and rest-houses for the accommodation of the emigrants who may be collected by him or on his behal, pending their removal and during their journey to a labour district.

Failure to provide and maintain the accommodation required by this rule shall render an Agent liable to a fine not exceeding Rs. 200, and, if the accommodation is not provided within a reasonable time after the infliction of such fine, he shall be liable to a further fine not exceeding Rs. 50 for every day until the accommodation is provided.

3. The amount of accommodation to be provided and maintained, and the sanitary arrangements to be made in such depôts and rest-houses, shall be regulated generally by the rules prescribed under Act I of 1882 for depôts, subject to any modification which the District Magistrate may permit in the case of rest houses. The District Magistrate may require the Agent to make such arrangements for the supply of drinking water as may seem to him necessary. At least one side of each depôt shall be enclosed along its whole length by an iron railing or wooden paling instead of a continuous wall, to allow perflation of air, and such railing or paling shall not be blocked in any way internally.

4. No such depôt shall be used for the accommodation of emigrants until the sanitary arrangements in it shall have been approved by the District Magistrate, and no place which has not been so approved shall be recognised as a depôt within the meaning of rule 2. A placard shall be affixed to the depôt signifying that the District Magistrate has approved of the sanitary arrangements and stating the number of emigrants who may be accommodated in it. Such approval may at any time be withdrawn by the District Magistrate for sufficient reasons to be stated in writing.

If the number of emigrants accommodated at one time in any such depôt exceed the number for which accommodation has been duly provided, the Agent or Manager responsible shall be liable to a fine not exceeding Rs. 5 for each emigrant in excess of such number for every day during which such excess exists.

5. The District Magistrate shall maintain a Register of the depôts and rest-houses approved by him under this rule in the Form A attached to these rules.

In Calcutta the powers conferred and the duties imposed by this rule and the rules preceding on the District Magistrate shall appertain to the Superintendent of Emigration.

6. For each depôt or rest-house while it is in use, the Agent shall, unless he himself lives on the premises, appoint a Manager to be approved by the District Magistrate, and on failure to do so, shall be liable to a fine of Rs. 100, and to a further fine of Rs. 20 for each day during which such failure continues after he has been convicted of a breach of this rule.

7. The District or Subdivisional Magistrate, or a Magistrate subordinate to him, the Civil Surgeon, or an Assistant Superintendent of Emigration, or an officer of Police above the rank of Sub-Inspector authorized by the District Magistrate, and in Calcutta the Superintendent of Emigration, may inspect all depôts and rest-houses, and all Agents and employes of Agents in charge of such places shall afford to the inspecting officer every facility for making such visits and inspections.

All inspection notes shall be entered in an inspection book to be kept up in such places of accommodation.

A copy of the inspection notes shall be forwarded at once by the inspecting officer to the District Magistrate.

Any person who wilfully obstructs or causes to be obstructed any of the above-mentioned inspecting officers entering any depôt or rest-house for making any lawful inspection or inquiry, shall for every such offence be liable to a fine not exceeding Rs. 100.

Treatment of emigrants on a journey.

8. The routes by which emigrants and their dependents shall travel on leaving a depôt, as prescribed by the Local Government, are shewn in the schedule attached to these rules.

The taking of emigrants by any other than a prescribed route is prohibited, and every Agent or Manager responsible for emigrants being so taken shall be liable to a fine not exceeding Rs. 20 for every emigrant so taken.

9. An Agent shall either himself accompany the emigrants engaged or assisted by him until they are put on board the steamer at Goalundo or Dhubri, as the case may be, or shall send with them some competent person. Such Agent or other person shall have and produce, when called upon to do so by any officer authorised to inspect depôts and rest-houses, a chalan showing particulars of the emigrants in his charge in the following form :—

Depôt from which despatched.	Date when despatched.	Name and father's name of person in charge of party.	PARTICULARS OF EMIGRANT OR DEPENDENT.							Destination.	Route to be taken.
			Name.	Father's name.	Caste.	Age.	Sex.	Village.	Pargana.
	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10	11	12

Neglect of the provisions of this rule shall render the Agent or person in charge of the emigrants liable to a fine not exceeding Rs. 20 for each emigrant travelling in his charge the requisite particulars respecting whom are not duly entered in the chalan.

10. When the number of emigrants (exclusive of dependents) proceeding on their journey to a labour district is more than twenty, for every twenty emigrants so in excess, or for any number of emigrants less than twenty in excess, one additional Agent, or person appointed by him, shall accompany the emigrants so proceeding. Provided that when the emigrants are embarked in any steamer for conveyance to their destination by water, no such additional Agent or person appointed by him shall be required to accompany the emigrants during such river journey.

Neglect of the provisions of this rule shall render the Agent liable to a fine not exceeding Rs. 20 for every emigrant travelling otherwise than in accordance with this rule.

11. Every Agent, or person appointed as aforesaid, who accompanies emigrants to the labour districts, shall provide each emigrant and dependent (if any) travelling between the months of November and February inclusive with a thick and warm blanket and a woollen jacket in the case of males, and with a thick warm blanket and a woollen kurta in the case of females, besides the clothing ordinarily provided.

For every omission to comply with the provisions of this rule, the Agent or person appointed as aforesaid shall be liable to a fine not exceeding Rs. 50.

12. Every Agent, or person appointed by him as aforesaid, shall provide two cooked meals every day for emigrants travelling by road, and a cooked meal for emigrants to be started on a railway journey after 9 A.M., and for those to be started at or before that hour, if a cooked meal cannot be provided, a dry meal instead, consisting of (a) bread or biscuit and sugar in the proportion of one pound of bread or two large biscuits and one ounce of sugar to each emigrant of and above 10 years of age, and half the above quantities to each emigrant under the age of 10 years, or (b) choora and suttoo or similar food eaten by people of the class to which the emigrant belongs. In the evening a cooked meal or, if that is impracticable, a dry meal as above shall be provided. Also, if the journey between two halting stations is likely to occupy more than 6 hours of daylight, a supply of food in the same proportion shall be given by the Agent or person aforesaid for distribution to the emigrants for consumption during the journey.

The Agent or Manager in charge of a depôt or rest-house shall also be responsible that all emigrants are properly fed and cared for as required by the rules while under his charge.

For every omission to comply with the provisions of this rule, the Agent or person appointed by him as aforesaid, or the Manager responsible, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding Rs. 50 for each emigrant in respect of whom the rule is broken.

13. When emigrants are about to be despatched by a train, the purest drinking water obtainable shall be supplied by the Agent in a sufficient number of vessels conveniently placed with the emigrants in the carriage.

Such supply shall be at least one quart for each emigrant and dependent, and there shall be at least one vessel for each compartment of the carriage. Emigrants should be afforded during the journey opportunities for leaving their carriages at suitable places, to be fixed from time to time by the Superintendent of Emigration.

Neglect of the provisions of this rule shall render the Agent or person appointed by him as aforesaid liable to a penalty not exceeding Rs. 20 for every emigrant in respect of whom such neglect occurs.

14. Emigrants about to travel by train shall be accommodated, as far as possible, in third class carriages specially reserved for them, or in suitably constructed goods wagons, and the number in each carriage shall in no case exceed the regulation number.

Procedure in case of death or illness of emigrants.

15. Every Agent or Manager shall report to the police-station, within the jurisdiction of which the depôt or rest-house of which he is in charge is situated, the occurrence and the supposed cause of every death which takes place at such depôt or rest-house, or in the course of the journey to any depôt or rest-house. Such report shall be made within twenty-four hours of the occurrence of such death.

For every omission to comply with the provisions of this rule, the Agent or Manager responsible shall be liable to a fine not exceeding Rs. 200.

16. Every Agent, or person appointed by him as aforesaid, shall report to the nearest Magistrate, police-station or Embarkation Agent, or to the Superintendent of Emigration in Calcutta, the case of any emigrant or dependent who, while under his charge, appears to be suffering from cholera or small-pox, and in default shall be liable to a fine not exceeding Rs. 200.

A Magistrate or Embarkation Agent or the Superintendent of Emigration in Calcutta may, on receipt of such report, or on his own motion, if himself a medical man, examine, or if not himself a medical man, send for examination to a medical man, any emigrant who appears to be suffering from cholera or small-pox.

17. If such emigrant or dependent is on such examination declared to be suffering from such disease, the Magistrate or Embarkation Agent or the Superintendent of Emigration in Calcutta may order him to be detained at such place as he thinks fit, until the emigrant or dependent is in a fit state of health to undertake such journey, when he shall either be forwarded to the labour district, or sent back to the place from which he came, according as the Agent or person appointed by him accompanying such labourer or dependent may direct.

While any emigrant or dependent is so detained, he shall be entitled to be fed, lodged, clothed, and (if necessary) medically treated at the cost of the Agent.

18. When an order under Rule 17 has been made with reference to any emigrant, any person dependent upon, and any other emigrant being the wife or husband of, such emigrant shall be entitled—

(a) until such emigrant is in a fit state of health to undertake such journey, to be fed, lodged, clothed, and (if necessary) medically treated at the place where such emigrant is detained, and at the cost of the Agent;

(b) if such emigrant is sent back to the place from which he came, to be sent back to such place at the cost of the Agent.

When any such order has been made with reference to any dependent, the emigrant to whom he is attached shall thereupon, until such dependent is in a fit state of health to undertake the journey to the labour district, be entitled, if the emigrant so wishes, and if he or she be the husband, wife, son or daughter of such dependent, to be fed, lodged, clothed, and (if necessary) medically treated at the place where such dependent is detained, and at the cost of the Agent; and if such dependent is sent back to the place from which he came, such emigrant shall, if he or she so wishes, and if he or she be the husband, wife, son or daughter, of such dependent, be sent back to such place.

If such emigrant is entitled and claims to be fed, lodged, clothed, and (if necessary) medically treated or to be sent back, his or her dependents, and any other emigrant being the wife or husband of such emigrant, shall be entitled, as the case may be—

(a) to be fed, lodged, clothed, and (if necessary) medically treated at the place where such dependent is detained, and at the cost of such Agent, until such dependent is in a fit state of health to undertake the journey to the labour district, or

(b) to be sent back at the cost of the Agent to the place from which he or she came.

19. If the Agent or person appointed by him accompanying any emigrant or dependent fails to provide such emigrant or dependent with food, lodging, clothing and medical treatment, or to send him back as required by Rule 17 or 18, the Magistrate or Embarkation Agent or the Superintendent of Emigration in Calcutta may order such Agent or person to pay such sum as is necessary to provide such food, lodging, clothing and medical treatment, or to defray the cost of the return journey of such emigrant or dependent, as the case may be, to the place from which he came, and on failure for twenty-four hours of such Agent or person to comply with such order, he may pay the sum specified in the order to or on behalf of such emigrant or dependent, and recover the amount from the Agent.

20. In the event of an emigrant or dependent dying on the journey by road to any railway station on the way to the labour district, the Agent or his employé shall arrange promptly for the disposal of the dead body in a suitable manner. If he fails to do so, the District Magistrate, or any one appointed by the District Magistrate in that behalf, or the Superintendent of Emigration in Calcutta, may dispose of the dead body, and the cost shall be recoverable from the Agent.

21. If an emigrant or dependent is attacked by cholera or small-pox, he shall on recovery be supplied with clothing by the Agent on the scale provided in the case of contractors' emigrants by the rules made under Act I of 1882. If he fails to do so, the District Magistrate, or any one appointed by him in that behalf, or the Superintendent of Emigration in Calcutta, may supply such clothing, and the cost shall be recoverable from the Agent.

22. If an emigrant or dependent is attacked by cholera or small-pox on a railway journey, the Agent, or person appointed by him as aforesaid, shall remove the patient as soon as possible to the nearest cholera hospital on the line, or other suitable place for medical treatment, or in default shall be subject to a fine not exceeding Rs. 200.

Miscellaneous.

23. In any case under these rules, except Rule 15, it shall be competent to the Magistrate to award as compensation to any emigrant concerned or injured, the whole or any portion of the fine or fines levied and realised, and under Rule 15 to award such compensation to the dependents of the deceased, or, if the deceased was a dependent, to the emigrant to whom the dependent was attached.

24. Any fine imposed upon a Manager or other employé of an Agent in consequence of any act done on behalf of the Agent shall, in default of payment by the Manager or employé, be recoverable from the Agent.

Calcutta University Notice.

HIS EXCELLENCY the Chancellor has decided to allow the Masters or Doctors in some Faculty and Bachelors of Arts who graduated before the year 1867, to fill up three vacancies in the Senate by election, one of the vacancies being reserved for a Doctor in Medicine or a Bachelor in Medicine of ten years' standing. Candidates for election must be Masters or Doctors in some Faculty or Bachelors of Arts who took their degree before the year 1867, or Bachelors in Medicine of ten years' standing.

The election will take place at the Senate House, College Square, on Wednesday, the 1st January 1896.

Every candidate for election must be nominated by a Master or Doctor in some Faculty or a Bachelor of Arts who took his degree before the year 1867, and no Graduate will be allowed to nominate more than one candidate. The written nominations of candidates must reach the office of the Registrar not later than the 9th December.

On and after the 16th December, voting papers containing the names of the candidates nominated will, on application, be supplied by the Registrar. These papers must be filled up in the presence of the Registrar at the Senate House on the 1st January 1896, between the hours of 10 A.M and 5 P.M. but Graduates who are not able to appear in person before the Registrar may fill up the papers in the presence of a Magistrate, a Judge, Subordinate Judge, or a Munsiff (excluding Village Munsiffs), by whom the papers will be countersigned. All voting papers, duly signed and countersigned as aforesaid, must reach the Registrar not later than 3 P.M. on Wednesday, the 1st January 1896, after which no voting paper will be accepted. Graduates who are not personally known to the officer in whose presence the voting papers are filled up must bring with them their diplomas or other satisfactory proof of identity.

SENATE HOUSE:
The 2nd December 1895.

W. GRIFFITHS,
Registrar.

Civil Engineering College, Sibpur.

Apprentice Department.

THE date for admission to this Department is 3rd February 1896.

Candidates must be at least 15 and not more than 17 years of age.

They must have passed Standard VII of the Code for European Schools or the University Entrance Examination in English and Mathematics. They must submit their applications accompanied by a certificate of age and a certificate showing that they have passed the requisite standard, so as to reach the Principal not later than the 15th January 1896. No applications will be attended to after this date.

The number to be admitted each year is limited to 60, and applicants will be selected in order of merit.

Every applicant, before admission to the College, will be examined by the College Surgeon as to his physical strength, chest measurement, fitness for manual labour, and eyesight. If this officer's report is unsatisfactory, the applicant will not be admitted.

Before an apprentice is admitted to the College his parent or guardian must sign an agreement in the form shown in Appendix A.

The session begins on the first Monday in February. All apprentices are required to join the College on that date. Any apprentice prevented by sickness from attending on the opening day must produce a certificate to that effect from a Civil or Assistant Surgeon, failing which he will be liable to a fine not exceeding Rs. 10. No apprentice will be admitted or re-admitted to the College after the close of the month of February, except by special order of the Director of Public Instruction. This permission will only be given under exceptional circumstances.

There will be two vacancies on the free list for Christian apprentices in February next and three on the reduced fee-list.

* Rs. 5 per mensem.

For natives there will be at least six vacancies, possibly more, on the reduced† fee-list.

† Rs. 2 per mensem.

These vacancies will be filled up after the opening of the session by the Board of Visitors from those apprentices who join the College. No guarantee can therefore be given beforehand, but forms to be filled up for the consideration of the Board can be had on application to the Principal.

SIBPUR, the 22nd November 1895

NOTIFICATIONS OF THE BOARD OF REVENUE.

UNDER section 22 (2) of Act I (B.C.) of 1895, the Public Demand Recovery Act, the following rules have been framed by the Board with reference to the requirements of section 287 of the Code of Civil Procedure in regard to sales of property in execution of a certificate, and are published for general information:—

I.—When the officer who effects an attachment under section 269, Act XIV of 1882, believes that the property attached does not exceed twenty rupees in value, he shall inform the debtor, or, in his absence, any present adult member of his family, that it will be sold by public auction at once, without the issue of any proclamation under section 287. In case the decree-holder or the judgment-debtor, or any person on his behalf, objects to the adoption of the course, the attaching officer will convoke a panchayat of not less than three respectable adult male inhabitants of the neighbourhood, of whom ordinarily the headman of the village should be one, and will require them to assess the value of the property. If they determine that it exceeds Rs. 20 in value, he shall deal with it under the rules framed by the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, otherwise he shall forthwith proceed to sell it by auction, after giving such reasonable notice, as the circumstances of the case admit of, to intending purchasers.

II.—At the time of making an application under section 230, Act XIV of 1882, for the attachment of moveable property in the possession of the judgment-debtor, the decree-holder shall pay the costs of issuing the proclamation of sale under section 287 of the Act, unless the value of the property, the attachment of which is applied for, is alleged by him not to exceed Rs. 20 in value. In this case, should the value of the property as determined by the above rule, be found to exceed Rs. 20, the decree-holder shall pay the costs of the proclamation immediately on receipt of notice of attachment.

III.—Sales of moveable property not exceeding Rs. 20 in value shall be held on the spot. Such sales will necessarily be conducted by peons when they are the attaching officers. Sales of moveable property of greater value may be held on the spot or at the Sadar or subdivisional head-quarters, as may seem convenient and conducive to the securing of good prices. For such sales officers of higher rank than peons should always be deputed when the value of the property is estimated to exceed Rs. 50, and proclamation should be issued. When the value is between Rs. 20 and Rs. 50, the Collector or Deputy Collector may by a special order depute a peon, if he considers it desirable to do so.

Sale of moveable property.

IV.—Sales of immoveable property should ordinarily be held at the district or subdivisional head-quarters, according as the villages may be nearer to either, but sales on the spot are desirable when bids or sufficient bids cannot be obtained at head-quarters. It sometimes happens that it is only by holding sales in the villages that the property can be disposed of. When this is the case, nazirs, naib-nazirs or bakshis should be employed; but in rare instances, where the value of the property is very small and the cost of deputing a higher officer would be out of proportion to it, a trustworthy peon may be sent out under the special orders of the Collector or Deputy Collector. For all sales of immoveable property proclamation must be issued.

Sale of immoveable property.

V.—Sales of estates or shares of estates should always be held at the district or subdivisional head-quarters.

Sale of estates or shares of estates.

VI.—In order to ensure a good attendance of bidders and fair bids, it is desirable that regular sale days, whether one or more in the month, should be fixed, and that lists of property to be put up at each sale should be published some days in advance. This arrangement cannot, perhaps, be made ordinarily at subdivisions, where sales are few and far between, but it should be introduced where the sales are sufficiently numerous and regular.

Procedure for ensuring a good attendance of bidders and fair bids.

VII.—In cases in which the decree-holder applies for leave to purchase under section 294 of the Code of Civil Procedure, no order to set off the purchase-money against the amount of the decree shall be made upon the application for leave to purchase. Such order shall be made upon a petition presented after the property has been knocked down to the decree-holder at the auction-sale, and such petition shall be stamped with stamps of the value of the poundage fee due for selling the property, viz.—

2 per cent. on the gross amount realised by the sale of the property, up to Rs. 1,000.

1 per cent. more on all excess of all gross proceeds beyond Rs. 1,000.

VIII.—Upon the hearing of such petition the costs of execution, including the amount of the stamps attached to the petition, shall be ascertained and shall be added to the decree; and in cases in which the amount of the purchase-money exceeds the amount of the decree and of such costs, the decree-holder who has so purchased the property shall pay into Court the sum of 25 per cent. upon the balance of the purchase-money after deducting the amount of the decree and of such costs, and shall pay the balance at the expiration of fifteen days in accordance with section 307 of the Code of Civil Procedure.

The following are the conditions of sale:—

1.—The opium will be sold for exportation by sea only, and no certificate will be granted except to cover such export.

2.—The opium will be ordinarily offered for sale at an upset price of Rs. 800 per chest, and sold to the highest bidder above that price, except under the circumstances for which provision is made by clause 13 of these conditions of sale. The bids must advance by Rs. 5 at a time.

3.—The sale shall commence at the hour of 11 A.M. of the day fixed by previous notification, and shall not be continued after the hour of 5 P.M.; but if at that hour any of the lots advertised for sale shall remain unsold, the sale may, at the discretion of the Board of Revenue, be resumed on the next day following (not being Sunday or a public holiday), at the hour of 11 A.M., and so on until the whole of the remaining lots are disposed of; or, if the whole quantity advertised shall not be sold on the day appointed, the Board of Revenue may dispose of the lots which remain on hand at a future sale.

4.—Each lot shall contain five chests.

5.—A Promissory Note for a sum, calculated according to the scale, noted in the margin, shall be taken as a deposit on each lot from the purchaser in the sale-room and before the lot is registered in the sale-book, and all such Promissory Notes shall be redeemed on the part of the purchasers at this Office by Bank of Bengal receipts or by substitution of other public securities of the Government of India, on or before 3-30 P.M., in the afternoon of the fifth day after the sale, provided it does not fall on a Saturday; if it falls on a Saturday, the said notes must be redeemed by 1-30 P.M., or, on the other hand, failing such redemption by the time aforesaid, then the lot or lots for which no Bank of Bengal receipts or deposit of other public securities as aforesaid shall have been delivered in, shall be re-sold at such time or times and under such conditions of re-sale as the Board of Revenue shall see fit; and all losses and expenses whatsoever attending such re-sale shall be borne and paid by the defaulters, whilst any profit accruing from such re-sale shall be forfeited to Government.

DEPOSIT.

When the amount bid is less than Rs. 1,200 per chest, Rs. 200 per chest.
On bids of Rs. 1,200 and upwards, but less than Rs. 1,600 per chest, Rs. 300 per chest.
On bids of Rs. 1,600 and upwards, but less than Rs. 2,000 per chest, Rs. 400 per chest.
And so on, Rs. 100 being added to the deposit for every bid additional, to the extent of Rs. 400.

6.—The said Promissory Notes shall be absolutely payable in any event, and the amount thereof shall be absolutely forfeited upon such default as before mentioned, and the amount thereof shall not go or be credited in reduction of any loss on re-sale or expenses thereby incurred, but shall be recoverable whether such re-sale shall be had or not, or whether there shall be a loss on such re-sale or not.

7.—The Promissory Notes taken on the day of sale under the fifth condition, if remaining unredeemed at 3-30 P.M. of the fifth day following the day of sale, or 1-30 P.M., if the last day falls on a Saturday, will be placed in the hands of the Solicitor to the Government for realization in such manner as to him shall seem fit.

8.—No tender of money, Bank of Bengal Receipts, or public securities, on account of opium upon which the prescribed deposit may not have been made before the prescribed time in clause 5 on the fifth day following the day of sale will be afterwards accepted. Provided always that money so subsequently tendered may be taken in payment of the said Promissory Note, but such acceptance of money shall in no way entitle the payer thereof to any right to delivery of the lot or lots in respect whereof the said note was given, or to any of the rights of a purchaser thereof, or release the payer from liability for any unpaid balance of such notes or from the additional liability for the loss and expenses of such re-sale as provided for in clauses No. 5 and No. 6.

9.—The opium advertised for sale shall be paid for not later than by 3-30 P.M. of the fifteenth day from the day of sale, provided it does not fall on a Saturday; if it falls on a Saturday, the opium must be paid for by 1-30 P.M.; and in case any lots of such opium shall not be so paid for and adjusted, then the cash deposit made under the fifth condition, or any public securities that may have been deposited on account of such lots or chests, shall be forfeited, and the opium shall be disposed of on account of Government at such time and in such manner as the Board of Revenue shall think fit; and the first purchaser shall further be required to make good all expenses and any loss or difference of price between that obtained at the re-sale and the amount at which the opium was first purchased, forfeiting all advantages that may arise from such re-sale, and the liability for the loss or difference of price and expenses shall be in addition to, and wholly independent of, the amount of the deposit so forfeited.

10.—Purchasers taking out certificates or orders for the delivery of opium, after making full payment as above prescribed, shall have the option of naming the number of lots of their purchase, which they may desire to be included in each certificate or order; and it is to be clearly understood that the certificates or orders so taken out shall be considered final, and not afterwards changeable for other certificates or orders authorizing the delivery of single lots, or of a different number of lots or chests, whether more or less, than the number of lots or chests originally required to be included in each certificate or order.

11.—No deposit of public securities under the fifth of the present conditions will be received in this office except from the party recorded as the purchaser in the sale-book, or his authorized agent. The receipt for deposit of public securities will be granted only in the name of such purchaser, and the securities so deposited will be returned when payment in full has been made by the said purchaser or his order.

12.—The officer superintending the sale on the part of the Government is empowered to reject, at his discretion, the bid of any individual, unless such individual shall on demand render at the time a deposit either in Government of India Notes, Bank of Bengal Receipts, or Government Securities, a sum equal to the amount for which a promissory Note would otherwise be taken under the fifth of these conditions.

13.—With a view to prevent fictitious biddings designed to obstruct the sale, it is hereby notified that the officer of Government superintending the sale shall be competent, at any time during the sale, to withdraw any unsold lot, and immediately to put it up again for sale at a maximum upset price, diminishing the same gradually by Rs. 5 at a time until a bid is obtained; and the first bonâ fide bidder for a lot after it has been offered for sale in the mode here described shall be held and declared to be the purchaser of the said lot, and the officer of Government Superintending the sale shall also be competent to dispose, in the same manner, of as many of the subsequent lots as he may think proper, provided always that no lot shall be sold below the minimum price of Rs. 800 specified in the second of these conditions.

14.—The purchaser of any lot shall have the option of naming and purchasing in immediate succession, at the same price and under the same conditions, any number of lots of the same Agency opium not exceeding altogether twenty-five lots, provided always that there remain a sufficient number of lots of the opium to complete the said twenty-five.

15.—In the event of any dispute or difference touching or concerning any matter or question arising out of the sale of the opium included in this notification, or adjustment of the account thereof, the same shall and may be tried and decided in the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal.

16.—The following papers will be exhibited for inspection on the day of sale, or may be seen previously to that date by personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue:—No. 1, certificate of the opium advertised for sale; No. 2, report of the examination of such opium.

17.—The public are hereby informed that in providing the investment of the opium manufactured at the Patna Factory and the opium manufactured at the Ghazipur Factory for the year 1894-95, the same precautions have been taken as those which have been observed during past years to have the drug procured and sent down in a pure state, to have only the prescribed quantity of leaves used in forming the cakes, and to have the due proportion of opium put into each cake. An account of the weight of the drug when packed at the Patna and Ghazipur Factories, and a statement of the average weight of the chests, indiscriminately taken, for the purpose of comparison, from the despatches on arrival at Calcutta, may be seen on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue.

18.—Any further information respecting weight or quality of the opium advertised for sale, that may be desired by parties connected with the trade, will, as heretofore, be furnished to them on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue. But, in accordance with established usage, under no circumstances will the Board of Revenue entertain or recognize any claim to compensation for loss from any alleged deficiency of weight, abstraction of opium, or adulteration of the drug, which may be preferred on reference to chests after the sale and delivery of the opium for shipment.

By order of the Board of Revenue, L. P.,

E. H. WALSH,
Offg. Secretary

Advertisement of Sale.

NOTICE is hereby given that the proprietary right of Government, as specified in the conditions of sale below, to the undermentioned estates situate in the district of Hooghly, will be put up to sale at the Hooghly Collectorate on the 19th December 1895, corresponding with 5th Pous 1302 (B.S.).

The purchasers will be subject to the following conditions of sale :—

Conditions of Sale.

1*st.*—The estate to be sold to the highest bidder above the upset price which will be fixed by the Collector at the time of sale. The purchaser of this estate will be considered as the proprietor of the estate and the entire proprietary right of Government in such estate will be transferred to him subject to the revenue fixed in perpetuity.

2*nd.*—The sale to be subject to existing leases and to the rights conferred by the settlement proceedings, and by the laws in force, and purchasers to be bound to respect the rights of resident cultivators who have signed the schedule of assessment prepared by the revenue authorities.

3*rd.*—If the amount of purchase-money do not exceed Rs. 100, the whole amount to be paid down at once.

4*th.*—If the amount of purchase-money exceed Rs. 100, one-fourth of the amount bid to be immediately deposited. If the balance be not paid by the noon of the 15th day after the sale, reckoning the day of sale as one, or, if that day be a close holiday, then by noon of the first succeeding office day, the sale is to be cancelled (the sum deposited being forfeited to Government), and the estate to be again put up to sale at the risk of the defaulting purchaser after issue of advertisement, as in the case of original sale :—

NOTICE TO SUBSCRIBERS.

SUBSCRIBERS to the Calcutta and Bengali Gazettes and Indian Law Reports are hereby informed that unless the amount of their subscription for 1896 is received before the 31st December 1895, it will be concluded that the Gazettes and Reports are no longer required, and the supply will accordingly be discontinued from 1st January 1896.

All remittances should be made direct to the Accountant and Treasurer, Bengal Secretariat, Calcutta, by means of money-orders. No postage stamps or stamps of any other kind will be received in payment of subscriptions.

The correct address of the subscriber should be legibly written on the money-order coupon, and the period for which the subscription is paid should also be stated. Omission to note these particulars will involve considerable delay.

C. E. A. W. OLDHAM,
Under-Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.
The 2nd December 1895.

The Indian Law Reports.

Published under Authority.

THE Indian Law Reports, published under the authority of the Governor-General in Council, appear in monthly parts, published as soon as possible after the first of each month at Calcutta, Madras, Bombay, and Allahabad, and comprise four series—one for the Calcutta High Court, a second for the Madras High Court, a third for the Bombay High Court, and a fourth for the Allahabad High Court. The cases heard by the Privy Council on appeal from each High Court are reported in the Series for that High Court. Cases heard by the Privy Council on appeal from Provinces in India not subject to any High Court are reported in the Calcutta Series.

The Calcutta Series is distributed by the Bengal Secretariat Book Depôt, and the Madras, Bombay, and Allahabad Series are distributed direct from Madras, Bombay, and Allahabad respectively.

In supersession of the previous advertisements, on and from the 1st January 1889 the terms of subscription and sale will be as follows for current issues as well as for back numbers of the Reports from 1876:—

REVISED ADVERTISEMENT.

A Dictionary of the Economic Products of India.
BY DR. GEO. WATT, C.I.E.,
Reporter on Economic Products.

Published under the authority of the Government of India in the Revenue and Agricultural Department.

The first five volumes and Vol. VI, Parts I, II, III & IV of the Dictionary are now ready at the Office of Superintendent of Government Printing, No. 8, Hastings Street, Calcutta, and will be supplied to non-subscribers on receipt of the price for the complete set, which is Rs. 45 in India, and 3 guineas in England (exclusive of the Index, for which a separate charge will be made): packing and postage, in India, 8 annas per volume; for England, Rs. 1-6 per volume. For copies bound in half calf or half morocco, Rs. 6 and 8 shillings, respectively, will be charged extra for the whole set.

The Dictionary is intended to deal with the products of India—animal, vegetable, and mineral; each product being treated after a uniform plan, the paragraphs of which give the scientific, vernacular, and European names; habitat or source; history; properties and uses (both chemical and industrial); trade statistics; markets, &c. The work is arranged alphabetically according to scientific nomenclature, but commercial and important vernacular names are also given as cross references, so that little difficulty need be experienced in finding the account of a product even when its scientific name is unknown to the reader.

An important feature of the Dictionary consists in the fact that derived information is in every instance given under quotation marks, and with a reference to the original publication. Numerous contributors have, however, furnished the results of new discoveries and confirmed the vernacular names, so that the Dictionary is not only a complete compilation of published information, but has been brought abreast of the most recent inventions and discoveries.

Volume I contains the letters A and B, and consists of 559 royal octavo pages; Vol. II embraces the letter C in 689 pages; Vol. III contains the letters D, E, F and half of G. Vol. IV latter half of G to middle of L; and Vol. V contains the latter half of L to end of O; Vol. VI, (which will consist of four parts), Part I, contains letters P to R. The whole work will, it is expected, be completed in nine volumes (including Parts II to IV of Vol. VI) during the current year; but a tenth volume may also be issued, consisting of an Index to all the vernacular and other names contained in the Dictionary. The Index will practically be a Glossary of the vernacular and European names of the plants, animals and minerals of India, and as such will be a work of reference, which, it is hoped, may prove of considerable value.

RESOLUTION REVIEWING THE REPORTS OF COMMISSIONERS OF DIVISIONS ON THE WORKING OF DISTRICT AND LOCAL BOARDS IN BENGAL DURING THE YEAR 1894-95.

MUNICIPAL DEPARTMENT—LOCAL SELF-GOVERNMENT.

Calcutta, the 3rd December 1895.

READ—

The Reports from the several Commissioners of Divisions on the Working of District Boards in Bengal during the year 1894-95.

Read again—

The Resolution reviewing the Divisional Reports on the Working of District Boards in Bengal during the year 1893-94.

ALL the reports were received on or about the prescribed date (31st July), with the exception of those from the Burdwan and Rajshahi Divisions, which did not reach Government till the 19th and 26th August, respectively.

2. The year under review was the ninth in which the Bengal Local Self-Government Act, III of 1885, was in operation. The number of District Boards remained unchanged during the year, but the number of Local Boards was increased from 102 to 103, owing to the establishment of a new Board at Thakurgaon, in the district of Dinajpur. The statistics furnished for the Rajshahi Division show a decline of 24 square miles in the area and of 41,349 in the population subject to the control of District Boards, but the cause of this is not explained, nor is there a corresponding increase in the statistics of any other Division. Trifling variations in the area and population of the Hooghly and Howrah districts and of several Local Boards appear to have been caused by unimportant transfers from one subdivision to another.

3. Constitution of District Boards.—The number of members of District Boards was the same as in the previous year, viz. 794. Of this number, 172 held their seats ex-officio, against 171 in the previous year 293 were nominated, as compared with 314, and 329 were elected by Local Boards, against 309 in 1893-94. Classified on another principle, 247 members were officials and 547 non-officials, against 242 and 552 respectively in the previous year. The European and Eurasian members numbered 196 against 200, and the natives of the country 598 against 594. The variation in the number of nominated and elected members was due principally to the fact that in Saran, where in 1891 the District Board elections were held too late and the members thus informally elected were appointed by Government, 15 members were duly elected by the Local Boards during last year. In every instance the Magistrate of the district was re-appointed Chairman, under section 24 of the Act, on the expiry of his term of office.

4. The total number of meetings held by the District Boards was 571, or 51 less than in 1893 94. The District Board of Puri heads the list with 24 meetings; Muzaffarpur comes next with 22 meetings; and the District Boards of Mymensingh, Backergunge, and Gaya each held 20 meetings or more. In Khulna and Shahabad the Boards held less than one meeting a month. As compared with the figures of the previous year, the falling off in the number of meetings was considerable at Bhagalpur, Champaran, Dinajpur, Darbhanga, and Patna, while Monghyr, Bankura, and Midnapore show a satisfactory increase. In Khulna the decrease is said to have been due to lack of business to occupy the Boards—an excuse which the Commissioner is not disposed to accept. In the case of the other districts mentioned, no attempt has been made to explain why so few meetings were held. The Lieutenant-Governor's views as to the duties of District Boards in this matter were stated at length in the Resolution on last year's report, and he desires to impress upon the Chairmen of Boards that the rule of holding at least one meeting a month should only be departed from under very exceptional circumstances.

5. The number of meetings that had to be adjourned, together with those that were entirely abortive, owing to the absence of a quorum, amounted to 89, or 5 less than in the previous year. Although this shows some improvement on the record of the previous year, the number of these failures was still unduly high in the districts noted in the margin In Muzaffarpur the adjournments are ascribed to the death of two of the European members, and also to the apathy of certain native members in attending meetings, while in Puri the increase in the total number of meetings is the cause assigned. As regards the other districts, no explanation has been offered. The Lieutenant-Governor again draws attention to this important matter, and trusts that both Chairmen and members of Boards will endeavour to manage better in future, and will bear in mind that every meeting that fails for want of a quorum causes annoyance and discouragement to the members who do take the trouble to attend.

Dinajpur ...	10
Muzaffarpur ...	9
Puri ..	7
Mymensingh ..	7
Jalpaiguri ..	6

6. Taking all the Boards together, the average attendance of members at each meeting was the same as in the previous year, viz. 9·8, or less than half of the average strength of the Boards. It was best in Nadia, Saran, Bhagalpur, and Mymensingh, and worst in Malda, Dinajpur, and Jalpaiguri, where more than two-thirds of the members were usually absent. No explanation regarding the small attendance in Malda has been furnished. In regard to the small attendance of members in Dinajpur, the Chairman observes that "this is due more to apathy on the part of the members than any other cause." In Jalpaiguri the bad attendance is attributed to the difficulty of travelling during the rains and to want of interest in the work of the Board. In Champaran it is explained that some of the members had left the district for England, and had not resigned their seats before leaving. The attendance of official members shows a slight advance, but there is still room for improvement.

7. Constitution of Local Boards.—The 103 Local Boards had a total strength of 1,231 members, or nine more than in the previous year. Of these, 47 were ex-officio members, 744 were nominated, and 440 elected. There were 156 officials and 1,075 non-officials on the Boards; and classified according to their nationality, 115 members were Europeans or Eurasians, the rest being natives of this country.

8. The Local Boards held 1,146 meetings, or 33 meetings more than in 1893-94. Of this number 227, as compared with 164 in the previous year, had to be adjourned or proved abortive owing to failure to form a quorum. Only 26 Local Boards, as against 33 in the previous year, held more than 12 meetings. The highest number (30) was attained by the Local Board of Jessore. The Sadar Board of the Howrah district comes next with 24 meetings, none of which were abortive or adjourned. No less than 63 Local Boards failed to meet once a month. The following statement, comparing the results of the last two years, shows a slight falling off in the attendance of non-official members:—

	Official.	Non-official.	Total.
1	2	3	4	5
1893-94 ...	·9	4 6	5·5	45 9
1894-95 ...	·9	4·4	5·3	44 3

9. Elections.—No general elections were held in any district during the year. Three bye-elections took place in the Presidency Division—one in the Kushtia subdivision of Nadia, and two in the Magura and Narail subdivisions of Jessore. In Kushtia no candidate was even nominated, and the vacancy was filled up by appointment under section 10 of the Local Self-Government Act. The bye-elections in the other two subdivisions were not contested. In the Burdwan Division two out of four bye-elections failed for want of voters, and the vacancies had to be filled up by appointment. The bye-elections in the Rajshahi and Dacca Divisions were successful, and in the latter case the voters are said to have taken considerable interest in the proceedings.

10. Occupation of members of District and Local Boards.—The following table classifies the members of the several District and Local Boards according to their professions and occupations:—

	Government servants		Zamindars, &c		Pleaders and Mukthars		Planters.		Missionaries.		Government Pensioners		Other Classes.		Total number of members.

There has been no material change in the composition of the Boards.

11. Powers of Local Boards.—Comparatively few changes have been made in the powers exercised by Local Boards, as summarised in paragraph 12 of the Resolution on last year's reports. With certain exceptions, they continue to administer the grants for village roads, pounds, ferries and primary education, while in some districts the supervision of dispensaries, village sanitation and district roads has also been entrusted to them.

Notwithstanding the remarks on this subject in last year's Resolution, the District Board of Burdwan decided to maintain the arrangement under which, while the control of secondary education rests with the District Board, the Local Boards undertake the payment of grants to the schools. Even this mechanical function, however, is stated to have been irregularly exercised, and the Commissioner has asked the District Board to reconsider their decision, which appears to have been arrived at in opposition to the advice of their Chairman. In Birbhum the management of pounds and of certain scheduled roads in the Rampur Hát subdivision was made over to the Local Board; and in Bankura pounds and ferries were similarly transferred. The control of primary education was entrusted as an experiment to the Local Board of Tamluk in Midnapore, and also to the Local Boards in the district of Howrah. The Magistrate of the latter district, however, who was on leave when the transfer was sanctioned, remarks that these bodies do their other work so badly that he has little expectation of their succeeding in the supervision of education. Mr. Grierson's opinion on this point is to some extent borne out by the statement of the Director of Public Instruction that the Howrah Local Boards rarely consulted the Deputy Inspector, and appear to have failed signally in conducting the examinations of lower primary schools. In Birbhum and Midnapore the Local Boards are said to have done fairly well; in Bankura and Hooghly they managed education and village roads in a satisfactory manner; but their administration of pounds was weak.

In the Presidency Division no change was made in the duties delegated to Local Boards, and the general character of their work is unfavourably reported on. The Diamond Harbour Local Board failed to spend their allotment for village roads, and resorted to the irregular expedient of drawing out the balance in a lump sum at the end of the year. None of the Boards managed the pounds under their charge efficiently, nor did they keep in good order the district unmetalled roads entrusted to them. In Nadia these bodies did not take the trouble to distribute their allotments for village roads in time for repairs to be done, and although their management of pounds and ferries showed a slight improvement, they took no interest in primary education, dispensaries or sanitation. The Murshidabad Local Boards are described as taking no interest in village roads and primary education, and the Chairman reports that it would be better if they were absorbed in the District Board. In Jessore the state of the village roads is said to be discreditable to the Local Boards, and in more than one instance heavy loss was sustained owing to their lax administration of pounds. A similar complaint is made from Khulna, where the District Magistrate reports that the incompetence of the Satkhira Local Board led to considerable embezzlements by their clerk.

In Rajshahi and Rangpur the Local Boards are said to have done fairly well; the only Local Board in Dinajpur was created during the year; at Sirajganj, in Pabna, the Local Board is said to have proved inefficient, and it was necessary to curtail its powers. The Commissioner remarks that when the Subdivisional Officer is not a member of the Local Board, much of the experience gained by him when on tour cannot be brought to bear directly on the Board's business, and recommends that in Sirajganj and elsewhere Subdivisional Officers should be made members of the Local Boards. This, however, is not desirable unless the Board apply to have the Subdivisional Officer appointed Chairman.

The Commissioner of Dacca reports that the Local Boards of that Division worked well "within their still very limited sphere." In Mymensingh their management of primary education has resulted in a considerable increase both of schools and pupils; and in Faridpur, Mr. Herald, the Magistrate, expresses a hope that the addition of primary education to their duties will result in a general improvement in their work. On the other hand, Mr. LeMesurier, the Magistrate of Backergunge, says that the Local Boards of his district "do not appear anxious to have their field extended, and are too apt to ask the District Board to take over from them any road or other work likely to need money or trouble to build or to keep up." Mr. LeMesurier thinks this is due in part to the difficulty of getting about during half the year.

The duties of Local Boards in the Chittagong Division were increased by giving them control of the grant for primary schools. The Commissioner remarks that dispensaries might properly be made over to them, but that the Civil Surgeon, who is a member of the District Board, and can easily get what he wants from that body, would find a difficulty in carrying on communication with Local Boards.

In Shahabad, an important change was introduced by the District Board in the system of allotments to the Local Boards for works. A lump grant was made, and the Local Boards were empowered to distribute it at their discretion under original works or repairs; at the same time, they were authorised to pass their own estimates up to a limit of Rs. 300 without reference to the District Board. The Saran District Board proposed to vest in the Local Boards the duty of carrying out petty repairs of bridges and ordinary repairs of all district roads. Neither of these proposals commend themselves to the Commissioner, who considers that the first can only succeed if the Subdivisional Officer is Chairman of the Local Board, and has asked the District Board to reconsider the second.

No changes were made in the powers of the Local Boards in the Bhagalpur Division.

The only change that occurred in Orissa was that the Local Board of Bhadrak, in Balasore, was relieved of the management of district roads. In Balasore and Cuttack the Local Boards are said to have worked well; but in Puri the Chairman of the District Board complains that the Khurda Local Board neglected the collection of receipts from pounds and ferries, and that the Puri Local Board never visited the village roads under their charge, and failed to spend their allotment.

12. Union Committees.—It was originally intended that the village union should be the working unit of local self-government in this Province, and the Bill which passed into law as Bengal Act III of 1885 was at first drafted on this principle. Later on, however, a change was made by which the District Board became the unit of administration with Local Boards under it, while the Union Committees were relegated to a position of such minor importance that it was not thought worth while to attempt to work the provisions of the law dealing with them. The Government of India, however, having expressed a desire that the system of village unions should be introduced experimentally into selected rural areas in Bengal, the Lieutenant-Governor decided to constitute Union Committees in those localities only where the experiment seemed likely to succeed. Accordingly, since the close of the year, sanction has been accorded to the formation of 24 unions in the Presidency Division, 15 in Burdwan, and 5 in the Tippera district of the Chittagong Division. The working of the Committees will be carefully watched with reference to the possibility of gradually extending the system.

14. Credit balance.—The year 1893-94 closed with a credit balance of Rs. 17,34,464 (corrected figure), which was reduced to Rs. 17,32,181 by the close of 1894-95. Out of this sum, however, more than three and-a-half lakhs consisted of deposits, which were not at the disposal of the Boards. The actual balance was Rs. 13,79,500, or an average of rather more than Rs. 36,000 per Board. The closing balances amounted to more than half of the year's income in Bogra, Tippera, Noakhali, and Malda, and to more than one-third in the three districts of the Chittagong Division, Gaya, and Bhagalpur. The district fund of Murshidabad closed with a deficit of Rs. 7,297, owing to the budget allotments for the year having been fully spent, while the actual receipts on account of cesses fell short of the estimate. The application for a loan of Rs. 15,000, made by the District Board to establish equilibrium between the receipts and expenditure, has since been sanctioned by Government, and the usual preliminary notification published in the Calcutta Gazette. In the cases of Gaya, Tippera, and Noakhali, the large balances are adequately accounted for, but in Chittagong, Bhagalpur, and Malda there seems to have been no proper reason for not spending a large proportion of the balance during the year. The practice which prevails in some districts of District Engineers delaying their certificates of work done until so late in March that the contractors cannot be paid until after the close of the year should be put a stop to, as it falsifies and disarranges the budgets of both years, and involves the submission of revised budgets and reappropriation statements.

INCOME.

15. Land Revenue.—Agreeably to the instructions issued last year, the income previously shown under this head on account of sale-proceeds of trees, &c., recoveries of the cost of collecting road-cess arrears, and fees, fines, and forfeitures, has been transferred to head XXV—"Miscellaneous:" consequently the head of land revenue will in future disappear from the accounts.

16. Provincial rates (Rs. 35,60,402).—The amount shown under this head represents the receipts of the road-cess in each district, which are credited to the District Board, after deducting the cost of collection and revaluation. Compared with the figures for the previous year, the income derived from this source shows a decrease from Rs. 35,97,417 to Rs. 35,60,402; the decrease being largest in Champaran, where heavy arrears were collected in the previous year, and in Patna, where the cost of revaluation was deducted from the amount credited to the District Board.

17. Interest.—The increase under this head, from Rs. 674 in 1893-94 to Rs. 37,616 in 1894-95, is mainly due to the transfer of the interest on arrears of road cess from "Provincial rates" to this head, under the instructions issued by the Accountant-General, Bengal.

18. Pounds.—The number of pounds increased from 3,456 to 3,514. Of these, 3,401 were farmed and 113 managed direct. The receipts under this head amounted to Rs. 4,36,693, against Rs. 4,50,009, showing a net decrease of Rs. 13,316. This falling off is variously ascribed to bad seasons, to floods, to laxity in collecting, to the introduction of new pound forms and more stringent supervision, which tended to reduce competition and lowered auction-prices, to the fact that speculative bids were refused, and finally to the acceptance of bids which led to defaults and re-sales at much reduced rents. In these suggestions there is clearly a large element of guess-work, and all of them can hardly be correct. It seems, however, likely enough that the prospect of having to keep up more elaborate forms and to undergo more frequent supervision may have deterred some of the old farmers from coming forward to bid. and that their places have not yet been filled.

19. The system of farming pounds has been introduced everywhere, and only a few pounds are managed direct. In Champaran, where direct management had long been in force, the receipts have steadily declined, owing to the dishonesty of the pound-keepers, several of whom were prosecuted and convicted during the past year. The Board have now resolved to adopt the farming system. Attempts have been made throughout the province to improve the management of pounds by granting leases for three years to respectable men living in the neighbourhood of the pounds, and a fair measure of success has been attained, though in some districts it is said to be difficult to find suitable lessees.

20. The new pound forms prescribed in Government circular No. 3T.M., dated the 22nd May 1893, were introduced in almost all the districts. It is reported that this has been imperfectly done in the Howrah and Midnapore districts on account of the apathy and mismanagement of the Local Boards. Steps have, however, been taken by the Chairmen of the District Boards concerned to remedy the defect. In some of the districts complaints have been made that the forms are too elaborate for an illiterate pound-keeper, but, as was observed last year, pounds should not be let to illiterate men. In most districts, however, they appear to have worked well, and the farmers will no doubt soon get used to them. Any change of the kind is sure to be unpopular at first, but if the farming system is to be maintained, it is essential that effective control should be exercised, and this end can only be attained by means of well-devised receipts and forms, which render it possible to trace the individual cattle impounded.

21. The year under report shows an outstanding balance of Rs. 52,501, which indicates considerable mismanagement. If a deposit of a quarter's rent is taken and collections made regularly, there ought to be no difficulty in attaining as good results as in Monghyr and Birbhum, where the entire demand was collected, or in many other districts where only nominal balances remained outstanding. During the year regular inspections of pounds were made by officers of Government and of the District Boards. In Howrah these inspections disclosed serious neglect of rules, and the Chairman of the District Board has granted a couple of months' time to the Sadar Local Board to rectify these defects. In Rajshahi a member of the Board brought to notice the conduct of a pound-keeper in taking more than the authorized fines, and the offender was prosecuted and fined. Eight farmers of pounds in Dinajpur were prosecuted for neglect of duty during the year, and all of them were convicted. Some of the pound-keepers in Champaran were prosecuted to conviction for embezzling pound collections. The Chairman of the District Board of Saran finds that cattle-lifters in some cases use the pounds as a safe means of returning stolen cattle after black-mailing the owners. Some farmers of pounds in Puri were found to have entered false dates in their receipts, and were fined. One of them was prosecuted and was punished for having misappropriated impounded cattle.

22. Education.—The total receipts under this head increased from Rs. 45,561 to Rs. 54,953. To this increase all the District Boards have contributed except those of Hooghly, Jessore, Khulna, Bogra, Faridpur, Chittagong, Patna, Gaya, Shahabad, Saran, Muzaffarpur, Bhagalpur, Purnea, Malda, Cuttack, and Balasore. Compared with the previous year, the receipts in the Darbhanga, Champaran, Mymensingh, Dinajpur, Rangpur and Pabna districts show a considerable increase, due to contributions from private persons and from Government, sale of manufactures turned out by the technical schools, and increased fees. A handsome subscription of Rs. 1,500 was paid by Raja Govinda Lal Bahadur to the Rangpur Technical School. The fluctuations in the other districts call for no remarks.

24. Medical.—Compared with the previous year, the total income under this head shows an increase, which occurred in all the divisions except Rajshahi. The decrease in the Rajshahi Division is due to the fact that the Shahazadpur dispensary remained closed throughout the year in consequence of the building occupied by it having been burnt down.

24. Scientific and other Minor Departments.—The income under this head was Rs. 5,425, against Rs. 4,689 in 1893-94. Receipts are reported from four districts only, viz., Birbhum, the 24-Parganas, Dacca, and Saran, and were on account of conservancy and sanitary arrangements made at various fairs in those districts.

25. Miscellaneous.—The income under this head amounted to Rs. 1,99,526, against Rs. 1,31,080 in the previous year. The increase, which occurred in every division except Rajshahi, is chiefly due to the inclusion for the first time under this head of the income previously shown under the head "Land Revenue" from sale-proceeds of trees, recoveries of cost of collecting road-cess arrears, and fees, fines and forfeitures. The decrease in Rangpur is considerable, and is due to the fact that Rs. 16,757, being the balance of the drainage fund formed by public subscription and lodged in the Postal Savings Bank, was credited to the district fund as miscellaneous receipts during the year 1893-94. There was a decrease of Rs. 1,729 in the receipts from staging bungalows, which was shared by all divisions except Dacca and Patna.

26. Minor Works and Navigation.—There was no income under this head in any division except the Presidency and Chittagong. In the former the receipts represent rents for a fishery in a drainage channel, and in the latter receipts hitherto shown under Land Revenue have, under the orders of the Accountant-General, Bengal, been transferred to this head.

27. Civil Works, including Ferries.—The income under this head amounted to Rs. 10,43,703, against Rs. 11,45,828 in 1893-94. The receipts are chiefly composed of tolls on ferries and contributions by Government or private individuals for the execution of particular works. These contributions amounted to Rs. 6,39,133, against Rs. 7,52,311 in the previous year. All sums granted for the execution of particular works to be carried out by local officers have been entered in column 36 of Statement II, column 67 being thus left to those contributions which are yearly allotted to balance receipts and expenditure. The receipts from ferries increased from Rs. 3,83,158 to Rs. 3,94,072. In the 24-Parganas the revenue from this source has fallen off continuously since 1890-91, although the number of ferries has increased. In anticpation of an increase in traffic, the Mymensingh District Board have taken up no less than 62 ferries, and the Commissioner suggests that, in order to bring all ferries in the district under the same management, they should also rent the ferries belonging to Government. In the Dacca and Chittagong Divisions attempts were made to lease ferries for longer periods than one year, but a difficulty was found in inducing suitable lessees to come forward. All the districts of the Patna Division show an increase except Patna itself, where the abolition of the Panapur ferry on the completion of the bridge and the adjustment of ferry deposits, wrongly credited as rent, produced a decrease of Rs. 9,483. In Muzaffarpur the causes which contributed to the improvement of revenue under this head were the establishment of eight new ferries, the transfer of a ferry from the charge of the Magistrate to that of the District Board, better settlements and more punctual collections.

28. In most districts attention has been paid to the instructions issued in last year's Resolution in regard to the inspection of ferries, the condition of boats, landing stages and approaches, and the conduct of farmers and their employés. The Commissioner of the Rajshahi Division has advocated the use, in ordinary rivers, of floating platforms on which a loaded cart can be driven, and in all parts of his division, except Rangpur, this system has been more or less adopted. The inspection of ferries in Dinajpur resulted in the prosecution for neglect of duty of three farmers, all of whom were convicted. In Saran there was a complaint from one place that tolls were illegally levied from persons who forded the river without using the farmer's boat. The case, it is reported, is under investigation by the Magistrate. In Noakhali an Inspector of pounds and ferries was appointed, and abuses in connection with ferries have to a certain extent been checked thereby. The Lieutenant-Governor desires that in future every district officer will note how the system of unexpected inspection of ferries has worked.

29. Contributions.—The contributions to District Boards from Provincial revenues to maintain equilibrium between the receipts and expenditure of those bodies amounted to Rs. 5,02,999, against Rs. 4,79,149 in 1893-94. The increase was due to the special grants made for the promotion of primary education.

30. Deposits and Advances.—The sums deposited as security for payment of revenue by ferry farmers, contractors, and others, and the recoveries and adjustments on account of advances made from the District Fund, increased from Rs. 6,47,994 in 1893-94 to Rs. 7,20,264 in 1894-95. During the year under report the Dinajpur District Board drew the last instalment, Rs. 40,000, of the loan of two lakhs which they obtained from Government in 1890-91 for the construction of permanent bridges on the more important roads of the district. The sum of Rs. 30,000 shewn against Chittagong represents the loan taken by the District Board from the Court of Wards' Estates at 5 per cent. interest to meet the cost of the General Hospital to be constructed jointly by the Municipality, District Board, and the Port Trust.

Expenditure.

31. Administration.—The expenditure under this head amounted to Rs. 2,94,974, against Rs. 2,98,493 in 1893-94. In the Presidency Division, the falling off is slight, and is mainly due to a decrease in the travelling allowance granted to the members of the Jessore District Board. In the Patna Division, where the decrease is largest, it occurred chiefly under audit and treasury establishments, and the charges on account of travelling allowances paid to District Board members, but it is also partly due to the saving in the salary of the Secretary to the District Board, Patna, and to the abolition of pound muharrirs in Saran. The rise in expenditure in the other divisions calls for no remarks, being mainly due to the grant of annual increments to employés, the payment of increased charges for establishment in offices of accounts, control and audit, and increased charges on account of travelling allowance to members of District Boards.

32. Pension and Provident Fund Rules.—As remarked in last year's Resolution, the rules for the management of a Provident Fund have been adopted by all District Boards. Pension rules for the benefit of those employés who have been transferred from Government service, or from service under the Road Cess Committees, have also been adopted in all districts, except in Bankura and Faridpur. The Lieutenant-Governor trusts that these two Boards will, without further delay, follow the example of the majority.

33. Pounds.—The expenditure on cattle pounds amounted to Rs. 27,215, being Rs. 260 less than in the previous year. The decrease is inconsiderable, except in Cuttack, where it fell from Rs. 4,961 in 1893-94 to Rs. 353, and was caused by the introduction of the farming system into the district. In the Patna Division there was a falling off of Rs. 1,783, which was due to reduction in charges for establishment in Saran, and also to the charges for the construction and repairs of pounds being less in several districts than in the previous year. In the Rajshahi Division the expenditure was Rs. 634 less than in the previous year, and was due to the abolition of the post of one of the two Inspectors of pounds and ferries in Rajshahi district. Dacca is the only Division where the expenditure on pounds shows a considerable increase over the figures for the previous year. Of this divisional increase of Rs. 5,490, the district of Mymensingh alone is responsible for Rs. 5,049, which was spent on erecting cattle pound sheds, and in providing the pounds with tariff boards. The fluctuations in the other districts do not call for special notice.

34. Education.—The expenditure on education amounted to Rs. 11,28,359, against Rs. 10,83,144 in the previous year, showing an increase of Rs. 45,215.

As in the last year, a considerable difference is noticeable in the district figures as given in Statement III and those given in the special Appendix B, the preparation of which was prescribed by the Lieutenant-Governor in 1893. The reasons for the difference are the same as those mentioned in last year's Resolution.

35. Examining the statistics in Statement III, it is found that there was an increase in the educational expenditure of all districts, except those named in the margin. The difference was inconsiderable in Saran and Purnea, and in Faridpur and Balasore is unexplained. The decrease in Hooghly was due to the non-payment of rewards for the lower primary scholarship and reward examinations held during the year, as the results of the examinations were only published just before the close of the year. The decrease in Tippera was caused by the transfer of the Elliott Artizan School with its grant to the control of the Artizan School Committee. In Noakhali it was due to the abolition of the technical school from 1st April 1894, as well as to reduced expenditure on the repairs of those model school-houses which had to be rebuilt after the cyclone of October 1893. Taking the expenditure on education by Divisions, it is noticed that there was an increase in all the Divisions, with the exception of Burdwan. In the Presidency Division the increase is marked in all districts except the 24-Parganas, and is chiefly due to the special grants made by Government during the year for the expansion of primary education in Nadia, Murshidabad, and Jessore, and in Khulna to the payment of the salary of inspecting pandits for the whole year, and not for a part of the year only, as in 1893-94, and to the payment of arrear bills of the grant-in-aid middle schools during the year. In the Bhagalpur Division it is said to be due to larger expenditure under the head of primary education. In the Orissa Division the slight increase in expenditure is the result of an increase in miscellaneous scholarships and primary schools.

36. Taking, next, the figures of Appendix B, which give a more accurate record of the educational expenditure of the District Boards, the abstract in the margin shows for the past two years the expenditure under the various sub-heads given in that statement. From this it appears that out of the total expenditure, 47·7 per cent. was spent on primary schools, 22·04 per cent. on middle schools, and 21·1 on inspection. A comparison of the figures of the year under review with those of the previous year shows that there has been an increase under all the heads, with the exception of "High schools." The increase under "Inspection" is common to all the Divisions excepting Bhagalpur and Orissa. In the Burdwan Division the increase in inspection charges amounted to Rs. 1,535, and was due to the appointment of a new inspecting pandit in Birbhum, to grade increments earned by Sub-Inspectors, and to increased travelling allowance drawn by Sub-Inspectors and inspecting pandits. In Bankura it is due to the classification of the pension contribution of one of the Sub-Inspectors under this head. The increase in the expenditure on grants-in-aid to primary schools is shared by all districts, except Birbhum, Midnapore, Hooghly, 24-Parganas, Dinajpur, Faridpur, Mymensingh, Darbhanga, Monghyr, Balasore, and Puri. The increase in Burdwan is reported to have been due chiefly to payments made on account of cheques amounting to Rs. 11,033 which were issued in the preceding year; but no explanation has been given in the case of the other districts referred to The increase under the sub-head "Miscellaneous" is due to the inclusion for the first time of Payments to abolished schools and Examination prizes and rewards under this head.

The average expenditure on education incurred by the District Boards during the year was 21·5 per cent. of their ordinary income against 20·6 in 1893-94, and that on primary education 15·2 per cent. against 14·2. The highest place in respect of educational expenditure, as a whole, is taken by the District Board of Bankura, which spent 43·2 of its income on this purpose. Balasore, Pabna, Dacca, Cuttack, Howrah, and Puri devoted 30 per cent. or more of their income to this purpose, while nineteen other districts show an expenditure of 20 per cent. and over. In Gaya, Shahabad, Muzaffarpur, and Darbhanga the proportion was below 10 per cent of income. Turning to the proportion spent on primary education Bankura has a ratio of 30 per cent., while in seven districts the expenditure was 20 per cent. or more. In Gaya, Shahabad, Muzaffarpur, Darbhanga, and Bhagalpur it was below the prescribed minimum of 10 per cent., although the first four districts show a little advance when compared with the results of the previous year. In Bhagalpur, although the amount actually spent on primary education is larger, the proportion which it bears to total income is less than in 1893-94. The Lieutenant-Governor has now sanctioned a permanent increase, aggregating Rs. 31,000, to the grants of the most backward districts, which will place them in a position to do more for the advancement of primary education and which will be set apart for this purpose.

38. On the formation of District Boards in Bengal, the control over middle and primary education, which had hitherto been exercised by Government, was transferred to those bodies; and in order to secure the satisfactory performance of the duty thus imposed upon them, the services of 133 Sub-Inspectors of Schools of the Government establishment were placed at the disposal of the Boards, while at the same time grants sufficient to meet the charges on account of the pay and travelling allowances of those officers were allotted to the District Boards concerned. Schools within municipalities and cantonments were not affected by this order: the control of those institutions remained as before in the hands of the Education Department, and 25 Sub-Inspectors were retained in the Department for this work. Experience has now shown that the consequent separation of schools into two classes, and the maintenance of a double inspecting agency, which that separation entailed, led to waste of time, money, and power, as two different sets of officers have frequently to travel over the same ground. Moreover, the existence of this double agency has been found to militate against the successful working of the system of payment by results, now widely established in Bengal, for the complete success of which it is desirable that as large a number of schools as possible should compete for the available grants. The only possible solution of the difficulty was to bring the entire establishment of the Sub-Inspectors in the districts in which the Bengal Local Self-Government Act, 1885, is in force under one control, and it was obvious that this result could be secured in either of two ways—viz., (1) by the retransfer to the Education Department of the Sub-Inspectors of Schools transferred to the service of the District Boards, or (2) by the transfer to the District Boards of the remaining Departmental Sub-Inspectors. Having regard to the general consensus of opinion of the officers consulted, the Lieutenant-Governor came to the conclusion that the latter course was the more satisfactory one, and accordingly, the remaining Sub-Inspectors of Schools were transferred to the District Boards, with effect from the 1st April 1895, subject to the conditions (I) that the Boards must arrange for the inspection of schools within municipalities, cantonments, and Government estates by their Sub-Inspectors without further charge to the State, and (II) that the services of one Sub-Inspector should be lent to the Deputy Inspector in each district for a fortnight, or any longer period that might be necessary, after the 1st April in each year, to assist the latter in the compilation of his annual returns. Grants were also made to the District Boards concerned in order to enable them to meet the cost of salary and travelling allowances of the Sub-Inspectors of Schools thus transferred to their service.

39. There has been no change in the educational functions delegated to District Boards. The relations of the Boards with the Deputy Inspector of Schools have, on the whole, been cordial, and complaints against their action tend to decrease. It is, however, reported that the Howrah Board offered

"passive opposition" to placing a Sub-Inspector at the disposal of the Deputy Inspector for the preparation of the annual returns, and difficulties are said to have occurred in other districts. The Lieutenant-Governor trusts that no more will be heard of this, and that the District Boards will be careful to act up to the arrangement made when the services of the Government Sub-Inspectors were transferred to them. The Darbhanga, Cuttack and Puri Boards were late in submitting their reports. In Khulna there was delay in passing bills and in disposing of correspondence. The Burdwan Board is reported to keep no separate record of educational expenditure, which caused great difficulty in adjusting the accounts. The Director of Public Instruction will be asked to report more fully on this subject with a view to the amendment of the rules if necessary. Rule 91 of the education rules under the Local Self-Government requires the Boards to submit to the Inspector a quarterly statement of all educational expenditure, and it is obviously essential that they should keep whatever books and registers may be necessary to enable this statement to be punctually and accurately prepared. In Rajshahi objection was taken by Dr. Martin to the appointment of a Sub-Inspector on Rs. 40 on the ground that, before the passing of the Local Self-Government Act, the Department employed no Sub-Inspector on less than Rs. 50, and that this rule should be enforced even now, as the work of Sub-Inspectors requires experience and their pay should be sufficient to induce them to remain in their posts. Sir Alfred Croft observes that there is much force in these remarks and adds:—"It should be stated that two of the Sub-Inspectors under the Rajshahi Board used to get Rs. 100 and Rs. 75, respectively, and that their places are now being filled by two men on Rs. 50 and Rs. 40, so that the Board could have still effected a saving without reducing the initial pay to less than Rs. 50." The Lieutenant-Governor has directed the Board to carry out this suggestion. The Local Government cannot, under financial rules, create a new grade of appointment on Rs. 40 or any such figure without the sanction of the Government of India, and the same principle applies to the District Boards.

42. The details of the expenditure incurred by District Boards on primary education will be found in Appendix C. Taking the province as a whole, it will be seen that, out of the total of Rs 7,99,170 spent by District Boards on primary education in 1894-95, Rs. 5,12,294, or 64·10 of the whole, were paid direct to the schools; Rs. 1,19,517, or 14·95, were expended on the salaries of Sub-Inspectors, and Rs. 82,832, or 10·36 per cent., on the remuneration of the subordinate inspecting agency, while Rs. 33,716, or 4·21 per cent., were devoted to examinations, prizes, and rewards.

43. The Lieutenant-Governor regrets to have again to complain of discrepancies between the statistics contained in Statement B and those contained in the General Report on Public Instruction. The form given in Appendix B was devised for the special purpose of bringing the two sets of figures into accord. Although the Deputy Inspectors of Schools supply both sets of statistics, and elaborate instructions were issued by the Director with the object of rendering it impossible that any discrepancies should occur, these have failed to produce the desired effect, and the subject will have to be reconsidered in communication with the Director.

44. Special schools.—The Burdwan District Board continue to maintain a technical school at Burdwan, assisted by a contribution of Rs. 240 from the local municipality. During the year under review a proposal was set on foot to re-open the industrial school formerly existing in Bankura. The District Board have guaranteed a subscription of Rs. 600 per annum, and the municipality has been asked to contribute Rs. 400. The Rangpur technical school is said to be making fair progress, and the average number on the rolls rose from 73 to 90. The Board propose to have it affiliated to the Sibpur Engineering College. The District Board of Pabna maintain a technical school with a workshop attached to it, where practical instruction is given in carpentry and blacksmiths' work. At the Mymensingh school the numbers declined from 21 to 16 and the Chairman explains that the absence of any definite prospects for the boys after leaving the school has hindered pupils from joining. An application has accordingly been made to the Director of Public Instruction, through the Principal of the Sibpur Engineering College, for the affiliation of the school to the artisan class of that College. The technical school at Barisal had 41 pupils on the roll. Sir Charles Elliott is glad to learn that the Committee have resolved to modify the rules with reference to his remark, when he visited the school, that it seemed to be losing its technical character and becoming a survey school. All the District Boards in the Patna Division, as well as those of Malda and Monghyr in the Bhagalpur Division, have offered scholarships tenable at the Bihar Industrial School. Five special schools were opened for the Kharwars on the Rhotas plateau, in the district of Shahabad. The District Board of the 24-Parganas maintain a model school for teaching carpentry at Sonarpur. The technical school at Purnea was, during the year under review, placed under the supervision of the District Engineer. The Elliott Artizan school at Comilla, which was formerly managed by the District Board, was transferred with its grants to the control of a separate Committee. The technical school in Noakhali was abolished from the 1st April 1894. The Balasore District Board contributed Rs. 120 to the Industrial School at Alipore. The District Boards of Howrah, Noakhali, Tippera, Backergunge and Puri granted scholarships for the education of students at the Sibpur College. The Midnapore Board offered a scholarship to the most proficient pupil of the Moisadal Raja's technical school who should join the Sibpur College after passing the Entrance Examination, but no one took advantage of the offer. The Noakhali Board has founded a scholarship tenable for two years at the Calcutta Arts School. The Cuttack District Board paid for three boys who are learning at the Jobra Workshops. On the whole, considerable progress seems to have been made towards imparting technical education to the masses. In districts where such schools have not yet been started, a beginning might be made on a small scale, keeping, however, always in view the principle that such institutions are intended for the boys of the artizan castes, and not for pupils from the ordinary educated classes, who are not likely to follow these trades when they grow up.

43. Female Medical Education.—Scholarships were granted to female medical students by the District Boards of the 24-Parganas, Birbhum, Mymensingh, Faridpur, Backergunge, Patna, Shahabad, Saran, Champaran, and Cuttack. In Jessore, Burdwan, Chittagong, and Puri scholarships were offered, but no candidates came forward. The Gaya District Board spent Rs. 491 on the training of dais. The Lieutenant-Governor accepts these arrangements as evidence that the Boards realise their obligations in the matter of female medical education.

44. Medical.—The total outlay under this head amounted to Rs. 1,51,912, being Rs. 22,901 more than in the previous year. The excess occurred chiefly under the head of hospitals and dispensaries, and was distributed over all districts, except Bankura, Midnapore, Murshidabad, Khulna, Dinajpur, Bogra, Pabna, Backergunge, Tippera, Patna, Shahabad, Malda, and the districts of the Orissa Division. In none of these, however, except Murshidabad, Pabna, Tippera, Patna, and Cuttack, was the reduction of expenditure material. The decrease in Murshidabad was due to the fact that the Board paid in 1893-94 arrears of salary due to the Assistant Surgeon attached to the Jangipur Dispensary, while in the year under report no such payment was made. In Pabna the falling off was due to the Shahzadpur Dispensary having remained closed throughout the year, as it was destroyed by fire in April 1894. The decline in expenditure in Tippera occurred under the head of repairs, as a large sum had to be spent on this account after the cyclone of October 1893. The decrease in Patna has not been explained, and that in Cuttack is said to be due partly to the abolition of the Jagatsingpur Dispensary and partly to delay in the supply of English medicines. All divisions, except the Presidency, Chittagong, and Orissa, show increased expenditure on hospitals and dispensaries. The proportionate increase is largest in the Burdwan Division, where the Hooghly District Board opened two new dispensaries, contributed Rs. 1,000 to the Branch Dufferin Hospital at Chinsura, and also helped to maintain the Mondlai Dispensary built from the bequest of the late Dr. Bholanath Basu. Two dispensaries were opened in the Howrah district, at Amragori and Syampur, and a donation of Rs. 200 was made to the Howrah General Hospital. The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to notice that Babu Iswar Chandra Hazra of Amragori has contributed Rs. 12,000 for the maintenance of the dispensary at that place. In the Rajshahi Division five new dispensaries were opened by the District Board of Rajshahi, and two by the District Board of Bogra, which also constructed a new building for the Dispensary at Buriganj. In the Dacca Division new dispensaries were opened by the Boards of Mymensingh, Backerganj and Faridpur, but the Dacca Board spent only Rs. 477, or 39 per cent. of their income, on all medical purposes, which is by far the smallest sum expended by any Board in the province. No sufficient explanation is given of this neglect of an obvious duty, and the Lieutenant-Governor trusts that the Board will take steps to increase their contributions under this head. The Chittagong Board opened a new dispensary at Satkania, and contemplates establishing three more. A new dispensary was opened during the year by the Noakhali Board, and two others are under construction. Two new dispensaries were opened in the Monghyr district, and the Board took over the sole management of the indoor dispensary at Begusarai. During the year under report the District Board of Puri was relieved of its contribution to the Satpara Dispensary, which exists chefly for the benefit of the Salt Department, and the contribution paid by it was refunded by Government. The Board has since taken over the dispensary at, Pipli. Altogether there were during the year 67 dispensaries maintained chiefly from District Funds at a cost of Rs. 55,194, without counting those institutions which are chiefly maintained from other sources, but which receive help from the District Funds.

45. The District Boards of Rangpur, Pabna, Gaya, Mymensingh, Noakhali and Chittagong retained the services of midwives in their districts, and the District Boards of Burdwan, Rajshahi, Jalpaiguri, Shahabad, and Faridpur contributed towards the pay of the midwives entertained by the local municipalities. In Tippera the District Board contributed Rs. 50 a month to the Faizunnissa Zenana Hospital for a lady-doctor; in Mymensingh, a lady-doctor, trained at the cost of the Board in the Campbell Medical School, was placed in charge of the Female Hospital at the head-quarters station; a lady-doctor on Rs. 40 and a house allowance of Rs. 15 was placed by the Shahabad District Board under the orders of the Civil Surgeon; Rajshahi gave a monthly allowance to a lady-doctor practising at Boalia, and Burdwan contributed half the pay of the lady-doctor attached to the Municipal Dispensary. The Bankura District Board paid Rs. 275 to the Bankura branch of the Countess of Dufferin's Fund for the maintenance of the zenana hospital at the head-quarters of the district, and the Hooghly Board also contributed Rs. 1,000 for the maintenance of the Branch Dufferin Hospital at Chinsura.

46. Sanitation.—The total expenditure on sanitation rose from Rs. 84,166 in 1893-94 to Rs. 86,585 in the year under report. The figures in the margin show how these amounts were apportioned among the various sub-heads of expenditure in both years.

	1893-94.	1894-95.
	Rs.	Rs.
Improvement of water-supply	43,177	63,768
Ditto village sites ...	870	2,598
Conservancy of towns and villages ...	751	457
Sanitation at fairs	7,192	7,560
Other sanitary expenditure	32,175	12,202

47. From these statistics it appears that a substantial advance has been made during the year under report towards the improvement of water-supply. The largest expenditure under this head has been incurred in the Presidency and the Patna Divisions, where the amounts allotted were more than double those of the previous year. Rajshahi is the only Division where there has been a decrease under this head. It is, however, reported that the Rajshahi Board provided Rs. 6,000 in the budget for sinking wells, and estimates for three wells were sanctioned, but the expenditure was small, as the works could not be completed during the year under report.

48. The figures of the Chittagong Division are misleading. In Statement IV only Rs. 27 has been shown as the amount spent by the Chittagong Board in the improvement of water-supply, although, as a matter of fact, Rs. 5,000 was actually spent during the year in forming reservoirs for drinking-water. This amount was not included in the accounts, as, under the advance system followed in the district, the sums expended had not then been adjusted. In point of fact excellent work has been done in the Chittagong Division in the way of improving the water-supply. In Chittagong itself the District Board have drawn up a comprehensive scheme for the construction of reservoirs and wells, and this is being worked up to as funds are available. In Noakhali bodies known as village Sanitary Boards have been formed in the interior with the sole object of keeping particular tanks clean for drinking purposes. In many cases this is done free of cost, and the recorded outlay on water-supply is therefore no index of the amount of improvement effected. The example of Noakhali is one which may well be followed in other districts. The formation of voluntary Committees is probably the best means by which to bring home to the people the advantages of pure water and clean surroundings, and to prepare the way for a further extension of Union Committees. The main defect in the existing methods of providing for rural water-supply seems to be the great variations in the expenditure of different districts and of the same district in different years. Thus, during the past year, Bankura, Howrah, Jalpaiguri, Malda, and Puri spent absolutely nothing on this object, while the expenditure in Rajshahi, Dinajpur, Bogra, Tippera, Shahabad, and Balasore was less than Rs. 500. The Shahabad District Board, besides spending Rs. 425 on improvement of water-supply, contributed Rs. 4,000 towards the maintenance of the Arrah water-works. Under the special orders of Mr. Forbes, the Commissioner, Rs. 17,160 was spent by the Boards of the Patna Division in constructing 24 roadside wells, in repairing 362 similar wells, and in providing 50 wells with buckets, chains, and lifts for drawing water. Absolute uniformity in a matter of this kind is of course out of the question, and the Lieutenant-Governor equally recognises the impossibility of expecting District Boards to devote a large proportion of their incomes to this purpose. In order, however, to secure that something, however little, should be done every year, it seems to His Honour that every District Board might properly set apart at least the sum of Rs. 5,000 a year for the improvement of water-supply to be spent either in the digging or improvement of wells, or in the excavation or restoration of tanks to be reserved for drinking purposes only. The amount suggested is rather more than double the amount actually spent during the past year; but it is very small when compared with the urgency of the want and the extent of the area to be served. The Boards will doubtless find means of making the money go as far as possible by enlisting the aid of voluntary Committees, as is done in Noakhali, or by distributing their allotments in the form of small grants in aid of village funds, as is suggested by the Commissioner of the Presidency Division.

51. The expenditure incurred on other sanitary objects amounted to Rs. 12,201, against Rs. 32,175 in the previous year, when the Mymensingh District Board contributed Rs. 20,000 to the Rajeswari water-works at Nasirabad. The amount spent in the past year includes Rs. 1,992 laid out on drainage works in Rangpur, Rs. 938 for the clearance of the Santi nadi in the 24-Parganas, Rs. 1,209 for drainage in Dinajpur, and Rs. 2,284 paid as subsidy to the steamer services between Malda and Rajmahal and Rampur Boalia. The last item, though legitimate enough in itself, should not have been shown under the head of sanitation.

52. Stationery and Printing.—There was an increase of expenditure under this head, amounting to Rs. 5,186, which was largest in the districts of Shahabad, Purnea, and Cuttack. In the case of the first two, the increase was due to the introduction of the new pound forms, and in that of the latter to the receipt during the year of forms which were indented for in the previous year, which largely swelled the expenditure. The fluctuations in the other districts do not call for any special notice.

53. Miscellaneous.—The expenditure under this head fell from Rs. 63,644 to Rs. 53,319 in the year under report. The outlay on serais and dák bungalows decreased by Rs. 393, while Provident Fund contributions increased by Rs. 3,362. The decrease in the 24-Parganas is due to a change in the classification of charges for planting trees on the sides of district roads. In Bankura the decrease is marked, because expenditure incurred in 1893-94 on account of fees on processes issued from the revaluation office did not recur. In Burdwan the cost of acquiring a site for and constructing a dák bungalow at Asansol, led to extraordinary expenditure in 1893-94, which was not repeated in 1894-95. Similarly in Chittagong, the apparent saving of Rs. 7,063 is due to the payment of Rs. 9,000 the year before to a contractor under a decree, while no such charge was incurred during the year under report. The decrease in Puri is said to be partly due to the fact of the Board's contributions to the Provident Fund for some of their employés having been in abeyance.

52. Famine Relief.—The expenditure on famine relief amounted to Rs. 26,621, of which Rs. 16,113 was spent under Public Works by the Darbhanga District Board. No particulars of this are given in the report, and the Commissioner says that no relief works were found necessary during the year; it is probably a charge on account of works executed in 1892 or 1893 and not brought to account at the right time. In Cuttack Rs. 5,179 was laid out on relief in the north-eastern part of the district on account of the high floods in July 1894. At first a food-kitchen was opened, but was soon closed, and gratuitous relief given in money and grain doles, work being also provided on certain roads. The District Board of Tippera distributed Rs. 3,553 to distressed persons during the late scarcity, and the Faridpur Board advanced Rs. 1,563 to certain philanthropic persons in the Madaripore subdivision for the relief of special cases of distress. It was mostly used for the employment of distressed women on dhán husking. Relief works were also undertaken in Monghyr on account of the flood of the river Ganges, which caused heavy loss, and scarcity was also felt in some parts of the Gogri and Sadar thanas of that district. Relief works were started on roads and charged to civil heads of the budget; the Collector gave out taccavi advances to the extent of Rs. 17,000; and Rs. 213 was spent on gratuitous relief

53. Civil Works.—The following statement compares the expenditure under the head of civil works during the past two years :—

Years.	Ferry establishment, contingencies and refunds	Original works.	Repairs.	Establishment and contingencies.	Tools and plant.	Water-supply and water-works.	Drainage works.	Total.
1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
	Rs.	Rs	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
1893-94	48,583	13,19,182	21,77,116	5,98,491	24,630	1,55,699	8,674	43,22,384
1894-95	38,008	12,33,763	22,09,285	6,27,780	25,144	40,725	7,303	41,72,578
Difference	—9,955	—85,419	+32,140	+29,289	+484	—1,14,974	—1,371	—1,49,806

The total expenditure shows a decrease of Rs. 1,49,806, to which all the heads in the table contribute, excepting repairs, establishment and contingencies, and tools and plant. The largest decrease is noticeable under "water-supply and water-works," and is due to there having been no expenditure under this head during the year under report comparable to that of Shahabad, of which in 1893-94 contributed Rs. 1,00,000 for the Municipal Water-works at Arrah. The expenditure on original works and repairs (columns 3 and 4) is divided thus between Communications and Buildings :—

	Communications.		Buildings.
	Original works.	Repairs.	Original works.	Repairs.
	Rs	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
1893-94 ...	10,29,188	20,22,672	2,79,994	1,54,433
1894-95 ...	10,08,267	20,42,791	2,15,496	1,66,464

Under both heads the expenditure on original works is less and that on repairs more than in the preceding year. Under original works, the gross expenditure on which has fallen off by Rs. 85,419, the largest expenditure was incurred in the districts named in the margin. In the 24-Parganas the metalling of the road between Barasat and Barrackpore was nearly completed, the amount of expenditure during the year being Rs. 9,830. In Murshidabad and Khulna the expenditure was more than double that of the previous year, and comprised in the former district the raising of certain main roads and the construction and repair of bridges, and in the latter the making of light iron bridges over several khals. The Victoria bridge on the road from Burdwan to Katwa was completed and opened for traffic. The expenditure in Midnapore shows an increase of Rs. 17,829, which is reported to have been spent for the most part in replacing the wooden superstructures of some of the important bridges by iron girders, and in purchasing a house for the District Board's office. In Rajshahi office buildings for three Local Boards were constructed, two of which were completed during the year. The thatched boarding-houses attached to the Technical School having been burnt, substantial corrugated-iron sheds were constructed at a cost of Rs. 2,837. In Pabna the construction of two wings to the zilla school building was completed during the year. In Dacca the new female cottage ward at the Mitford Hospital was constructed, and a considerable sum was spent in constructing and bridging the district roads. In the Mymensingh district important works were carried out on behalf of Government in the shape of new cutcherry buildings at Jamalpur and Kishoreganj, and several roads and bridges were constructed. In Backergunge the quadruple munsifi at Patuakhali was completed, and the subdivisional residence at Patuakhali has been in progress. Several bridges were also constructed during the year. In Saran the expenditure on original works, as compared with last year, has nearly trebled. Several roads have been raised, metalled and bridged, and a bridge at Mushruk has been finished since the close of the year, supplying a link in the traffic between the grain-producing districts of Nepal and Chapra The important bridge across the Punpun river in Patna was completed and opened to traffic during the year, and two bridges were constructed on the Bakhtiarpur-Bihar road. In Gaya the Ghumghar bridge is in hand. Owing to the unwillingness of the District Board of Monghyr to contribute more than Rs. 5,000, the important project for a bridge at Jamuia over the stream dividing the districts of Monghyr and Gaya had to be abandoned. The Lieutenant-Governor trusts that the Monghyr Board will reconsider the matter, for, if this river is spanned, there will be direct communication between Gaya, Nawadah, Secundra, and Jamui on the East Indian Railway. The Champaran Board constructed some bridges on the Motihari-Dhaka road, which was partly carried away in last year's flood. In Muzaffarpur, where the expenditure was highest under this head, the District Board have taken over the Municipal road from the station of Muzaffarpur to the Korlahiaghat bridge, which was washed away in the heavy floods of 1892-93. This road has been raised and metalled throughout, and it is proposed to construct a pontoon bridge over the Little Gandak, for which the Board have taken a loan of Rs. 80,000 from Government. Several other important bridges have also been constructed. The district of Darbhanga is gradually recovering from the former drain upon its resources; but as the District Board has to repay annually a large instalment of the loan granted to it, it will be unable to carry out any original work of importance for some time to come. The Board has, nevertheless, constructed several bridges, among which the one over the Dhoi nala has been altered and renewed at a cost of Rs. 22,750.

54. An examination of Appendix D shows the following results:—The mean provincial percentage of cost of civil works on total expenditure (column 9) is 62·8, the maximum (67·5) occurring in the Bhagalpur Division, and the minimum (50·5) in Orissa. Among districts Muzaffarpur shows the highest percentage (76·6), while Shahabad and Monghyr come next with 71·6 and 71·4 respectively. Turning next to the percentage of cost of establishment on total expenditure (column 10), the rate for the whole province is 9·2, against 8·8 of the last year, but in 13 districts the proportion exceeds 10 per cent. and in Bhagalpur, stands as high as 14·8. Again, while from column 11 it appears that the provincial average is 43·5, in Hooghly, Jessore, Rajshahi, Patna, Champaran, and Muzaffarpur the District Engineer receives as salary more than half the total sum shown as cost of establishment for the year. In Champaran his salary comes to 73·1 per cent. of the whole, and in Cuttack and Balasore the ratio is nearly 60 per cent. In column 12 of the statement, the provincial mean ratio of cost of establishment to expenditure on original works and repairs is shown to be 17·9, but it is exceeded in 21 districts, the highest place being taken by the Puri District Board (36·77 per cent.). Lastly column 13 shows the provincial mean ratio of the District Engineer's salary to expenditure on original works and repairs to be 7·8, but 10 per cent. is exceeded in 10 districts, the first place being taken by Puri.

55. Village roads.—The statement in the margin shows the outlay on village roads in each Division during the past two years. In the Burdwan Division the Local Board of Suri undertook the repair of 36 roads, but only completed one, while the Rampur Local Board did work costing Rs 1,545, but only Rs. 2 was actually brought into the accounts, because the District Engineer failed to have the works checked and the bills sent in at the proper time. In Howrah, Monghyr, Malda, and Chittagong the repairs were largely undertaken by planters and other resident gentlemen, and in Rajshahi the Chairman of the District Board reports that in his tours of inspection he has noticed excellent work done on village roads by both European and native gentlemen in their private capacity. Out of 1,911 miles of village roads in the Dacca Division, 1,585 miles are in Mymensingh, while Faridpur has only 33. Large balances remained unadjusted in Midnapore, and the matter is now under inquiry. The increase of Rs. 6,051 in Cuttack is due to the construction of 19 new village roads by the Local Board, five of which were taken up as relief works. The largest expenditure on village roads in any one district was Rs. 23,439 in Mymensingh, and the lowest (Rs. 303) in Jalpaiguri. As was remarked last year, the mileage cost of village roads varies greatly. In Champaran it cost Rs. 7-8 to maintain a mile of village road, while in the Ghatal subdivision of Midnapore the corresponding figure was Rs. 118. District Boards should, under the guidance of the Commissioner, frame a rule that roads which cost more than a certain sum to keep up should be classed as district roads.

56. Water communications.—The outlay under this head during 1894-95 was trifling, but money was usefully spent by some District Boards in deepening, clearing, and improving channels. The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to notice that the members of the Dacca District Board have taken up the question of the silting up of the Buriganga river, on which the town of Dacca stands, and the maintenance of which is important for sanitation no less than for navigation. Nawab Ashanullah Khan Bahadur has, with his usual liberality, volunteered to contribute towards this work. In Noakhali the improvement of the Nadona khal, an important water-artery, has been pronounced practicable by the Chief Engineer, and will, it is reported, be begun as soon as the country dries.

57. Steam communications.—The District Board of Dacca still maintains a steam ferry between Narainganj and Munshiganj. The receipts, it is said, cover the annual cost of maintenance, and the service is much appreciated by the people. In Backergunge the subsidy to the steam service between Barisal and Khulna was reduced from Rs. 6,000 to Rs. 5,400. During the year no payment was made to the I. G. S. N. Company for their steamer service between Barisal and Chandpur, with a branch to Madaripur, as they supplied no statement of the arrivals and departures of their steamers. The Malda District Board contributed to the cost of the steam service between English Bazar and Rampur Boalia, the total amount paid being Rs. 1,200. A further subsidy of Rs. 1,084 was given by the Board during the year to the farmer of the Rajmahal ferry, for running a steamer between Rajmahal and English Bazar. The two steamer services in Tippera, one from Manikgnagar to Gokarna, and the other from Chandpur to Hajiganj, were discontinued during the year, as they proved unprofitable to the Company. That between Noakhali and Barisal was maintained at a monthly cost of Rs. 200 a month, but the service between Sandwip and the mainland could not be improved, as the river is dangerous in the south-west monsoon. The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to notice that this question continues to engage the attention of the Noakhali Board. Steamer communication was maintained between Pabna and Kushtia for a part of the year on payment of a monthly subsidy of Rs. 300. The total outlay incurred by the District Board of Pabna was Rs. 1,950 during the year.

58. Miscellaneous Public Improvements.—During the year under report the river Kusi in Purnea, which has for sometime past been threatening the district with floods through several of its new off-shoots, was surveyed at an estimated cost of Rs. 7,800, of which Government contributed Rs. 2,800, in addition to the pay of the Engineer. The Belwa embankment, which protects Purnea from the overflow of the river Panar, was maintained at a cost of Rs. 3,669, which was levied from the owners of the lands benefitted by the work. In Faridpur the District Board had to pay Rs. 1,055 in fulfilment of the guarantee given to the Telegraph Department on account of the Madaripur telegraph service, and in Backergunge the jetties at Bhola and Patuakhali were repaired at a cost of Rs. 205. Considerable attention is reported to have been paid in almost all districts to arboriculture, and money was spent in planting and maintaining trees along the sides of roads. In Monghyr no less than 22,000 trees on road-sides are now maintained, and the sale of the fruit annually yields about Rs. 250. In Burdwan the expenditure on arboriculture amounted to Rs. 2,063, and in Pabna to Rs. 2,011.

59. Railway Feeder Roads.—Lists of projected feeder roads to the Eastern Bengal State Railway and the Bengal Central Railway have been prepared by the Public Works Department, and an officer of that Department will be deputed to survey these and prepare estimates of their cost. The work of construciton will be entrusted to the District Boards, and grants will be made to them from Provincial Revenues for this purpose, which it is hoped they will be able to supplement from their own funds. Something has already been done, though in a desultory and unsystematic fashion, towards carrying out this policy in certain districts, and as soon as the scheme described above has been completed, further progress may be looked for. In Nadia, for example, the District Board allotted Rs. 2,371 for the construction and improvement of five unmetalled feeder roads, on four of which some expenditure was incurred during the year. In Burdwan proceedings for the acquisition of land for a feeder road from the village of Devipur to the Railway station, have been stopped in consequence of the death of its chief promoter, Babu Kalidas Sinha. An effort is being made to obtain the necessary funds from other local magnates. In Birbhum eight miles of the road connecting the Sainthia Railway station with Suri were metalled during the year. In Dacca several roads were improved, and iron pipe drains and wooden bridges for the discharge of rain and flood water provided which will make these roads fit for traffic throughout the year. The important railway feeder road from Sripur station to Mathajuri, taken in hand during the previous year, was completed. In Mymensingh the feeder road from Kalibazar to Boilor was completed, and that from the same station to Iswarganj was commenced. The bridging of the Mymensingh-Porabari road was also undertaken during the year. A detailed survey was made for a raised and bridged road costing Rs. 80,682 from Mathajuri to Tangail, but the Board found the project beyond their present means. The Bhagalpur Board has sanctioned two fair-weather roads, to the Railway station at Sabour on the East Indian Railway and to Balua road station on the Tirhoot State Railway. In Purnea a feeder road from the Sonaili Railway Station to Pranpur is under construction. The total outlay on this road up to 31st March 1895 was Rs. 20,311, of which Rs. 11,463 was paid during the year. Another feeder road was constructed in this district by the Kishanganj Local Board at a cost of Rs. 203. In Tippera estimates for four new roads were sanctioned, and the works will be taken up on receipt of Government sanction to the projects.

60. Railways and Tramways.—In May last the District Board of Burdwan proposed to take up a scheme for a steam tramway or narrow gauge railway between Burdwan and Katwa and were prepared to offer certain guarantees. It is understood, however, that the Government of India intend that this line shall be constructed as part of the East Indian Railway. During 1893 94 the District Board of Bhagalpur proposed to grant a concession to use the road from Bhagalpur to the Sonthal Parganas for the Bhagalpur-Ahmadpur Railway promoted by Sir William Hudson. The project has since passed into the hands of the East Indian Railway and the alignment has been surveyd. The District Board of Birbhum has been asked to state what assistance they can give towards the lower section of the line which will connect Suri with the East India Railway, superseding the scheme of a tramway from Suri to Sainthia. The proposal to construct a steam tramway on the district road from Barasat to Basirhat with a branch line from Bremangar to Baduria, aggregating 32 miles in length, under a guarantee from the District Board of the 24-Parganas was approved by the Board, but the negotiations with the contractors fell through, and fresh tenders have since been invited. A similar tramway from Ranaghat to Krishnaghar vid Santipur, in the district of Nadia, will, it is reported, be commenced before the close of the current year, the preliminaries having been settled by the Board with the promoters of the scheme, Messrs. Martin and Company. The projected tramways from Howrah to Sheakhala and Amta have been sanctioned and are under construction: they receive guarantees from the District Board.

61. Drainage.—In the 24-Parganas Rs 938 were spent in the improvement of the Sunti Nadi in the Barasat subdivision by removing obstructions from the channel to a uniform width of 20 feet for a distance of 10 miles. This is stated to have rendered the locality more healthy, and it shows how much can be done at a moderate cost to set stagnant water flowing and to remove the conditions which generate malarial fever throughout a large area. In Murshidabad Rs. 627 were spent in maintaining two drainage cuts. In Serampur the scheme for the canalization of the dead river Kausiki, about 14 miles long, is still pending for want of information on certain points, although Government has expressed its willingness to carry out the work and include it in the Eden Canal system, on condition of the District Board contributing half the cost. In Rajshahi a project was carried out for re-excavating the Putia drainage channel. In the Chittagong Division Rs. 1,894 was spent on drainage, and the Commissioner observes that in constructing the line through the Kolidaha swamp in Noakhali, the Railway have completely drained and reclaimed the swamp at a cost Rs. 2,000.

62. General remarks.—The Lieutenant-Governor will conclude this Resolution by reproducing the comments of Commissioners on the working of the District and Local Boards in their divisions during the year.

The Officiating Commissioner of the Burdwan Division writes:—

The following remarks have been left by Mr. Dutt, as Commissioner of the Division, for the year:—

"The District Boards have done their work fairly well throughout the Division, and no instance of friction or specially bad work came to my notice within the year. Local Self-Government has been a success in these provinces, and it is a distinct gain in the cause of good government to secure the co-operation of representative non-official gentlemen in our administrative work."

I am not disposed to go quite so far as my predecessor in these views, for I question whether any such conspicuous advantage to the administration has been gained by the introduction of Local Self-Government as he believes. Doubtless much good work has been done by District Boards, but it would probably have been done equally well under the old régime. The real advantage of the system lies, not in better administration but in the practical education in the management of local affairs which it affords to those who share in the work, and in the opportunities of obtaining advice which it gives to the District Officer. But I desire to add a word or two in acknowledgment of the good work done by the Sub-Committees of a District Board—work which is often tedious and disagreeable, but which has to be done by someone. The labours of the Finance Sub-Committee in auditing the accounts of Local Boards and in examining the details of the budget often make large demands on the time of men, most of whom have little leisure. So, again, much time is given in some cases by the Education Committee to the consideration of questions arising from the numerous schools in the district. Mr. Windsor has correctly pointed out that the duties of the Board are consultative and not executive: those functions are exercised by the working triumvirate of Chairman, Vice-Chairman and District Engineer, with whom I might also associate the Deputy Inspector of Schools and the Civil Surgeon.

The work of the Local Boards was not so successful, chiefly because they have not enough work to interest them. As a reference to the discussions connected with the introduction of Local Self-Government will show, Local Boards are not really an integral part of the machinery of the scheme, and it has from the first been found difficult to assign to them their proper place. If they are to have enough work to interest and employ them, the District Board must divest itself of some important functions, which it had usually much better retain. If sufficient powers are not granted them, they obviously lag superfluous on the stage, and their consciousness of the fact does not tend to rouse their interest in such duties as do fall to their lot. My predecessor shares these views, but he considers that Local Boards can be entrusted with useful and interesting work as soon as the work of village sanitation is begun.

Mr. Westmacott, Commissioner of the Presidency Division, observes :—

As remarked in my General Administration Report for the past year, it may be said generally that the District Boards are of some use as consultative bodies, but the work is really done by the Magistrate of the district as Chairman, and the quality of the executive work depends upon the character of the District Engineer and his loyalty to the Magistrate and Chairman. Had it not been for these officers, everything would have collapsed. The office work is supposed to be supervised by the Vice-Chairmen, some of whom look after it, and some do not. The executive work is done very much more expensively than it used to be when the ferry fund was administered by the Magistrate, and not more efficiently. The contractors and subordinate officials must be making large fortunes. I cannot but think that native members of the Board, who know what work ought to cost, could effect large reductions of expenditure if they tried. I have received a most unfavourable impression of the work of the Local Boards in the Division generally. Their management of pounds and of petty roads has been feeble and incompetent in the extreme, and I consider myself justified in pronouncing that these bodies are of no use whatever, and had much better be abolished. It is true that they have not been asked to do much, but what little has been entrusted to them, has been so very badly done, that it would be absurd to extend their functions.

The following are the comments of Mr. Nolan, Commissioner of the Rajshahi Division :—

In my opinion the Boards worked well during the year. The chief drawback was due to the many changes made in the office of Chairman, by the transfer of District Officers. The main business was done by these officers, and the degree of their efficiency always indicates that of the Boards.

The Commissioner of the Dacca Division (Mr. Luttman-Johnson) remarks :—

There can be no doubt that the District Boards as District Councils are a success in this Division. I do not know how they would manage without the official Chairmen. Under the guidance of the official Chairmen, and subject to the limitations prescribed by law and rule, they have generally proved useful consultative bodies. The neglect of towpaths and dispensaries by the Dacca Board is an exception to the rule. I regard the devolution of primary education to the more local Subdivisional Boards as a distinct step in advance. And I would like to see the Subdivisional Councils gradually take the place of the District Councils, as they do in the adjoining district of Sylhet, where a District Council never formed part of the scheme.

The Commissioner of the Patna Division (Mr. Forbes) records his opinion as follows :—

"On the general subject of the working of Local Self-Government institutions, I beg to reproduce below in extenso the remarks I made in my last General Administration Report :—

"'It is not easy to give one's opinion in a condensed form, and without writing an essay on the progress and success, or otherwise, of the system of Local Self-Government in this country. Putting the matter as shortly as I can, my own opinion is that the experiment has to a certain extent been a success, though not in the way hoped for by its originators. Experience of the working of the system brings into relief the fact that although the different local bodies are, as a rule, extremely useful as consultative bodies and in strengthening the hands of the executive, yet, with a few notable exceptions, they are not fit, and probably never will be fit, to be left to manage their affairs themselves.

"'Though I thus feel forced to admit that whatever hopes the founders of the scheme had of their alumni ever being able to work alone have not been realized, yet I think that the scheme has certainly succeeded in being of use, although not in the way anticipated. The District Boards have certainly been an undoubted success, in the rôle of advisers and upholders of the executive; and the system itself is a guarantee that everything is done coram publico. It ensures good counsels (or at least discussion) and publicity. That the members do not individually take part in the active work, or only to a very small degree, does not matter. The object is to get the work done, and it is done, and the Board see that it is done; and their usefulness is thus complete.

The Commissioner of Chittagong (Mr. Oldham) makes the following observations :—

"Of the Local Boards, of which there are only the three in Tippera, it is enough to say that they have done all that was required of them, and as well as could be expected. They have neither status nor scope enough to be councils analogous to the District Board, while their jurisdictions are far too large for them to be local self-governing bodies like the village unions, now for the first time created, the working of which will be watched with great interest.

"The three District Boards have again done very well, and as this has been the opinion consistently recorded about them by each of the many different Chairmen who have presided over them for the last five years and more, it may be taken that they are established working bodies, with considerable continuity, full of interest in what they have to do, capable of much independence, able to stand criticism, and important powers in the tract of country which they administer. There are several local reasons for these Boards having been so uniformly successful. They have on the whole been very well led. Their Vice-Chairmen have been gentlemen of exceptional capacity, public spirit, and energy. Except for the very modified system affecting a portion of the Tippera District Board, they are not elective, and are free from the jealousies attending that system, while they embrace, the District Officers believe, the most capable members of the community who are found willing to serve. They are free from other jealousies because of the absence of aristocratic exclusiveness, the equal diffusion of wealth, and the comparative social equality which prevail. The prevalence of Islam accounts no doubt for this latter feature.

"The anomalous feature in the constitution of these Boards is the wide area entrusted to them, and the consequent want of knowledge among their members of the needs and circumstances of the people and tracts which they have to administer.

The Commissioner of the Bhagalpur Division (Mr. Toynbee) makes the following remarks:—

"It is well known, as the Chairman of the Purnea District Board observes, that the work of the Local Boards is done entirely by the Chairman and Vice-Chairman: all depends upon their selection. It is to be regretted that many of these honorary elected appointments are made simply on personal consideration, and not for the good of the public or efficient working of the Board. It is perhaps a mistake to appoint pleaders of large practice as executive heads of such Boards: they do very well as adviser and consulting experts, but for practical executive work they have not the time. It is hoped that these gentlemen, when they find that they cannot carry on the duties of such honorary appointments, would resign in favour of members who have the time, inclination, and ability to do the work.

During the last five years Sir Charles Elliott has watched with interest the working of District and Local Boards, and has formed a distinct opinion as to their respective merits as departments of the public service. In District Boards the Government possesses a valuable agency, for assisting the executive of the districts with information as to local wants and conditions, and advice in the manifold details of internal executive administration. The strength of these Boards resides in the fact that they represent more or less adequately the chief interests of the district, and that the questions which come before them are important enough to arouse their interest, while at the same time they are relieved by the executive of the duty of controlling and supervising details The chief defect of the District Boards consists in the large area of their jurisdiction and in the difficulty of appointing a body of men who will effectually represent all parts of the district and all interests in it. The division of functions between the Boards and their Chairmen is one well adapted to the work that has to be done. The representative body supplies the information and experience on which to base the decision as to what should be done; the officer who wields the executive power in the district gives effect to those decisions. With Local Boards it is different. It has hitherto been found impossible to extend their functions so as to give them work of sufficient importance to enlist their interest keenly. Nor, at any rate in most cases, have they at their head an officer of experience in business with a sufficient staff at his disposal. Thus their energies flag, and the work that is given them to do is too often indifferently looked after. The policy by which these defects can be cured seems to be one involving larger decentralisation, the devolution of some of the work now retained by the District Boards, the appointment of an official Chairman, and the abolition of the Sadar Local Board, which is an evident superfluity. It is possible also that the extension of Union Committees and the promotion of village sanitation may stimulate the energies of Local Boards and provide for them congenial work in supervising and guiding the action of the Committees; or again the latter, being more closely in touch with local interests, may in time absorb the functions of Local Boards and render these bodies superfluous. Either result, however, must be the work of time, and it would be premature to venture on any forecast of what will happen within the next few years.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

H. H. RISLEY,

Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

NOMINATION OF A REPRESENTATIVE TO A SEAT IN THE COUNCIL OF THE LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR FOR MAKING LAWS AND REGULATIONS ON THE RECOMMENDATION OF THE MUNICIPALITIES IN THE ORISSA AND CHOTA NAGPUR DIVISIONS.

No. 5826A.

APPOINTMENT.

RESOLUTION.

Dated Calcutta, the 3rd December 1895.

THE appointment of the Hon'ble Maharaja Jagadindranath Roy of Nator as a member of the Bengal Legislative Council will expire on the 23rd January 1896. The Maharaja was appointed on the recommendation of the municipalities in the Rajshahi Division, and in accordance with the decision arrived at in paragraph 5 of the Resolution of this Government, dated 25th March 1893, the municipalities of the Orissa and Chota Nagpur Divisions will be entitled to exercise the privilege of recommending a person for nomination to the Council to fill the Maharaja's vacant seat. The necessary notification will therefore now be published in the Calcutta Gazette specifying the groups of municipalities in the Orissa and Chota Nagpur Divisions from which a recommendation will be made to the Lieutenant-Governor for the nomination of one seat in Council.

2. The Lieutenant-Governor is pleased to prescribe that the same procedure shall be followed as was adopted in 1893 and in the summer of the present year, and that for the purpose of making its recommendation, each municipality concerned shall proceed to elect from amongst its own members an electoral representative, who shall be entrusted with full powers to vote for a member to represent the group in Council It has been determined that only those municipal corporations which enjoy a clear income from municipal resources proper of Rs. 5,000 and over shall exercise the right of electing an electoral representative. The voting power of each of these representatives will be calculated by the income of the municipalities concerned according to the following scale:—

	Votes
Municipalities with an income of Rs. 5,000 and less than Rs. 10,000 will be entitled to	1
Municipalities with an income of Rs. 10,000 and less than Rs. 20,000 to	2
Municipalities with an income of Rs. 20,000 and less than Rs. 50,000 to	3
Municipalities with an income of Rs. 50,000 and less than Rs. 1,00,000 to	4
Municipalities with an income of Rs 1,00,000 and less than Rs. 1,50,000 to	5
Municipalities with an income of Rs. 1,50,000 and less than Rs. 2,00,000 to	6
Municipalities with an income of Rs. 2,00,000 and less than Rs. 2,50,000 to	7
Municipalities with an income of Rs. 2,50,000 and over to ...	8

3. Each municipality will elect one electoral representative only, and this representative shall be entitled to record, in behalf of the candidate he supports, all the votes of the municipality which he represents.

4. According to the scale above laid down, the following municipalities will now proceed to elect a delegate:—

Municipalities in the Orissa Division.

District.	Name of Municipality.	Ordinary municipal income.	Number of votes to be exercised by each representative.

5. Under Rule IV of the Regulations which have been framed by the Governor-General in Council with the sanction of the Secretary of State under section 1 (4) of the Indian Councils Act, 1892, for Bengal, the Lieutenant-Governor desires that intimation may be at once communicated by the Commissioners of the Divisions concerned to the Chairmen of the Municipalities enumerated in the above list, requesting them to arrange without delay for the convention for a special meeting of each municipality concerned, at which one of their members may be elected to represent them for the purpose of recommending the nomination of a member in the Lieutenant-Governor's Council. The name of the delegate selected must be reported by the Chairman of the Municipality concerned for the information of the Commissioner of the Division.

6. The period of two months which is contemplated under Rule VII of the Regulations quoted as the period within which a recommendation shall be made to the Lieutenant-Governor, is hereby declared to run from the date on which the Commissioners concerned (whichever is latest) issue their invitations to the Chairman of any Municipality to elect a delegate.

7. As soon as the electoral representatives are elected by the municipalities, they will be called upon by the Commissioners of the Divisions concerned (who will act in concert for this purpose) to meet together on an early and convenient date with special reference to the limit of time imposed under Rule VII of the Regulations. The place of meeting will be in the Bengal Secretariat, Writers' Buildings, Calcutta, and delegates will be allowed their travelling expenses according to the scale laid down for the attendance at meetings of members of District Boards.

The names of all candidates put forward at such meeting shall be duly proposed by one of the electoral representatives present. The election shall be by ballot, and the person elected must obtain a majority of the votes of the representatives present. If on occasion of the first ballot an absolute majority is not obtained, the candidate who obtains the least number of votes shall be withdrawn from the election, and another ballot shall then be held for the remaining candidates, and so on until an absolute majority is obtained.

The electoral representatives present at this meeting shall elect among themselves a Chairman, who shall preside and be responsible for the fair and proper exercise of the ballot vote.

As soon as the election is made, the Chairman of the meeting shall without delay report to the Chief Secretary to Government the name of the person so elected with the number of votes obtained, and any other information which it may appear desirable to communicate, and on behalf of the meeting shall recommend to the Lieutenant-Governor to nominate for Council the person so elected.

8. Attention is drawn to the following Rule VI of the Regulations which have been framed by the Governor-General in Council and Secretary of State :—

VI.—It shall be a condition in the case of any person to be recommended by a Municipal Corporation or group of Municipal Corporations that he shall be a person ordinarily resident within the municipality or the district in which it is situated, or in some one of the municipalities constituting the group or of the districts in which they are situated. A similar condition shall also apply to persons to be recommended by District Boards.

Under this rule it is not necessary that persons recommended shall be members of any municipality or District Board concerned, but they must be ordinarily resident within the division from which the recommendation is made. Subject to this condition, the rules declare no limit of qualification, and it is left to the electoral representatives to recommend a person under Rule V(c) according to the majority of their votes.

9. It is expected of Divisional Commissioners and District Magistrates that they will afford any assistance which may be required of them and do their utmost to facilitate the smooth working of the election. At the same time it must be distinctly understood by all officers of Government of every department and grade that they are prohibited from interfering directly or indirectly with the free choice of a candidate by the elective bodies, or from attempting to influence or direct the action of these bodies in any way. No indication should be given by any official of the manner in which he himself personally intends to vote. All officers are warned that any violation of these orders will be severely dealt with.

Ordered that a copy of this Resolution be furnished to the Commissioners of the Orissa and Chota Nagpur Divisions for information and guidance, and for communication to the municipalities in their Divisions.

Ordered also that a copy be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

H. J. S. COTTON,

Chief Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

Hazaribagh.—Rainfall nil. Harvesting of paddy continues; average outturn 8 to 12 annas. Rain wanted for rabi crops. Poppy promises well. Fodder and water sufficient. Price of common rice 12 to 16 seers per rupee.

General Summary.—No rain fell during the week. Harvesting of rice is in progress, and the outturn, as previously reported, is expected to be below the average, except in parts of Northern and Eastern Bengal and in Orissa. The sowing of the rabi and poppy crops is nearly over; the latter is doing well, but for the former the moisture is reported insufficient in Bihar and North Bengal. Sugarcane is generally a good crop, and the prospects of indigo are fair. Cattle-disease still exists in the Sadar thana of Purnea; elsewhere the cattle are in good condition. The price of common rice continues steady.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from observations made at 6h., 10h., 16h. and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

Explanation.—Summary.—The normal means of air pressure and temperature are the arithmetical average or means of the reading during the same period for the The humidity of the atmosphere is expressed as percentage, saturated air being represented by 100. A clear sky is denoted by 0 and an overcast sky by 10. The mean at the numerical means or average of the rainfall in that district determined from the returns sent in by the subdivisional stations for the period in question station in the district sending in return divided by the number of stations.
